BAD FIRE

Boston College students, led by one of the professors, the Rev. Richard A. O'Brien, a veteran of overseas service with the 5th regiment of marines, turned fire fighters Friday afternoon when the Chestnut Hill residential section near the college was threatened by a blaze which destroyed a partially built bungalow at 68 College road.

Fr. O'Brien sprained his ankle and "Billie" Bond, 20, the varsity baseball captain, was burned about the face and hands, but they and their associate volunteers met the emergency so effectively that fire apparatus delayed by big snow piles found the danger greatly reduced when it arrived.

The flames were seen across the college campus during the students' recreation period. The bungalow was one being built by A. J. McNeil for F. W. O'Connor. Nearest was the home of Fred H. Silliman and clustered in the vicinity were other fashionable residences.

The bungalow was engulfed in flames within a few minutes after the fire was noticed. The students rallied to the emergency task with buckets, garden hose, and chemical extinguishers snatched from the walls of the college buildings. It was seen that an attempt to save the bungalow was almost useless and most of the effort was directed to protect the Silliman home and other nearby houses.

The flames leaped across to the side of the Silliman house, but the students, rushing forward with their buckets through intense heat, managed to put out this extension of the fire before it had done damage of more than $300.

The loss of the bungalow is estimated at about $6000. The clothing of several of the students was damaged by the chemical from the fire extinguishers and that of Bond was almost wholly destroyed.

The students of the under classes were called together for the final lectures of the day during the progress of the fire, but the seniors were excused in order to permit them to carry on the battle against the flames.

DEATH OF MRS. THOMPSON

Mrs. Maud M. Thompson, who died Sunday at her residence in Newtonville, had been connected until recently with Newton Free Library, as branch librarian, having entered the service of the library after the death of her husband, Edwin H. Thompson, five years ago. Mrs. Thompson was the daughter of the late Robert W. McLaughlin and Emily L. McLaughlin. She is survived by her mother, a daughter, Miss Emily L. Thompson, a sister and two brothers.

Services were held at her late residence on Tuesday at 2:45, the Rev. Charles L. Noyes of Somerville, officiating. Burial was at Mt. Hope, Boston.

THE NEWTON CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

The Auburndale Woman's Club has established a scholarship fund which is to be given to the pupil who wishes a higher education and yet is unable to do so because of lack of funds. The requirements which have been made, chose a girl in preference to a boy, and a resident of Auburndale if possible. The Head Master of the Newton Classical High will make the choice, which must be based upon good scholarship and good character, as well as lack of finances. The Education Committee is in charge of administering the sum, which will pay for the tuition of the scholar in his freshman year, at whatever college he may choose. This scholarship seems an exceptionally fine thing and is a welcome addition to the Newton Centre Scholarship Fund which is given each year, under similar conditions.

The Basket-Ball Team suffered a great defeat last Saturday at the hands of Miss Windsor's School from Brookline, who carried off the honors by a score of 47-17. The visiting team was exceptionally good sized, according to the home team, and thus the latter were able to score at will. However, there was some very flashy playing even on the losing side, and Captain Barbara Smith's fighters secured their 17 points in good fashion.

On Friday, Feb. 27, the Newton High Track Team ran against Boston College High and made a very good showing although the latter won 43-34. In the track event Newton had the upper edge but the field events B. C. H. made up for all points she had lost and thereby won the victory. The most notable running was done by Clausen, a Newton High fellow, who with Garrity held the lead for the first 3 laps in the 600-yard run, and then, when urged on by an approaching B. C. H. man, sprinted by his team mate, held the lead and won the race by a short margin.

This winner has remarkable wind power, and seems to be breathing perfectly regularly when he finishes a race. In the Senior Relay event, Garrity and Wilson were first men, and the latter took the lead at the first bank. Despite the wonderful attempts of Bill to squeeze through into first place, the fourth lap ended with B. C. H. in the lead, each man rounding the track twice. The same situation was true at the end of the sixth, where Clausen again set out to beat his man, although he was fully seven yards behind. Rooney the B. C. H. fellow, ran his best and when scarcely 75 yards from the end, seemed easily the winner. Added to this certainty was the fact that Clausen stumbled slightly and seemed doomed, but he quickly forged on again, took the last two banks close upon the heels of Rooney and in the short 15 or 20 yds. to the finish, made the most spectacular sprint witnessed in some time at that gym, beating out Rooney by three or four inches. It was extremely close, but Clausen was the winner. He was immediately picked up, and carried on the shoulders of his school friends through the gym.

In the 1000-yd. run Clausen was hindered somewhat by the fact that there were five B. C. H. runners trying to gain ground at the same time as he was, and he being a runner who believes in running slow at first and spurring toward the end found it difficult when he attempted to forge ahead and win in the last 2 or 3 laps. The B. C. H. captain ran a fine race in this event and won it.

The summary:
300-Yard Run—Won by Watson (B. C. H.); second, Bell (N.); third, Lyon (N.). Time: 37 4-5.
30-Yard Dash—Won by Garrity (N.); second, Rooney (B. C. H.); third, Bell (N.). Time: 4s.
600-Yard Run—Won by Clausen (N.); second, Rooney (B. C. H.); third, Garrity (N.). Time: 1m. 25 2-5s.
1000-Yard Run—Won by Lanigan (B. C. H.) second, Chisholm (B. C. H.) third, Cowing (N.). Time: 2m. 36s.

30-Yard Hurdles—Won by Lyon (N.); second, Robinson (N.) third, Lovjoy (N.). Time 4 2-5s.
High Jump—Won by C. Flahive (B. C. H.) 5ft. 3in.; second, Robinson (N.) 5ft. 2in.; third, tie between J. Flahive (B. C. H.) and Rogers (B. C. H.) 4ft. 11in.

Broad Jump—Won by Hurley (B. C. H.) 9ft. 2in.; second, Merrick (B. C. H.) 8ft. 4in.
Shot Put—Won by Lowe (B. C. H.) 44ft. 9 1/2 in.; second, Cassell (B. C. H.) 38ft. 5in.; third, MacDonald (B. C. H.) 38ft.

Relay Race—Won by Newton (Bell, Letteney, Garrity, Clausen); second, B. C. H. (Wilson, C. Flahive, Galdy, Rooney). Time 1m. 40s.

Wednesday morning, March 3, the three upper classes passed to the Assembly Hall, where they were addressed by Mr. Adams on various matters. He announced that a card had come from Yale saying that Robert Fiske, class of '18 of Newton High has been placed in second honor of the Freshman Class receiving a grade of between 80 per cent. and 90 per cent. in his work. A notice was read that Vaughn, a Yale student and graduate of Newton, has received honorable mention for his high work. Chadwick, who stands the highest in the Class of 1920, was appointed Valedictorian of the class by Mr. Adams, and Miss Rosalind Winslow's senior play, "The Tempered Whirlwind" was selected as the best, and will be given, this coming spring. Other matters were brought up by the principal, and the classes finally returned to their rooms at 9:05 A. M.

The fourth hour on Wednesday, was given over to a meeting of the Senior Class, where various students were nominated for the offices of Statistician, Orator, and Prophet. The nominations will be voted upon at a later time. Matters concerning the dedication of the Newtonian, and the Senior Play cast were presented and discussed.

The English Club held a very interesting meeting on Wednesday, March 3, at 2:00 P. M. when in the Chemistry Lecture Hall, Mr. Furlong, a man connected with the Royal Geographical Society of America, gave a most entertaining lecture. He has done extensive traveling, and at this time told of his experiences while in Patagonia. His lantern slides of the places he visited were most interesting and his vivid description of the scenery, customs of the people, and general life of the country, made a lecture well worth hearing.

Warren W. Oliver of Wakefield, a member of the faculty of the South High School in Minneapolis, since 1915, will sever his connection there this month and return to the commercial department of the Newton Technical High School, where he taught before going West. During the war, Mr. Oliver had a leave of absence for service.

Boston College High defeated Newton High in a track meet held in the Newton High gym last Friday. Boston College High scored 43 points and Newton High 34. The summary:
30-Yard Dash—Won by Garrity, Newton; Rooney, B. C. second; Bell, Newton, third. Time 4s.
300-Yard Run—Won by Wilson, B. C.; Bell, Newton, second; Lyon, Newton, third. Time 37 4-5s.
600-Yard Run—Won by Clausen, Newton; Rooney, B. C. second; Garrity, Newton, third. Time 1m 25 2-5s.
1000-Yard Run—Won by Lanigan, B. C.; Chisholm, B. C. second; Cowing, Newton, third. Time 2m 36s.
Hurdles, 30 Yards—Won by Lyon, Newton; Robinson, Newton, second; Lovjoy, Newton, third. Time 4 2-5s.
High Jump—Won by Flahive, B. C. 5ft 3in.; Robinson, Newton, second, 5ft 2in.; J. Flahive and Rogers of B. C. tied for third, 4ft 11in.

Broad Jump—Won by Hurley, B. C. 9ft 2in.; Merrick, B. C. 8ft 4in.; Flahive, B. C. 8ft 4in.

Shotput—Won by Lowe, B. C. 44ft 9 1/2 in.; Cassell, B. C. 38ft 5in.; McDonald, B. C. 38ft.

Relay Race, 800 Yards—Won by Newton (Bell, Letteney, Garrity, Cowing); B. C. (Wilson, Flahive, Galdy, Rooney), second. Time, 1m 40s.

DEATH OF MR. BAILEY

Henry Patterson Bailey, who on Tuesday died in Newton, in his seventy-fifth year, had been ill during the past ten years. He was born in Boston and was the son of the late Captain Henry L. Bailey and Mary E. (Patterson) Bailey. As a boy and youth he lived in Chelsea, where he attended the public schools and where later he became identified with community interests. He prepared for college and had just entered Harvard when the death at sea of his father, who was a sea captain, made necessary an entire change in his plans and career.

A business life was begun with Gardner, Pratt & McIntyre, whom he left, after a few years, to become associated with the Forbes Lithograph Company, under whom he learned the lithographer's trade, and he was superintendent of the company's plant for many years, severing his connection there to go to New York, where he became a member of the firm, which he helped to organize, of Trautman, Bailey & Blampney, lithographers. He continued these business interests until failing health necessitated his retirement. He meanwhile made his home in East Orange, N. J., where he was a member and long treasurer of the Swedenborgian Church, and was active in civic affairs. He afterwards went to California, where for a few years he lived in the hope of benefiting his health. From there he returned to Massachusetts and had lived in recent years in Chelsea.

When a resident of Chelsea, Mr. Bailey became deeply interested in community interests, and this led him to become one of the organizers and first president of the Chelsea Review Club. Later he was one of those through whose influence and help the Chelsea Public Library was established, and he had been a generous contributor of books to its shelves. He was a resident of Chelsea, where he was a constant patron of the best performances and he helped to organize the Boston Symphony Orchestra. He was a member of such musical organizations as the Euterpe, the old Boylston Club, the Boston Glee Club and similar societies.

About forty years ago, he married in Chelsea Miss Nettie E. Jones, by whom he is survived, as he is by one son, Maynard Bailey, of Fresno, Calif.

Mayor Childs sent in a large number of communications including the budget for 1920, requests from the Street Commissioner for $8000 and for $3000 for Snow and Ice, a request to reapportion the cost of Dudley road improvement so that $36,000 would be available for resurfacing, $6000 more than at present appropriated, recommending that the salary of the Plumbing Inspector be fixed at $2350, a general recommendation that some increase be granted the clerks at City Hall, due to increases made by the School committee in pay of its clerks, a request from the school committee relative to repairs and maintenance of buildings, a request from the school committee for a committee of conference in the matter of more school buildings, suggesting more rooms at the High Schools, a four room building at Newtonville to which pupils now in the Barnard School could be transferred, a new building in the vicinity of Adams, Crafts and Watertown streets, and a new building at West Newton. He also sent in a report from the War Memorial committee that $10,000 be appropriated for the services of an architect for a memorial, to cost $100,000 and which would be paid one half by the city and one half by public subscription. The committee recommend the employment of Henry Bacon of New York, the architect of the Lincoln Memorial at Washington. The Mayor also submitted the names of Charles C. Briggs, C. Edwin Josselyn, Frank E. Hunter, Chas. E. Braman, Timothy D. Murphy, Roy V. Early, Samuel K. Billings, Willis F. Hadlock, George B. King, A. P. Tedesco, Bernard D. Farrell and Warner R. Holt as assistant assessors, Dr. Charles A. Boutelle as Inspector of Animals, Oswald J. McCourt as Overseer of the Poor, George H. Bourne as Registrar of Voters for 3 years, Lewis H. Bacon, member Board of Appeal for 3 years, and Ralph W. Angier and Thomas J. Lyons, members of the Playground Commission for three years. The Mayor also suggested the advisability of revising the ordinance relative to removal of snow from sidewalks.

The City Engineer submitted a long list of sewer assessments and charges and the Board of Health favored a sewer on Cedar street.

Petitions of Charles Blakely for an additional billiard table license, of M. C. Laffie for renewal of auctioneer license, of Coakley Bros. for a victualer license at 248 Washington street, and of M. S. Fraser for an auto truck license were granted.

The school committee notified the board of the death of one of its members, Mr. Edward H. Ruby and a convention was ordered for March 15 to fill the vacancy.

Mrs. Maude Sweatt filed a claim for $400 on account of injuries received by a fall on the sidewalk.

On reports of committees, Eden avenue was laid out under the betterment act with a building line, and $4745 voted for construction. Hearings were assigned on improving South Meadow brook, and on laying out of Carlton road, Waban, including a building line. $6000 additional was voted for resurfacing of Dudley road, $1194 voted to pay the 1918 tax on the Burr playground, Soldiers' relief granted Mrs. I. F. McFarlane, and $11,000 granted for care of snow and ice.

The Public Works committee reported in favor of increasing the rate of sewer assessments to 30 cents a front foot and 2 cents per square foot of area, and notice was received of the passage of an act by the Legislature to be delayed, however, as the Legislative act will not become effective until March 25th.

LODGES

A surprise birthday party was held at the home of Mr. Arthur E. Smith, 26 Brooks avenue, Newtonville, last Sunday evening, where members of the "Friskey Club" gathered and, presented Mrs. Smith with appropriate gifts in honor of her birthday. Mr. Smith is prominent in fraternal societies and a noble grand of Newton Lodge No. 92, I. O. O. F.

The second of a series of five whist parties was held last Monday evening at the lodge room of Newton No. 92, I. O. O. F. West Newton and a large gathering was present. After the game, refreshments were served, and a social hour followed. Don't forget our next one, March 15th. All come and have a good time.

Newton Lodge No. 119, Knights of Pythias, will hold the 1st annual reunion on Tuesday evening, March 9th, at 8 o'clock, in Odd Fellows' Hall, Newtonville.

CONCERT FOR SMITH COLLEGE FUND

The second concert for the benefit of the Smith College Fund will be given next Sunday afternoon at three-thirty at the Hunnewell Club. Mrs. Laura Littlefield, the singer, is the soprano soloist at the New Old South, and her beautiful voice is familiar to many who have heard her with the Symphony, the Handel and Hayden Society and many of the other musical organizations of Boston. Mr. Harrison Keller, the violinist, studied abroad for some years under Auer. At the beginning of the war, he was a resident of Chestnut Hill, whence he entered the army and was the leader of the band of the 301st which made a great reputation for itself both in this country and in France.

Metropolitan Life Statement Shows
Amazing Growth of the Business

Notwithstanding the current stories of wasteful spending on the part of those who are receiving more money than heretofore throughout the country the experience of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, as set forth in its annual statement, published today, indicates that a greater number than ever are saving money and investing it in life insurance for the protection of their families. The Company broke the record for new insurance in 1919, the total being $1,418,681,492, and of this more than $500,000,000 was industrial, the small policies on which the premiums are paid weekly. Group insurance, which is a comparatively new branch of the business, where employers take policies covering their employees, reached the total of nearly $122,000,000. The total number of outstanding policies of the Company is 21,770,671 for the great total of $5,343,652,434. The Company's income increased more than 54% million dollars and amounts to $254,728,942. The assets of the Company are $864,821,824, a gain during 1919 of $89,367,126. In its campaign for better health the Company's visiting nurses made 1,300,883 visits to 256,000 sick industrial policy holders, and the Company's agents distributed more than 12,000,000 pamphlets giving hints on improved health conditions, proper sanitation, etc.

The Company has conducted experiments in health and welfare work which are receiving the attention of scientific men and those interested in health and economic topics. One is at Framingham, Mass., where the Company, two or three years ago, authorized an expenditure of one hundred thousand dollars to be spent by the National Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis in an effort to wipe out that disease in an entire municipality. The experiment is being continued with the co-operation of various semi-public and official bodies with results that are considered satisfactory and that indicate that tuberculosis can be entirely stamped out.

Another interesting experiment in welfare work is in the city of Kingsport, Tenn., where, under the leadership of a number of prominent business men, Group policies have been taken out for every employee in every industrial concern in that place. The entire pay-roll of the city has also been insured under one group, and thus all the workers of a city of ten thousand come under the operation of the Metropolitan Health and Welfare activities. Supervising Nurses from the company have investigated health conditions and have undertaken a general program of improvements on an effort to make Kingsport a healthy city.

MUSICAL OPPORTUNITY

The lecture room of Immanuel Baptist Church will be open Friday afternoons at four o'clock to any children between the ages of eight and fifteen for practice in chorus singing and musical interpretation. Mrs. Charlotte Paige Hollander, the church soloist, a Boston concert singer and teacher of voice, will be the instructor.

There will be no charge to any children, but they must be regular in attendance and attentive in class.

DR. H. H. POWERS' LECTURE

The concluding lecture of Dr. H. H. Powers in the series given for the benefit of the Smith College Fund, was given last night at Channing Church. The subject was "The New Partition of Africa."

Dr. Powers called attention to the fact that the greater part of Africa is in the tropical zone, is incapable of governing itself and dependent upon outside powers. Exceptions to this were Abyssinia, a mountainous region very difficult of access, and the Commonwealth of Africa in the extreme south, which decides its own laws, and is independent in a very genuine sense.

As for the other sections, Great Britain and Egypt together control the Sudan. Great Britain also controls Rhodesia, and both sides of the Red Sea, from the Suez to the Gulf of Portugal, which is practically under England, owns some territory on the East coast which England is gradually getting possession of on the principle that if a country does not develop her possessions she forfeits her claim to them.

The other great nation controlling Africa is France. Her possessions are along the northern coast, and include the unappropriated section north of the Belgian Congo.

Germany, before the war, had possessions both on the Eastern and on the Western coast of Africa, the latter being the more important. She had planned to build a railroad across Africa thus separating British and French possessions. This would have been almost as important as the Bagdad Railroad which she was planning.

Italy has possession of Tripoli, and seeks more territory in Africa. On the whole, the changes in Africa since the war have been in the direction of greater unity. This cannot be said in regard to the countries north of the Mediterranean where the process has been one of greater division rather than of greater unity.

TOWN MEETING

The annual meeting of the Newton Highlands Improvement Association on Monday night at Lincoln Hall took the form of an old fashioned town meeting. The warrant containing some 15 articles had been duly sent out to each member and fully two hundred attended the meeting.

President J. Butler Studley was chosen moderator and the various articles on the warrant brought out considerable discussion. The most interesting from a local standpoint was the article relating to removal of snow. This is a rather tender subject to some of the Highlands residents, particularly those residing at Rockledge and the repeal of the ordinance was earnestly advocated. Better judgment prevailed, however, and it was the sense of the meeting that more discrimination and common sense should be exercised in the enforcement of the ordinance rather than by its repeal.

A new high school to be located in Newton Highlands, the purchase of land on Commonwealth avenue, Walnut and Homer streets for park purposes, the purchase of land on the shores of Crystal Lake, for park purposes and some improvements to the Cold Spring Swamp district were favored by the meeting. Messrs. James Kingman and Alfred E. Alvord of the Planning Board told of the plans of that board in the proposed zoning of residential districts. It was later found that a conservative estimate of the cost of the various improvements advocated at the meeting was about $530,000.

These officers were elected: president, Edwin S. Drowne; vice president, Albert H. Mellen; secretary, S. Arthur Thompson; treasurer, Harris

P. Gray; executive committee, E. E. Hills, G. D'W. Marcy, T. J. Allingham, C. A. Clarke, F. R. Hayward, Wallace H. Nichols, and E. J. Smith.

—The "Younger Set" Club, of this village held a Leap Year Party last Monday evening in the Boat House Dance Hall. Dancing was the feature of the evening, and was enjoyed until a late hour.

—Several friends of Mrs. William Kenyon held a birthday surprise party at her home last Thursday. Besides several other gifts, Mrs. Kenyon was the recipient of a handsome electric lamp. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening was spent.

—Miss Ruby Veats, teacher of the fifth grade at the Ralph Waldo Emerson School, expects to leave shortly for Spain, where she will spend the next two years teaching at a girl's school. Previous to the assumption of her new duties, Miss Veats expects to spend the vacation season traveling in England, Italy and France.

—Mrs. Earl, of Linden street, died very suddenly at her home late Tuesday evening. Mr. Earl, returning from a visit to her physician was grief-stricken to find that his wife had passed away during his absence. Mrs. Earl leaves a wide circle of friends and acquaintances who will be deeply shocked to hear of her sudden demise.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

Roger Wolcott

The four weeks' attendance reports are due today and all indications point to a high average throughout the building. This means happily that sickness in our district is at last waning.

Mr. Richardson, treasurer of the Newton Trust Company, was the guest and speaker at our upper grades' assembly this week. He gave a most interesting and educational talk upon "Money, It's Forms, Uses, and Abuses." After speaking for a half hour, Mr. Richardson most kindly and ably answered many questions which were asked him.

All winter sports are still very popular at our school.

Stearns School

The Child Welfare Clinic was held Wednesday afternoon in the Kindergarten room. Owing to the unfavorable weather conditions this was the first clinic to be held for three weeks. Many mothers availed themselves of this opportunity to consult with Dr. Cummings who was in attendance.

The mid-morning lunch continues to be a great success about one hundred and fifty children being served daily. A choice may be had of cocoa and crackers or a special dish prepared for each day. This week's menu is as follows: Monday, golden soup; Tuesday, tapioca pudding; Wednesday, pea soup; Thursday, Spanish cream; Friday, corn chowder.

Horace Mann

The seventh grade is working hard for good position in penmanship as well as for good penmanship. They are succeeding. At the end of each lesson where writing is used, a star is awarded to the row that had the best position during the lesson.

Grade Seven has a great deal of talent in drawing as is shown by Leonice Bellamy and Helen Spencer. They have drawn on the board, maps of New York and Boston which we use in connection with the study of the Revolutionary War.

Monday, March first, the seventh grade had a reflectoscope lesson on "France." There were pictures of France before the war and afterwards. It was a very interesting lesson.

Plans are being made for a city election in Grade VI. Various posters are being put up for the candidates for Mayor, Aldermen, and other officers. The voting will take place Friday, March 5th.

The pupils in Grade VI who have not been absent since school opened are Owen Quinn, Helen Hart, Kenneth Raymond, and Loring Carley.

Horace Mann Notes

This school is supplying the children and teachers with lunches. They are given to help make the children healthier and to bring them up to normal weight. The lunches consist of a glass of milk and two crackers. It is served at recess time. Thirty pupils out of thirty-six in the eighth grade are taking the lunches. Altogether about two-thirds of the whole school are indulging. The lunches are seventeen cents per week. Fifteen cents is for the milk and two cents keeps each child provided with two crackers each day. The different classes have charge of their own crackers, but two of the eighth grade boys distribute sanitary paper cups and the milk each day.

Mr. Caton, teacher of one of the seventh grade classes, is out owing to illness. His immediate return is anticipated by the pupils of his class.

The pupils of this school are very sorry to hear that Mrs. Doane, mother of our fifth grade teacher passed away on Monday night.

It is now time for the children of this school to collect money for the little French Orphan they adopted last year. Letters and post cards have been received from him and he writes that he is very grateful for the kindness which the children have shown him.

Cladlin School Notes

The Seventh Grade is taking a trip through Asia, as a means of studying that continent in Geography. This week has been spent at the Hawaiian Islands, on our way to Japan. Since the serving of milk at lunch time, many children have shown an appreciable gain in weight.

The Seventh Grade is preparing for a declamation, or contest in the reciting of poetry on March 9, 1920. The judges will consist of the teacher and a few of the pupils. The selections are to be made by the pupils who recite.

A camera contest, open to Eighth Grade pupils of Newton, was held recently and two prizes were offered. The second prize was won by Raymond Woolston of our Eighth Grade, the prize being a picture to hang in the class-room.

Miss Sanders has made her first visit since vacation, and started the classes on their spring work, the study of birds.

A room in the basement has been fitted up as a lunch room for the teachers, and eight teachers avail themselves of the opportunity of getting their own lunches.

Hyde School

The parents, children and teachers in the Hyde district are placing a prize in one of the first grade rooms in memory of Miss Lucy Jane Mitchell, who for over sixteen years, was the much loved friend of old and young.

Because of Miss Mitchell's special delight in the joyousness of childhood the bas-relief, "The Singing Cupids" by Giovanni de Bologna, which embodies so well the unconscious free life of little children, has been selected.

Miss Batchelder's first grade led in the purchase of thrift stamps last week.

Twenty-two pupils from the seventh and eighth grades, accompanied by Miss Hanscom attended the young people's concert given by the Boston Symphony at Symphony Hall, Feb. 26.

Pupils of Mrs. Blake's seventh grade are working enthusiastically on original plays connected with the course in vocational guidance.

Elrigi Ciccone of Miss McCarthy's sixth grade was presented with two medals on Tuesday. One, of silver, was awarded by "The Massachusetts Horticultural Society" for superior excellence in gardening. The other, of bronze, from "Eastern States Agricultural and Industrial Exposition" representing the "Achievement Club" work.

Bigelow School

At recess Thursday the boys fought a Snow Battle on the playground. The ammunition was in perfect condition for effective use. The Right Wing of the West Army drove the Left Wing of the East Army back 25 feet. At the same time the West Army's Left Wing was driven back an equal distance by the East Army's Right Wing. The Umpire announced it a drawn battle.

Room Two led in the value of Thrift Stamps purchased last week. The number of buyers was five.

Audubon Clubs have been formed in the following classes: Miss Dyer's, Miss Stearns', Miss Winslow's, Miss O'Connor's, Miss Tewksbury's and Miss Coyle's. While at the present time the Clubs are studying winter birds, they are also collecting pictures and descriptions and are watching for the arrival of the early spring comers.

Lisell

Sunday night Dr. George S. Butters gave a very helpful and personal talk to the students at the Vesper service.

Dr. and Mrs. Winslow recently entertained a group of the Southern and Western girls. This was especially enjoyed by them as it was their first experience having maple sugar on

The above are Accident Policies, the most liberal ever written. No man or woman can wisely neglect these policies. Think for a moment of giving your family the protection of a $100,000 Insurance for $8.33 1-3 a month, or $40,000 for $3.33 1-3 a month, in addition $100 and $50.00 a week for 200 weeks. Can you neglect an opportunity of this kind to protect your family and sleep nights? If you are that sort of an individual I do not care to do business with you. It is a sad fact that confronts us that 33 1-3 per cent of widows are left without the necessities of life and 75 per cent without the comforts. I maintain that the head of the household or man contemplating such a responsibility who can pass an examination and fail to adequately provide his family with life insurance is not a worthy husband or son. Also the endowment policy paid in instalments. Payments come to your Beneficiary as regular as time. There are no possibilities which can obstruct these payments. No expense or annoyance for collection. A word about the cost. Life Insurance costs exactly what it is worth, whether you are 21 or 51 it costs the same. The law of average regulates the cost. The price is regulated by the immutable law of mortality. 9 persons of every 1,000 must die every 12 months. This average will not vary 1-100 part of 1 per cent. You know not when, how or where, but surely we must go, therefore protect your family.

P. S. Women are entitled to the same Insurance Protection as men. Now, all policies are guaranteed by one of the strongest companies in the world. You are also protected by the Massachusetts insurance laws, the most rigid of any state in the union.

CENTRAL SQUARE THEATRE

No real man ever sets to work to make a girl cry, for if there's anything he dislikes in life it is that tyranny of tears. Yet that's exactly what Victor Fleming, the director for Douglas Fairbanks did in Doug's next "Big Four" picture, "When the Clouds Roll By," which is to be seen at the Gordon's Cambridge Central Square Theatre, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Five big all-star vaudeville acts complete the bill, including Burke and Betty, mirthful, musical pot-pourri; Hector, the wonder dog; Stewart and Mercer in their latest comedy "Aerial Surprise"; and Fuller and Ziegan in "Rollin' em Where they Ain't," and Whiffle-Ireland and company in the "Belle of Bingville."

—The little daughter of Mrs. John Merrill of Grove street is reported ill with diphtheria.

—The Mothers' Association held its regular meeting on Wednesday in the chapel of the Congregational Church. The speaker was Dr. Lily Owen Burbank, who spoke on "Social Hygiene."

—She told about the great responsibility of mothers to properly instruct their children. She emphasized the facts that they must not keep silence on matters of sex hygiene but have correct knowledge and a wholesome attitude towards such matters, and give this knowledge to their children. She stated that the double standard of living was wrong, and that we must protect our young men as well as our young women.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

A full quota of delegates from Newton at the Des Moines biennial, is the slogan of the Newton Federation president, Mrs. Arthur W. Lane. Those who have never attended a biennial do not, perhaps, grasp the significance of the situation nor realize that Massachusetts having launched Miss Bacon as a candidate must stand behind the guns and see that no stone is left unturned to elect her. The vote to which every club in the state is entitled should be cast or Massachusetts will be "charged with not standing behind her candidate. Let every club president in Newton consider earnestly what her club can do toward being represented at Des Moines. Do not say your club isn't interested. If it isn't, why did it join the General Federation? What any such president needs is to go to a biennial and find out what this great woman's club movement means. It will prove a liberal education. Sooner or later—and the Club Editor hopes sooner—every woman will be casting her ballot and taking her share of responsibility in the government of the country. There is no better place to get an understanding of the points of view of other parts of the country than at one of the biennials. Such a knowledge is going to be useful to all women in the discharge of their civic duties. We of New England are provincial, there is no gainsaying it, and what is more, most of us rather glory in it. We need to mix up a little more. We need more of the western breeziness and enthusiasm and they in turn, need something which we have to give. One thing, which we of the East need to learn, and that is, that we are not the only ones who can do things. And there's no better place to find out this and a great many other things, too, than to go to a biennial and see for one's self. If this is not possible, help someone else to go.

State Federation

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, state chairman of Thrift, has sent a letter to all the 320 clubs of the state urging the observance of Thrift Stamp Week, March 1st to 8th. The fact that much is being made of this week in the schools does not mean that it is unnecessary to mention it in the clubs. The real point is to arouse the interest of the mothers in this attempt to get the children to save their pennies and buy the 25-cent Thrift stamps, so that the seed sown at school may be watered and nurtured at home and the children gain the habit of saving and investing, a habit none of us would ever regret having formed in our youth.

The Literature department announces a Round Table conference at the Boston Public Library, Wednesday, March 10, at ten o'clock. Details will doubtless be found in the March Bulletin, which has not yet come to hand.

Newton Federation

Under the joint auspices of the Welfare Bureau and the Federation on Monday, March 8, at 3 P. M. Miss Mary Beard of the Instructive District Nursing Association of Boston, will speak on "Essentials of a Health Program in Cities of 40,000." Mrs. W. H. Lothrop, chairman of the executive committee of the Natural Association for the organization of family social work, will preside. The Welfare Bureau is planning some special work under its Health committee and is desirous that interest in this work may be coupled with knowledge of what is best to do. For this reason it solicits the interest and co-operation of Newton men and women.

Mid-Winter Meeting

Wednesday, March 10, 2:30 P. M.
Mid-winter meeting postponed from February 25. The choice and unusual program consisting of tableaux of scenes in the life of "Elijah" and music from the oratorio under the direction of Mr. Ralph Maclean, organist of the First Congregational Church, Newton Centre, will be carried out as planned for the earlier date. No pains nor money has been spared to make this a meeting full of charm and beauty and it should bring to the inspiration for all who attend. The music is by trained musicians, a vocal and string quartet, and everyone who has seen Miss Lawrence's work is high in words of commendation of the correctness and beauty of the costumes and of the artistic effect of the tableaux. Spring is really on the way, so let us take courage and be on hand at the Technical school in large numbers to show that this meeting did not suffer from having been postponed.

Newton Thrift Exposition

Under the auspices of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs a Thrift Exposition will be held April 15, 16, and 17, in the State Armory at West Newton. This is to be Newton's part in the general campaign of Thrift education which has been inaugurated by the Federal Government. The significant word "Thrift" is to be broadly interpreted, and your ideas about the saving of money, material, time, strength, and life will be welcome. Begin now to note the helpful suggestions you can give the Thrift chairman of the Woman's Club in your own part of Newton. The names of the Executive Committee, together with more information about the Exposition, will be published later. Watch the papers and help spread the news. This occasion should be "All for one, and one for all."

Local Announcements

The Auburndale Woman's Club will meet next Tuesday afternoon, March 9th, and will be in charge of the Literature Committee. Mary E. Woolley, president of Mount Holyoke College, will be the speaker, and her subject "George Eliot." Music will be a violin solo, by Miss Johnson, accompanied by Miss Moss, both studying at Lasell. Light refreshments will be served.

Guest night will be observed by the Auburndale Review Club on Tuesday of next week.

On March 9, at 2:30 P. M., the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands will meet in the Congregational Church. Miss Mabel Hill will speak on "Woman's and Her New Opportunities." Tea will be served.

The meeting of the Newton Parliamentary Law Club will be omitted because of their leader, Mrs. Electa M. Sherman's being parliamentary for the State Society of Daughters of the American Revolution, which is holding its state convention that day.

"The Foreign Woman in Industry and in the Home," is the subject to be considered at the meeting of the Social Science Club next Wednesday. Miss Martha L. Lathe is chairman for the morning and Mrs. Davis R. Dewey of the State Board of Labor and Industry, the speaker. Guests may be invited.

The Woman's Club of Upper Falls has arranged a class in Citizenship which is open to all women of the village. The first meeting will be held in the kindergarten of the Emerson school on Thursday, March 11. Mrs. Claude L. Gibson will be the leader and her subject, "The First Thing Women need to know as Voting Citizens."

On Thursday morning the regular monthly current events lecture will be given by Mrs. W. C. Crawford before the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

Dr. Richard Burton will lecture before the Community Club on Thursday, March 11, on "The Drama of Today."

An attractive program is being planned as a surprise for the members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club at the meeting on Friday, March 12.

The Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club meets with Mrs. F. C. Snow on Saturday afternoon.

A meeting of more than passing interest is being arranged by the Newtonville Woman's Club for March 16, when there will be a Symposium on "Know Your Own City" under the direction of Mrs. Irving O. Palmer. Full particulars will be announced next week.

Local Happenings

At the meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club last week Mrs. John R. McLean, chairman of the Education Committee, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Clara Bancroft Beale, who gave the club an intimate view of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, America's greatest woman. The speaker's close knowledge of Mrs. Howe brought out many points not found in written biographies. Several of the members present recalled occasions when Mrs. Howe visited and lectured before the club, which added much to the interest of the occasion. The Bates Hymn of the Republic was sung. Miss Harriet A. Broad made an appeal for the Drive of the Y. W. C. A. Tea was served with Mrs. A. C. Munroe and Mrs. Harry S. Wells as pourers.

The club through the Art committee, Mrs. Ellen Reed, chairman, has presented two prizes for best camera pictures by pupils of the eighth grade. The first prize, a photograph of Rayburn's "Boy with a Rabbit" went to the Peirce school. The second prize, "A Pastoral Scene" went to the Clafin school.

This competition was intended for any pupil in any of the eighth grades and was offered by the club to stimulate the interest of the children in this line and especially that they open their eyes to the beautiful and picturesque scenery in our own city. The Club hopes to renew the offer next year and it is hoped that many more of the children will avail themselves of the opportunity to win a picture for their own schoolroom.

On Saturday afternoon, Feb. 28, the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club met with Miss Mary A. Newhall. Two acts of Henry VIII, Part I, were read with Miss McCann in charge of the quiz.

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands had a delightful afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. A. Salmon on "American Music." On March 1st, Mrs. Salmon treated Indian Music. Mrs. Hopkins, Indian and Negro Music and Mrs. Fairchild, Modern American Music. Interpretative selections of the different types were given by victrola records brought by Miss Bar-

"War Poetry" was the subject of the afternoon at the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday at the home of Mrs. Hiram A. Miller. Miss Anna Thompson was in charge of the work, telling something about the young poets themselves and reading selections from the poems to suggest their style, bringing out the superstition of the boys and their indomitable courage and faith.

Mrs. Herbert H. Longfellow was hostess for the meeting of the Auburndale Review Club on Tuesday of this week. Mrs. H. A. Wentworth was in charge of the morning, giving herself a paper full of interest on Polish Customs. Mrs. E. F. Drew treated Polish Art and Miss Margaret Haskell, Polish Literature. Mrs. Ernest Braithwaite added to the pleasure of the morning by her piano solo from Mow-skowsky.

The talk by Miss Amy Sacker before the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday on her work as art director of moving picture production in the studios in California was extremely interesting and everyone was much pleased with her simple and informal way of telling her story. Miss Eleanor Leete was a most successful leader of the club singing. This feature will be discontinued for this season.

The Presidents' Club of Boston was most hospitably entertained by the Community Club on Wednesday afternoon at the Hunnewell Club. After a word of welcome from Mrs. Franklin E. Smith, president of the hostess club, Mrs. Charles H. Bonney, president of the Presidents' Club, took charge of the meeting for the business session, after which Miss Katherine Dayton of New York gave a varied program of acted songs, among which were folk songs of England, France, Greece, Ireland. Then there were old minstrel songs, as well as Indian and Creole. Miss Dayton was pleasing and charming and well liked by all who heard her. Miss Anne Tindale accompanied her.

At the close of the program the members and guests of both clubs adjourned to the dining room where tea was served by the social committee. Mrs. Loren D. Towle, chairman, Mrs. Sterling Elliott, Mrs. W. H. Mitchell, Mrs. J. G. Godding, and Miss Jessie M. Fisher presided over the tea table.

Routine business and the discussion of methods of procedure filled the monthly business meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday. Dean Bertha M. Boddy of Radcliffe spoke briefly on the importance of Latin in the high schools. Mrs. Henry C. Hardon who has been a member almost from the beginning of the club was made an honorary member.

"The Fortnightly", Newton Centre, will celebrate on Wednesday afternoon the centenary of Julia Ward Howe with Mrs. J. Bergeson as hostess. Tea will be served by Mrs. A. W. Barnard.

NEWTON WOMAN'S CLUB

The regular meeting of the Newton Woman's Club was held on Tuesday, February 24, at the home of Miss Lillian Buddick, 95 Webster park, West Newton.

Mrs. Augustus Wakefield gave great pleasure by her artistic rendering of Russian, Italian and English songs. Miss Ethel M. Burner gave a miscellaneous program of recitations in prose and poetry.

A social tea followed.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Newton Council of Girl Scouts was most fortunate in being able to secure Mr. Templeton the well-known scout and outdoor man for one morning during his short stay in Boston. He was to have conducted a Leader's hike but owing to a severe snow storm the meeting had to be indoors. Those who were fortunate enough to be able to reach the place of meeting were well rewarded for their efforts in braving the storm by the wealth of information that Mr. Templeton gave them.

He had a miniature camp and outfit with him and was able to demonstrate indoors many things that it would have been impossible to attempt outside with so much snow on the ground. We hope that we may be able to procure his services again when the weather is warmer and it is hoped that then all the leaders will take advantage of the opportunity of getting real wood craft from a real woods man.

Speaking of camping—the camp-fund is growing. Already two of the Troops have sent gifts to the treasurer for this fund. Troops 2 and 4. You have read how these Troops raised their money. Now another gift has just been received from the combined efforts of Troops 2 and 5. This money was raised in true Scout fashion. Through the courtesy of the Pond Committee of the Brae Burn Country Club the Girl Scouts were able to have a camp-fire on the edge of the skating rink on Saturday. Over this fire they cooked cocoa, hot dogs, and flap jacks. There was a great demand for their wares and besides having a grand good time the girls cleared quite a bit of money for the fund.

Troop 2—Sunday evening, February 15 the older girls of Troop 2 gave a concert at the Sailors' Haven in Charlestown. The program consisted in songs by the girls with piano and ukelele accompaniment, solos and recitations. On Monday, February 23, 11 Scouts went on a snowshoe hike to Prospect Hill, Waltham. The girls coasted on their snowshoes, had races and a snow ball fight.

NEWTON BRANCH SPECIAL AID

During the next two weeks, sewing will be done in the workroom for Italy, where garments are urgently needed. All are requested to help by coming on the Thursdays, or by taking work home. Knitted articles, especially gloves, sweaters, and mufflers are still in great demand, and the women are asked to continue knitting them.

CO-OPERATIVE BANKS

Remarks by Mr. Wm. N. Swain at Recent Hearing At State House

As President of the Massachusetts Co-operative Bank League, having 190 banks in this State with a membership exceeding 250,000 and assets approximately of $160,000,000, it is my privilege to appear before you and briefly state the reasons why we feel that house bill 757, which provides for the issuance of paid up stock and further provides that one person may hold in his own name forty matured shares, where now it is limited to ten, should be written into the statutes of Massachusetts.

There are two channels through which money is deposited in the co-operative banks.

First, by the purchase of shares and the payment of $1 per month on each share purchased.

Second, under the matured share law Chapter 643, acts 1914, by leaving in the bank shares when they mature, this represents $200 for each share, and through this channel the supply of funds has been increased during the past six years by about $8,500,000.

The co-operative banks now face the question of how they can finance the home mortgages which are being brought to them in ever increasing numbers, and will continue so long as the co-operative bank is the main channel through which money for home mortgages is supplied.

The Massachusetts co-operative bank league, on October 15, 1919, sent to each co-operative bank a circular asking them to report the amount of approved applications for mortgages on hand in their banks November 1, 1919, for which money was not then available, and the replies sent by 79 of the 190 banks (which 79 banks represent a capital investment of about $85,000,000) was that almost $3,000,000 worth of approved applications were waiting for mortgage funds, and in the same ratio it would be conservative to say that the total approved applications on hand awaiting funds in all the co-operative banks in Massachusetts on that date was $5,000,000. The average co-operative bank mortgage is $2,000 and this $5,000,000 represents 2500 home seekers whose satisfactory security could not be turned into mortgage for lack of funds.

This bill covers in addition the privilege of issuing shares in prior series after a new series has been opened. Mr. Allen will discuss the same. I may say right here that all of these proposed changes are subject to the approval of the boards of directors of the banks. You know what a matured share is. You may like to know what a paid up share is.

Of the total assets of the building and loan associations throughout the United States, as estimated February 1, 1920 at $2,000,000,000, 18 of the largest states of the United States had a total of over $100,000,000 repaid in paid up stock purchased outright by the members, equaling 7 per cent of the total assets.

The list of these states with their totals is submitted.

States	Total amount of assets paid-up stock
Ohio	$350,559,538 $47,596,223
Nebraska	57,151,546 15,555,073
Michigan	37,923,798 14,600,166
Indiana	80,017,971 12,571,473
Illinois	119,712,467 10,971,269
California	37,130,490 7,332,470
Pennsylvania	355,000,000 6,855,453
Missouri	29,260,489 5,998,192
Wisconsin	23,365,389 5,195,555
New Jersey	169,308,867 4,252,481
Oklahoma	9,134,704 2,571,109
West Virginia	8,890,021 1,496,047
Minnesota	3,070,181 581,796
Tennessee	2,911,970 299,725
South Dakota	5,250,000 152,840
Connecticut	1,454,728 167,018
New Mexico	2,484,957 21,600

$1,300,508,354 $138,258,468

From information received, Massachusetts, New York, Maine, and New Hampshire are the only states which do not issue paid up stock. Paid up stock gives the privilege to an investor to go to a co-operative bank and buy one or more shares and pay $200 for each share which immediately becomes available for dividends, and does not have to wait 12 years or more for the same to mature.

These associations received for the year ending December 31, 1918 over $1,325,000,000 of which $50,000,000 was received from the sale of paid up stock.

From statistics prepared by K. V. Haymaker, late financial advisor of the United States Housing Corporation Washington, D. C., he states that prior to the war, under normal conditions it usually required the erection of 600,000 houses in America to replace the losses by fire and destructive agencies and the growth of population. That great bulk of construction was practically cut off for two years, so that when 1919 opened, we were a million houses short in America. Now we are facing an unprecedented demand for homes, and that demand that was satisfied by 600,000 per year, four years ago, will require 750,000 to one million new houses per year for many years to come, to alone supply the needs of the growth of the industrial population. I attach herewith copies of Mr. Haymaker's lecture given at the University of Cincinnati, January 15, 1920, and I know the information therein will have careful consideration by your committee.

We must examine carefully the records of the past on which to base our hopes for the future, and without in any way intending or desiring to criticize, or call to account the inability of other savings institutions in Massachusetts to supply funds for home mortgages, which is reflected in the figures as printed annually in the bank commissioners report, part one in which it is shown that practically the bulk of all money being invested in home mortgages by saving institutions comes from our co-operative banks, is the reason why we are here to ask for more money to finance homes.

Massachusetts has always stood in the forefront of progressive commonwealths and now is the time when we believe and hope your committee will recommend and the legislature will approve these bills and by so doing there will be added millions of dollars to the available funds for home mortgages.

During 1919 it was a common experience to find that our co-operative banks were from three to six months behind in supplying money to care for the home demand. We, of course, appreciate that the times during 1919 have been abnormal in the demand for homes and the money to finance them, but from the figures already read to your committee, I believe, that these conditions will grow worse rather than better for the coming five years. People have got to be housed and the only way to house them properly and make them contented citizens is so far as possible to "give every family a home, with lawn and flowers and trees in front and a garden in the rear, and crime will disappear in two generations." Dark, crowded, unsatisfactory housing conditions are among the most prolific sources and causes of disease, insanity, immorality and crime and constitute a most serious menace to society. Billy Sunday has said "A man living in a rented house and singing 'Home, Sweet Home' is merely kidding himself and serenading his landlord."

If industrial development along all lines is only 50 per cent of what is anticipated it will still require for every $1,000,000 invested in industrial plants, from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 invested in homes for the families of those working in these plants. If the average cost of a six-room bungalow where many are developed in one location at the same time is say $4,000, 1,000 such bungalows would cost $4,000,000. "No man ever waved the red flag of anarchy over a home of his own, which sheltered himself and his wife and his children. A man seated by the fireside of his own home surrounded by his own family will never be attracted by the doctrines of anarchy and destruction. The most effective antidotes against these dangerous doctrines is to adopt plans and provide means by which every family may have a chance to obtain a home of their own."

In closing let me sum up:

First: we must house our population properly.

Second: we must surround them with comfortable conditions, in the way of schools, churches, parks and proper railroad facilities, and Third: the money must be forthcoming to finance these propositions. A contented people living under comfortable circumstances will more readily accept additional taxation than will those living under different conditions.

I bespeak your most serious study of the merits of this bill and a favorable report upon the same.

Despite the severe snow storms and the "flu" large numbers took part in the gym and swimming activities. Following is a record of attendance in the gym and pool of the various classes for the month of February:

Gymnasium classes: Seniors 422, Business men 148, Junior A 252, Junior B 362, Intermediates 248, 151; High School 80; total of 1612; swimming 1335; grand total 2847.

The classes are busy these days getting ready for the big annual gymnastic exhibition to be held April 8, at which time a demonstration of the all-around gym work besides special features such as clown, trained bear and elephant, etc. will be given.

A special effort is also being made to organize a senior swimming team. Any member of the Association who desires to make the team will be given a try out. Practice Tuesday nights.

SHUBERT THEATRE—With melody and beauty predominating, with travesty, singing and dancing, and all strung as well matched pearls along the necklace of spic bohemianism, the Greenwich Village Follies now seeks to amuse, inspire and instruct the peoples of other cities than New York. It will begin the second week of its four weeks limited engagement at the Sam S. Shubert Theatre, Boston, next Monday, March 8. It is indigenous to Greenwich Village, that pulsating purlien of New York, where habitation the artistically ambitious. It is well called a revusical comedy of life in our American Quarter Latin. The immensity of its popularity proves that it amuses; that it has inspiration is suggested by the fact that it has already brought forth an army of imitators to the great artistic benefit of America's musical comedy stage; and that it instructs is shown by the spontaneous departure of the routine producers from the ideas of the ancient designers of scenery, costumes, music, dancing and fun, to the newer art of this newer school of the humoresque.

WHY HE FAILS

There's many an industrious man Who never gets ahead, Because he does not think or plan. But trusts to luck instead.

He's not a slacker or a shirk, This plodder in life's grind, But though he always minds his work He never works his mind.

DEATH OF MISS WHITING

The community has met with a great loss in the unexpected death of Miss Anna M. Whiting which took place at Orange City, Florida, on March first.

She was born in Boston, January 1, 1862 and was the daughter of John L. and Mary B. Whiting, and like them was interested in many good causes, charitable, philanthropic and educational.

She was a director of the Pomroy Home, an active and useful member of the New England Women's Club of Boston, a member of the Twentieth Century Club, and one of the founders of the Newton Community Club. She attended Channing Church and was among the foremost in its various activities.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 at her late home 11 Washington street, Newton.

—Mrs. Mabel Neilly has sold her eleven-room house at 46 Rockledge road, with a frame garage and 10,000 feet of land to Charles Cutter. The entire property is valued at $12,500. Mr. Cutter purchases for a home.

—The Woman's Church Aid and Missionary Society of the Congregational Church held an all-day meeting on Wednesday. In the afternoon the Foreign Missionary Society was addressed by Mrs. Edward M. Noyes.

—The home of Mrs. Seward W. Jones is to open Thursday afternoon, March 18, at 3 o'clock for a musical by Miss Gladys Lott of Boston, who will give songs and sketches of Child Life.

—This concert is under the direction of Mrs. B. Walter Goodson and Mrs. Donald D. McKay for the benefit of the Copley Theatre Fund.

—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Marshall, with the wives of the higher executives of the government, were the patronesses for the program of "Songs of Old France" for the benefit of the Y. W. C. A. given on Wednesday of last week at the ballroom of the New Willard Hotel, Washington, D. C. by Bessie Talbot Salmon of Newton—Washington Post.

—An interesting address will be made next Sunday evening at 7.30 P. M. at the evening service at St. Paul's Church, by Lieutenant Governor Channing Cox. He has chosen for his subject, "The Duty of a Citizen Today," and will draw from his broad experience as a public man and an officer of the state to point the moral of his message. His appearance in the church on that night is an innovation in the regular Lenten services, which have heretofore been addressed by ministers. An extremely interesting musical program will also be rendered.

Under the laws of Massachusetts, two companies are needed to write complete automobile insurance.

One company can write fire, theft and collision policies, and the other liability, property damage and loss of use contracts.

The Twin Mutuals, 40 Central street, Boston, are two companies, in one office, which are furnishing complete insurance for automobilists. They are writing policies at the regular rates and paying back to their policyholders at the expiration of contracts a part of the premium.

These companies have always been successful in making good earnings for their policyholders, and at the present time are selling fire and theft insurance at a saving of 25 per cent. and liability, property damage and loss of use insurance at a saving of 15 per cent. Adv.

LARGE FIRE DAMAGE

Two Garage Fires in Newton Cause Property Loss of Nearly $50,000

Two fires coming close together early Wednesday morning in the Newton district of the city caused some wild rumors to be circulated that fire bugs were at work, but second thoughts seem to indicate that these fires were not incendiary.

The first caused an alarm to be sounded from Box 113 at about 1 o'clock and was for a blaze in the garage of Mr. Charles M. Boyd on Washington street, Hunnewell Hill. The fire started in the rear of the building, which is of wood and, as the fire floor between this part of the building and the newer fireproof garage, failed to work properly, the flames caused considerable damage to the three automobiles which were standing there. The top was burned off of one car, the tires ruined on another and the body of the third was badly scorched. The damage is estimated at about $10,000.

As the firemen were making up at the Boyd fire, the alarm was rung from Box 115 at about 3 o'clock for a fire in one of the buildings of the Crawford garage on Elmwood street. The fire started in the second floor of the old "Bush stable" one of the landmarks of the village, and was not discovered until it had gained considerable headway. Martin Moran, the night attendant, noticed the fire when he opened the front door of the garage to admit a patron. The upper part of the building, which is of brick, was practically destroyed, and ten automobiles on the second floor in dead storage were a total loss. Automobiles on the first floor were also damaged by water. At one time the flames were so intense that Mr. Charles Smith, and family who lived in the house adjoining the garage were driven into the street. In view of the congested nature of this locality, the firemen did good work in confining the blaze to the structure in which it started.

The damages are hard to estimate but are probably about $30,000.

HOUSE BURNED

Because of difficulties experienced by members of the Newton fire department in responding to an alarm in p.m., the home of Ralph M. Hatch, at 826 Watertown street, West Newton, and its contents were destroyed early Sunday morning. Damage is estimated at $6000. Mr. Hatch was awakened by the smell of smoke. After he had roused his wife and children they fled to the street in their night clothes. The fire department was notified by telephone. The fire pumps upset several times while responding to the alarm and by the time the firemen arrived the house was practically destroyed. The fire started in the cellar from an unknown cause.

Newton Post of the American Legion Takes Action on Bill Pending in Congress

The Newton Post of the American Legion held its monthly meeting at Player's Hall, West Newton, last Monday night, and despite the conditions in street car transportation, there was a large gathering. The feature of the evening was an address by Mr. Charles F. Weed, vice-president of the First National Bank of Boston, who gave a very interesting account of his experiences in the Far East on his recent trip to that part of the world. He first spoke of his visit to Australia and compared conditions in that country to those in the United States. He said that the land is the dominant factor in the country, and a majority of the people owned land of their own. Placing the ex-soldier as the chief task before the government there, and they are succeeding in a very large degree in absorbing the soldiers back into civilian life. The chief fault in that land is the fact that production suffers greatly through the reduction of the working hours of the laboring class. He said that banking hours were from 7.30 A. M. to noon. While the auto manufacturing industry in Australia is practically nil, the auto-body manufacturing industry is in a flourishing state at the present time. It is so hot in that country that it is necessary to wear two white suits of clothes every day, but as laundry work was done very cheaply, this was not an expensive matter. He next told of visiting Java, Singapore, Hongkong and Shanghai, and related many amusing incidents which occurred in these places, which proved very interesting. In closing he stated that with proper supervision, China would soon become one of the largest producers in the world, and that anyone investing money in that country could not lose, if invested wisely. A rising vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Weed for his kindness in coming out from Boston to address the members.

After working for several weeks in revising the Post constitution and by-laws to make them conform with the State documents, the special committee composed of Heywood S. French, Oswald J. McCourt and James A. Waters presented the constitution and by-laws for action by the Post. Post Commander Weeks read each document section by section, and invited discussion on each one. Although several points were brought out which did not meet with unanimous approval, the papers were finally adopted as originally presented.

"Sailor" Ryan of the Memorial Committee reported on the work of that body. He stated that plans for an artistic memorial were in the hands of the architect, and would be completed and sent back to approval or disapproval in a short time. This memorial will cost not over $100,000, half of which will be borne by the city and the other half by popular subscription, according to present plans. At the close of the meeting Captain H. D. Cormerais distributed application blanks for Mexican Border Medals to those who were entitled to receive them. Any member who served on the Border in 1914 or 1917 who wishes one of these blanks should get in touch with Captain Cormerais. Plans are practically complete for

DROWNED

Newton Highlands Man Loses His Life at Florida Beach

Mr. Joshua Seaver of Newton Highlands was drowned on Wednesday while in bathing near Miami, Florida. Mr. Seaver had been stopping at the Green Tree Inn since Feb. 15. He had left Boston about Feb. 1 on a business trip through the South and then went to Miami for a vacation, and was joined by his sister.

Mr. Seaver with a party of friends, including his sister, had taken an automobile and drove a few miles down the beach, where Mr. Seaver and a woman said to be Miss Rosa Crocker of Boston, went in bathing. The undertow was so strong that notwithstanding the fact that both were good swimmers they were swept off the shore and drowned in sight of their companions who had remained in the auto.

Mr. Seaver was treasurer of the Healey, Seaver Company, manufacturers of dextrine and gum, with a factory at 90 Freeport street, Dorchester. His home was at 112 Hyde street, Newton Highlands. He was about 50 years old.

He is survived by a widow and one son.

GUEST NIGHT

Tuesday night, March 9th, was the annual guest night of the Abundant Review Club. About 125 guests were present at the Congregational Chapel, not only invited guests were delighted, but the members were well entertained, but the members as well. This year the club entertained and was entertained. It seemed rather unusual for the members to be company and not the performers, but the fact was most heartily appreciated and enjoyed by each one of them.

Mrs. Walter had the evening in charge and was assisted by Miss Haskell and Mrs. Bennett. The decorations and arrangement of the chapel were exceedingly good, the prevailing flower being the narcissus. Small tables were grouped around the room, each decorated with flowers and each having a most inviting dainty dish of home made candies. The guests seated around these tables and making charming groups, listened to a most enjoyable program.

Miss Durrell, accompanied by her sister, Miss Josephine Durrell, rendered several beautiful selections on the violin. Mr. Garfield Stone, also accompanied by Miss Josephine Durrell, gave a number of favorite and much appreciated songs. Miss Helen Champlain, always charming and well poised, was happy in her selections. The audience showed its appreciation of her interpretation of Kipling, "The Gift," by Myra Kelly was well received. The audience evidenced its appreciation of the efforts of the artists by demanding many encores.

After light refreshments, the officers of the club received.

THE STORM

Newton Has the Worst Storm for Many Years

Just because we have had over five feet of snow this winter, the weather man took another swipe at us last Saturday and gave us about the worst storm that the oldest inhabitant can recall. The snow was not so deep as in previous storms, but there was a bitter, cold wind, which twisted and twirled in every conceivable fashion, and with a strength of the proverbial seven devils. The storm began Friday night with some rain, but changed Saturday morning to snow and by noon had driven about everyone indoors. Transportation was almost at a standstill, although the Elevated managed to operate some of its cars on the Brighton line. The Middlesex & Boston were able to run west as far as Commonwealth avenue, and then encountered drifts of four feet of snow, which effectively stopped further travel. A snow plow in attempting to clear the tracks became stalled and derailed about opposite the Hospital and one of the cars was stranded in Lower Falls village.

The trains over the circuit ran into big snow banks between Waban and Woodland and stopped for the night. At Lexington and River streets there was a bank of snow and ice fully eight feet high and the tracks were buried.

The snow ceased late in the afternoon, but the wind continued gusty and cold for the remainder of the day.

The Boston and Worcester was tied up on Sunday by the derailment of two of its cars. One left the tracks at Parker and Boylston street, Newton Centre, and turned at right angles to the rails and one left the track at Chestnut and Boylston streets.

NEWTON WOMAN'S CLUB

The regular meeting of the Newton Woman's Club was held on Monday, March 8, at the home of Mrs. Frank M. McClaskey, 1 Ashford Court, Allston.

Mrs. Charles A. Hargreaves gave a delightful informal talk on "Three Years in Roumania." Groups of songs were sung by Mr. Frank McClaskey, and Mrs. Vera L. Mills both of which added greatly to the pleasure of the afternoon. A social tea followed.

SUNDAY SCHOOL EFFICIENCY
Efficiency in district and State Sunday school association work will be discussed by Massachusetts leaders at the First Baptist Church, Boston, March 17 and 18, beginning Wednesday, March 17, at two o'clock. Professor Walter S. Athearn, A. M. Locker of Chicago and the new State Secretary, Rev. E. M. Fergusson, will be among the speakers. The meetings are open to all interested.

THE BUDGET

Newton Residents Face a Huge Increase in the Tax Rate for 1920

The budget for 1920 just submitted to the aldermen by Mayor Childs will undoubtedly make the tax payers of Newton sit up and take notice either at the present time or when the tax bills are received next fall. The Mayor recommends the sum of $2,674,772.98, which is $95,274 less than what the departments ask for and is $673,146 more than the budget of last year. When it is known that the total expense for 1918 was $1,882,000, one can realize what the present figures really mean.

The largest single item is that of schools, where $789,264 is wanted, the Street Department coming second with a total of $680,219, while the Treasury Department with its serial bond and interest requirements, heretofore, always first in amount, is now third with a total of $319,964. The Police require $171,163 as compared with a total expense last year of $146,226, while the Fire Department wants $146,112, as against $120,243 last year. The Buildings Department requires $84,575 for regular expenses to which will be added the proposed improvements in City Hall, estimated to cost some $40,000. Health asks for $37,265, Charity, $63,813, of which $23,000 is for the rapidly growing item for Mothers' Aid. The Library asks $51,780, Playgrounds $43,189, and the Water Department for $172,062.

Those acquainted with the situation point out that with an estimated increase in valuations of $5,000,000 (a rather high figure) the budget as proposed above will require an addition of $7.66 to our present tax rate, and this figure does not take in to account a possible increase in the state tax of $3,000,000 of which Newton would pay some $50,000.

LETTER FROM MISS CHILDS

The following letter was received some weeks ago when Miss Carolyn Childs was in charge of the orphanage just opened at Lazavars, Serbia. She has recently been transferred to Chachak where she is supervisor of public health.

Dear Miss...
Perhaps you have heard that I was sent down from Belgrade the middle of September to the orphanage at Lazavars, where Miss Childs was stationed.

From the first day I was impressed with the efficient and painstaking work she was doing and as I learned how modest and self-effacing she was, I made up my mind that some one else ought to tell her family what she would never tell herself about what she has done there. And so this letter.

You may have heard something of the rather troubled history of the Lazavars home, the divided responsibilities, the delays, the difficulties of communication with Belgrade, which had combined to make the summer a hard one for Miss Childs. They all made more admirable what she had accomplished in her own province, the direction of the daily life. She was so firm and so gentle with the children, so thorough in her attention to detail that there was nothing to do but to "carry on." She gave the most devoted care to a little boy sick with typhoid and brought him through without need of a doctor. It was such a pleasure to see her skilful care of all the children's ailments that I used to follow after her on her daily rounds whenever I found time to do so.

Mr. Doherty, the new commissioner of the Serbian Relief Committee, expressed his appreciation of her loyalty and ability.

She is now in charge at Lazavars, and has with her Dorothy Gausby, a Holyoke girl of about 1912, who is capable and enthusiastic and very companionable. I think they will live and work happily together, and I admired much the courage and unselfishness with which they were facing the problems of the winter before them. Her family have every reason to be proud of what she is doing for the children of Serbia.

Yours cordially,
C. R. L.

A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Dr. Geo. J. Ott, of 169 Tremont street, Newton, was surprised, last Tuesday evening on the occasion of his birthday, by about thirty of his neighbors, friends who came in and enjoyed a pleasant evening.

The doctor is noted for a genial flow of conversation, but the surprise effectually stopped the flow, and his friends saw him for once at a loss for words.

Music and dancing were enjoyed, and the guests left, all declaring that they had had a very good time.

The doctor was remembered with a very acceptable present, and declared this to be the happiest birthday that he remembered, and like the children, was inclined to wish that they might come more often.

Among those present were: Mrs. Geo. A. Trotter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Osborne Hill, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Gould, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Gerhard Zedren, Mr. Gerald Zedren, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. G. Mead, Miss Helen Mead, Mrs. Havens, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Stokes, Mrs. Voorhees, Miss Voorhees, Miss Isabella Barnes, Mrs. Edith Verdi, Mr. Fred L. Crawford, Mr. Donald Crawford, Mr. Pope, Mr. Edw. Lehmann.

NEWTON BRANCH SPECIAL AID

The Special Aid again appeals for workers to make children's garments for Italian relief, either on Thursdays at the workroom, or at home. The articles are quite simple and easy to finish. Also, will the women who are knitting gloves, sweaters and mufflers keep on with the work as there is still a demand.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Troop 7 last Friday evening had a banner meeting. There were thirty-six boys, four masters, and the scout executive present. Assembly was executed promptly at 7.25 and the troop snapped quickly into line at the Senior Patrol Leader's command, "Fall in!" The acting Senior Scribe, Walter Woodward, then called the roll and it was found that the troop had 95 per cent. attendance, the best it has ever had.

At inspection Scout Executive Talbot was assisted by the troop masters. He commented most favorably upon the appearance of the troop and the excellence of the drill under Assistant Scoutmaster Robert Perry. Troop 7 hopes to capture, against all-comers, any drill honors in the district.

The pyramid building teams under Assistant Scoutmaster E. L. Smith are meeting with tremendous success. Two teams of ten scouts each have already been organized and a third is quite possible at the next meeting.

Scouts Gus Gadsden and Neal Lovell are the pivot men, and are hustling to master signalling in order to hold their positions.

The applicants spent a three-quarter hour instruction period with their instructor, Assistant Scoutmaster Quincy Wales. He declares several of his boys will be ready for their First Court of Honor in a very few weeks. There is excellent scout material among these applicants and the troop rejoices in its fortune of having them.

Patrol Leaders Smith and Matthews have turned magicians and are spending more of their time now mastering the works of the conjurer, Mr. Louis Fillebrown. They have a number of his best tricks which they will present as Troop 7's part of the Radio Club show to be held at our headquarters in the Second Church in West Newton on March 26.

The Scout Executive, Mr. Talbot then gave his talk on "Paris and Its Environs" to the boys and presented some most beautiful lantern slides. This proved most interesting and ended with a roar of applause and an America yell from the boys.

ANNUAL Y. M. C. A. STATE BOYS' DAY

Saturday, March 20th, will be observed throughout Massachusetts and Rhode Island as State Boys' Day. This will be the 10th anniversary of the day in the two states—the idea having first been inaugurated here in 1910.

The aim of State Boys' Day is to enlighten the public regarding the work being done among our boys and to enlist the sympathy and support of our various communities in this work. There is no better method than to train boys for responsibility and future leadership than to give them a definite piece of work to do. Our plan is to give the boys a share in the financial needs of the Association by asking them to enlist the interest of the community.

The local Y. M. C. A. has six teams of boys organized to do this work in various parts of Newton. Early next week letters and folders will be mailed to persons whose names have been handed in by the boys. On Saturday, March 20th, the boy whose name is given in the letter will call for the contribution.

Of the funds secured through the boys' efforts on State Boys' Day 50 per cent. will be used by the local Association in the "Boys' Division; 25 per cent. will be used for the work of the State Committee which is extending the work wherever there is need in Massachusetts and Rhode Island; 15 per cent. will go toward the work of the International Committee, and 10 per cent. will be spent for boys' work in China and India. As we seek to help those whom we cannot see, we enlarge the horizon of service and become more useful.

Last year the boys of the two states collected $324,120. This year they expect to receive $10,000. Of this amount $800 is Newton's share. Encourage the boy who calls upon you.

LIBRARY NOTES

A very interesting point that shows up in the totaling of book production for 1919 is the falling off of the number of titles in fiction. Figures show that in 1905 there were 1008 volumes of fiction issued; in 1910, 1303; in 1915, 728; and in 1919, 671. This same drop is shown also in juvenile statistics. In 1905, 475 titles were issued; in 1910, 395; in 1915, 524; and in 1919, but 394.

"The increased cost of book production will act as a continued brake on doubtful ventures this year and is likely to keep down materially the number of individual titles."—Publishers' Weekly.

COPLEY THEATRE—Patrons of the Copley Theatre will be glad to learn that Henry Jewett's Company is to revive "The Private Secretary," which is always sure of its large patronage because of its intrinsic merits as a fun producer. The version which Mr. Jewett has selected is that of Charles Hawtrey, the English actor, which was the one given at the Copley previously. The action of "The Private Secretary" takes place in London and its plot revolves around the amusing experiences of a humble clergyman by the name of Rev. Robert Spalding, who is mistaken for the new private secretary and is constantly getting himself into a tangle of difficulties. Mr. Jewett has cast the play very carefully, and several of the parts will be in the hands of the same persons who played them at the earlier revival.

Tasmania.

The island of Tasmania, formerly called Van Diemen's Land, lies off the south coast of Australia. It has an area of 26,385 square miles. It is covered by a network of ridges, termed locally tiers, which enclose a multitude of small plains and valleys. The principal industries are agriculture, mining, stock-raising and some manufacturing. Tasmania is a state in the commonwealth of Australia. It has a population of two hundred thousand. The exports are wool, gold, silver, tin, timber, fruit, jam, hops and hides.

The recently organized Junior Chorus of the Immanuel Baptist Church is arousing much interest. All young people between the ages of 8 and 15 are eligible. Mrs. Hollander is the leader and the time for rehearsals is Friday afternoons at 4 o'clock.

—Grace Church was filled to capacity Sunday afternoon when the pageant, "The Builders of the City of God," was presented. This pageant is a part of the World Wide Campaign, and is an allegory representing the work of the Church of God. All of the parts were taken with dignity and reverence, and the performance was very impressive.

—The concluding lecture under the auspices of the Read Fund was given in Hunnewell Hall on Monday night. Mr. Charles H. Tyndall gave a very interesting lecture illustrated by the stereopticon on wireless telegraphy invisible light, inaudible sounds and telephony. As these are subjects in which the public is taking a keen interest at this time, his lecture was most timely and instructive.

RETURNS FIFTY PERCENT

Mr. Frank W. Remick, treasurer of the fund for the Newton Constabulary unit of the State Guard has sent the following letter to the contributors to that fund.

On September 18, 1919, the Newton Constabulary was requested by the Governor to become a unit of the Massachusetts State Guard, and was called to Boston to assist the authorities in the preservation of law and order. The members responded in large numbers, but were in many respects totally unprepared for the way of equipment and elements necessary to the preservation of their health and protection from the weather. They served faithfully and efficiently until October 8, 1919, when they were ordered home.

Citizens of Newton were appealed to for funds to provide these men with such clothing and equipment as they lacked and which were not furnished by the Commonwealth. In response to this appeal, individuals contributed $5076.63; of which sum there was a balance of $4591.24, leaving a balance of $575.39.

Of the sum advanced there was a balance of $2000, making total amount expended balance, $2575.39; accrued interest on the account to March 1st 5.49, total $2580.88.

Of this sum there has been appropriated for postage, circular letters, etc. $42.56, leaving on hand to be returned to the donors $2538.32, being 50 per cent. of their subscriptions.

STATE Y. M. C. A. OLDER BOYS' CONFERENCE

Newton was well represented at the State Y. M. C. A. Older Boys' Conference held February 27th-28th-29th at Somerville. This was the 30th Older Boys' Conference and was one of the largest yet held. The total enrollment was 743—49 Y. M. C. A.'s and 67 towns and cities in Massachusetts and Rhode Island being represented in this group. The boys were entertained in the homes of Somerville people during the three days of the conference.

The Conference was also the occasion of the Golden Jubilee of Boys' Work and tribute was paid to the memory of William H. Whipple of Salem, Mass., who organized the first Boys' Work in the Young Men's Christian Association in America back in 1869.

"Mobilizing for Christian Service" was the theme of the Conference and throughout the three days was kept before the minds of the boys. Every speaker made this the thought behind his address.

Much rivalry was shown between the different delegations at the annual banquet held Friday evening in the Somerville High School Auditorium. Delegation cheers and songs were followed by five-minute addresses by the Hon. C. W. Eldridge, Mayor of Somerville, Rev. H. D. Maxwell, W. Fred Fletcher, for the Somerville boys, and Earl Whittemore, of Worcester, President of last year's conference.

Friday evening Mr. W. Earle Bothwell of Pittsburgh, Pa. gave a splendid address on "A Man of Four Dimensions." His talk emphasized the four square idea and the distinction between right living and wrong.

On Saturday morning Dr. C. J. Carver of the International Committee, speaking on "Christian Service as a life work" emphasized "The Need." He spoke of the two types of men, the ones who get all and the ones who give all. The life of Dr. William T. Grenfell who has given his life to work with the natives of Labrador was cited as an example of true service. Mr. W. C. McCarthy, Dean of Boys' Work at Springfield Y. M. C. A. College, followed Dr. Carver's address by one on "The Preparation" needed for a life of Christian Service. He emphasized the fact that self-analysis, second, and self-investment, rather than self-sacrifice, third.

Following the addresses by Dr. Carver and Mr. McCarthy, was one by Miss Margaret Slattery, her subject being, "Am I My Sister's Keeper." Miss Slattery spoke of the many wrongs in our social system which the boys of today must right as the men of tomorrow. She said there were just two kinds of men in the world; those who gave up all that others might enjoy life, and the ones who want their own wills and have them at any price. The vast gulf between these was portrayed in a story she told of a boy who gave an arm and an eye to his country while fighting in France, and the profiteer who sold this boy's mother poisoned fish to make 7 cents more per pound.

Speaking of girls, Miss Slattery said the American girl is the nicest thing on earth. To keep her so the boys must show their approval of the right kind of American girl, and their disapproval of the painted doll type.

Saturday afternoon was given over to sectional conferences and a recreation period during which the boys used all the facilities of the Somerville Y. M. C. A. to their capacity.

Two very fine addresses were given by Professor Henry W. Brown of Colby College. He spoke Saturday evening on "The Goodness of God," telling about the experiences he has had with boys who doubt. He emphasized the fact that we should explain things of religion rather than ask boys to accept them on faith. After his lecture many of the heretofore things of mystery were made clear to the boys.

Professor Brown's address given on Sunday evening was a splendid discourse on "The Superior Self." He showed the boys the two opposite natures that struggle in the breast of every human being. He stressed the necessity of self-discovery, voluntary self-enrichment, and purposeful self-expression.

Mr. H. W. Gibson, State Boys' Secretary was the speaker on Sunday afternoon. His subject was "Marching Step with a Great Army." He told of the fellow who failed to line up with others and the necessity for a disciplined army. The address was a challenge to right living and Christian Service and was followed by a consecration meeting at which 250 or more boys took a forward step declaring their purpose to live more useful Christian lives.

Newton was represented by two groups of boys, one from the Association Building and the other a Community group chosen from the city at large. Those representing the building were: Edmund Woodward, Joseph Worth, J. Raymond Church, Chester Adams, Carleton Person, Harvey Macuen, Arthur Carlson, Carleton Church, Alfred Stafford, Dana Barber, and Alfred O'Brien, boys' secretary. The Community group consisted of: Leslie Newcomb, Newton Centre, Edward Harvey, Watertown, Haydon Chase, Newton Centre, Alfred Jellison, Watertown, Robert Savory, Auburndale, Thomas Gotshall, Jr., Newton, Dwight Colburn, Watertown, Emerson Murphy, Newton Centre, Fred Potter, Newton Centre, and Anson T. Leary, City Wide Community Secretary.

We hope that no change will be made in the ordinance requiring the removal of snow and ice from paved sidewalks in the greater part of the city. The present unusual conditions should not lead to the repeal or material modification of an ordinance which has worked admirably for many years. The mayor has it in his own hands, thru definite instructions to the police department, to allow some latitude during the present conditions, and if the enforcement of the ordinance is done with reasonableness, the issue will be settled in a satisfactory manner. We understand that the enforcement of the ordinance in the Newton Highlands district, which this year comes within the scope of the ordinance for the first time, has been so wise and arbitrary as to create considerable resentment, and here again, the Mayor has it in his own hands to smooth out the situation in that village, without repealing the ordinance.

The Saturday half holiday matter remains at status quo, which considering the matter from all angles is the best solution at the present time. Undoubtedly as Alderman Hollis says, the men will eventually get the half holiday for the entire year, but the enormous expense of the present year, is sufficient reason for taking no action at present.

The mayor and board of assessors are to be congratulated on the appointments just made for assistant assessors. Considering the nature and temporary character of the work.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Newton residents have but little conception of the pressure which is brought to bear on some of the representatives to the General Court from some of the country districts. For instance, on the Health-Education bills which have been pending for some weeks, one member from the western part of the state has received over three thousand form letters urging him to vote against these measures, while one member of the committee which is considering the bills the other morning received over a bushel basketful of letters in opposition. The Newton representatives, on the contrary, have had hardly a dozen letters on the subject, most of them favoring the project.

A hearing will be held on March 23rd on the proposed bill board legislation in which many Newton people are interested. The Commission which was appointed to consider this whole subject, last year, has reported to the surprise of many, a bill which will really regulate the bill board nuisance and there is some hope that the Legislature will take definite action on this important matter.

Newton policemen will be interested in a bill, now passing thru the two branches to allow all police officers one day off in eight, instead of one day off in fifteen. The bill carries a referendum to the people, however, but with the generally favorable action taken on most referendums, this is not an insurmountable objection. The matter of pensions is growing more and more important. The idea of paying pensions to retired judges, who are worth hundreds of thousands of dollars, as were the late Justice Knowlton and Justice Allen, arouses the utmost resentment from many people who cannot see why pensions are paid to such wealthy persons. In this case, however, as some one has well said, it is merely a question of mathematics. Able men will not go into the bench, unless there is a proper salary, with a pension, or a much larger salary without a pension.

The average citizen, cannot see why persons employed in some public capacity should be given pensions when they reach a certain age or are physically unable to perform their accustomed work, while the man next door, employed by a private concern, must support himself in old age or sickness, and there is a great deal to be said on that side of the case. The question of allowing veterans in the employ of the city or town to retire on a pension, while another veteran, with an equally good war record, not working for the public, does not have that privilege, will some time be discussed by the American Legion. The principal argument for a general old age pension is based on the general theory, that pensions should be uniform and not discriminative, as at present, and some time there will be an explosion on this subject.

One of the interesting, yet tiresome features of legislative work is the presence of some men and women, who imagine that they are divinely appointed agents to speak on every matter of legislation at committee hearings. One or two women, particularly make more or less nuisances of themselves by talking on this, that, or the other matter, and taking the opportunity to discuss everything under the heavens from the League of Nations to prohibition. It does little good to attempt to hold them to the subject under consideration; they simply take a little more time in arguing that what they are saying is somehow related to the question. The only way to save time is to do something else when they have the floor.

One of the most troublesome matters before the Legislature relates to the bonus act of last year, which paid nearly everybody in the service, the sum of $100. There are still 15,000 or 20,000 persons who think they are entitled to this bonus and the Legislature is flooded with bills to include Tom, Dick, Harry and their sisters. No matter where the state draws the line, there will be certain people left outside and who will complain. Some of the bills have substantial merit, but most of them should receive scant attention.

By a bare majority, the committee on Legal Affairs has favorably reported the Daylight Saving bill. Such a report presages a lively contest in both branches in which the Newton contingent can be counted to vote in favor of the bill.

The same committee, has also favorably reported the so-called "Sunday baseball bill" on which there has been so much discussion the past few years. There will be quite a fight on this measure also.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Dr. George J. Fisher, Deputy Chief Executive, Boy Scouts of America, is going to be the guest of the Norumbega Council next Tuesday, March 16th.

Dr. Fisher was formally with the Y. M. C. A. and was one of their big men in the work, holding many important positions both in the Y. M. C. A. and in State and National Committees. Since joining the Boy Scout organization he has been in constant demand all over the country, and Commissioner James C. Irwin is to be congratulated in having persuaded Dr. Fisher to come to Boston. The program for the day is as follows:

At 12.30 Dr. Fisher will be entertained at luncheon at the Union Club by members of the Governing Board, Scout Commissioners, and Presidents of the various Councils near Boston.

Between 3.00 and 5.00 P. M. Dr. Fisher will have an informal conference with the Scout Executives at the Boston Scout office.

In the evening Dr. Fisher and the officers of the Norumbega Council will be entertained at a dinner given by Mr. James A. Stafford, the President of the Norumbega Council.

At 8.00 P. M. there will be a mass meeting in Jacob Sleeper Hall, Boston University, on Boylston street, Boston, next to the Public Library, to which all scout officials, scoutmasters, members of Councils and others interested in Scouting are asked to come. Dr. Fisher is a splendid speaker, and is bringing to Boston an inspiring message to all. It is hoped that all those interested in the Boy Scout work will attend.

The first section of the Scout Wireless Club held an election of officers recently, the following scouts are now officers of this progressive club:

President: Phillips B. Hoyt; vice-president, Russell Noyes; secretary, Raphael Fox; treasurer, Raymond Church.

The club held its first meeting last Friday, at the club rooms on Watertown street, the afternoon being devoted to the erection of an aerial and the cleaning up of the building in general. The first messages were received just before the close of the meeting and now the only difficulty is the question of heating the building. It is hoped that some kind friend will donate some wood and a stove. The meetings are to be held regularly on Friday afternoons and Wednesday nights. For members joining in the next month the initiation fee is 25 cents and after that time it will be 50 cents. All second and first class scouts who wish to join are asked to see any of the officers or to see Mr. Talbot at his office. The club has loaned to them a one-kilowatt sending set, complete, and it is hoped that enough money can be raised at their show on March 26th to have power installed in the building.

A committee consisting of the following men met Commissioner Irwin, Executive Talbot and Deputy Commissioner Benbow at the Unitarian Church recently to discuss the prospective new troop in West Newton: Mr. Fred Smith, Mr. T. W. Travis, Mr. Lindley, Mr. Monahan, Mr. Irving F. Carpenter and Mr. Herbert Andrews. The opinion of those present was that a new troop should be started, and that the committee should, for the time being, devote their energies to the finding of a suitable scoutmaster. A list of names was presented, and the committee is going to see the various men mentioned.

The Scout Executive is keeping bachelor quarters, and has been for the last month. Mr. Talbot says he is beginning to weary of being both a "chef" and a "femme de chambre" when he also has to be out on scout work both day and night. He even goes as far as to say it is "pas bon" and also "degoutante."

Mr. Talbot is going to hold one afternoon a week free at which time he will go to Newton Centre to meet the scouts of Troop 8 and Troop 5, who may wish to ask advice and help on their scout work. Final arrangements are now being made for a place to meet the boys, and the day on which he will go to the Centre. Troop 5 is again without a scoutmaster, which seems to be the usual fate of this troop. Any one knowing a possible man who likes boys and believes that the future citizens of Newton are made when young, and who wishes to do the youth of Newton Centre some real good is asked to call by phone or to write either Mr. James C. Irwin of 43 Highland avenue, Newtonville, or Mr. G. W. Talbot of 343 Watertown street, West Newton.

HAVE STOOD TEST OF TIME

Quotations With Which All Are Familiar Acquire Popularity Only Because of Their Merits.

The quotation worthy of the high title of "familiar" must have stood the test of time and passed unharmed through the shifting tides and fashions of centuries. In its lofty or in its humble way it must show that, like Shakespeare, it "was not for an age, but for all time." I used the word "humble" because the rhymes of childhood, of the nursery, fulfill the requirement of age in a quotation worthy to be called familiar. Their intrinsic, their abstract merits may appear slight, they may even seem to be sheer nonsense, but they are passed on by mothers and nurses and by the children themselves from generation to generation. We may be assured that they would not thus have lived and prospered if they had not possessed some quality, however slender, of genuine worth, of real humor or imagination, which gave them permanence.

Then there are the popular sayings, the folk tales and ballads and the songs of the people with an ancestry lost in the mists of antiquity, which, stored in human memory and kept alive only by human lips, have come down across the centuries with their endless variants until at last they have been gathered up by the collector and the antiquarian and made safe from oblivion by print and paper. These tales and ballads are often rude in form and expression, but no curious inquiry is needed to explain their long life and lasting familiarity. In them you find wit and wisdom, sparks struck from the hard flints of experience by men and women struggling unknown through what we call life.—Henry Cabot Lodge in Scribner's.

FORTUNATE IS HOMELY MAN

If Unduly Attractive, the Unhappy Male Seems Doomed to Misfortune All His Life.

I have no objection whatsoever to children being beautiful, or to young girls being beautiful, or to a woman of whatever age being beautiful. But I do insist that for a man not to be homely is his misfortune. Irvin S. Cobb writes in American Magazine. The handsome male starts with a handicap at the very cradle.

Women of all ages insist on cooing over him and talking baby talk to him and chucking him under the chin and kissing him—especially kissing him—and since he is not of an age to appreciate these attentions the whole procedure must annoy him fearfully.

Should his beauty last into his boyhood the chances are that he has the sort of mother who will make him wear his hair long and force him to go about publicly in a broad lace collar and a black velvet suit with a sash about his waist, and that means other boys will call him by offensive nicknames and generally make his young life a burden to him.

Most woeful of all, if still his beauty sticks to him after he has arrived at man's estate, only a determined and persistent struggle against the odds of destiny and of circumstances can save him from drifting into the ranks of the matinee idols, the moving picture stars and the floorwalkers in the department stores.

Concrete Oil Tanks.

Storing oil in concrete tanks is the invention of an Englishman. A tank with a capacity of about ten gallons was recently made with a chemically treated concrete aggregate, and after being allowed to "weather" for seven days molding was filled with paraffin oil. Thus filled, it was placed in a shed, where it remained for 15 weeks; at the end of this period it was carefully examined. With the exception of evaporation, no loss had taken place; there was no sign of leakage, and the outside walls of the tank were free from the smell of its contents. Upon removal from the spot on which it had been standing no trace of paraffin could be detected, nor had the under side of the tank acquired any smell. This is probably the most severe test that could be applied to any container.

Wonderful Island.

White Island, 30 miles from New Zealand, is probably the most extraordinary island in the world. It consists of an enormous mass of rock nearly three miles in circumference, rising 900 feet above the sea, and is perpetually enveloped in dark clouds, which are visible for almost a hundred miles.

The island is rich in sulphur, which for some reason has not yet been adequately utilized. In the interior is a lake full fifty acres in extent, the water of which has a temperature of 110 degrees Fahrenheit, and is strongly impregnated with acids. Great quantities of steam escaping from craters on one side of the lake form the cloud that continually envelops the place.

Children's Fancies.

Children live in a world of fancy. Whatever may be the real nature of the things they see those things to them are real. Remember that the child has had no experience by which to judge the importance of practical relations of what they see or imagine. Even men and women sixty years old misjudge events, misunderstand relationships of things, attach absurd importance to their imaginings. How must it be with a child who has not been here long enough to test his visions by the standards of observation and experience?—Exchange.

a smoke talk and entertainment to be held in the near future. An elaborate program is in process of formation, and an enjoyable evening is promised by the Entertainment Committee. Further details will be announced later.

The following resolution was unanimously passed at a regular meeting of the Newton Post No. 48, American Legion, held March 8, 1920.

WHEREAS: The American Legion in Convention assembled at Minneapolis, November 11, 1919 did vote that the question of extra pay or adjusted compensation for ex-service men and women should be left for decision to the Congress of the United States, and

WHEREAS: The National Executive Committee of the American Legion did on the 9th day of February, 1920 state to Congress that all service men and women are entitled to adjusted compensation in the form and amount of a fifty-dollar bond per month of service, and

WHEREAS: The headquarters of the Massachusetts Department, American Legion has urged Posts and individuals to take such action as will assist in the passage of this legislation; therefore,

BE IT HEREBY RESOLVED: That Newton Post No. 48, American Legion believes it the first duty of the American Legion to endeavor through proper legislation to take care of the wounded and disabled and their direct dependents, the widows and orphans of our comrades who died in service, and those ex-service men and women who may be in actual need, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That Newton Post No. 48, American Legion believes it ill-advised both from the standpoint of the American Legion itself and from the standpoint of its relation to the country as a whole, to press the demand this initiated by its National Executive Committee and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That copies of these resolutions be spread on the records of the Post and forwarded to all interested parties.

Derivation of "Hoodlum."

Hoodlum now means a young, rough rowdy. The term is derived from a gang of toughs in San Francisco, under the leadership of one Muldoon. They were called for the name of their leader, the syllables of whose name, out of contempt, were reversed and slightly modified. Instead of Muldoons they were called Hoodlums.

Reaping Machines.

Over two hundred different reaping machines have been patented. The first one was invented in the eighteenth century, but failed through its intricacies. The Rev. Patrick Bell appears to have originated the first practical machine of this class in 1826, and it was first used in 1827, the principle being that on which the best machines are now constructed.

Instinct of Birds.

The circumstance of the bluebirds being emboldened by the cold, suggests the fact that the fear of man, which now seems like an instinct in the birds, is evidently an acquired trait, and foreign to them in a state of primitive nature. Every gunner has observed, to his chagrin, how wild the pigeons become after a few days of firing among them; and, to his delight, how easy it is to approach near his game in new or unfrequented woods.—J. L. W.

Listening to "Fish Stories."

Norwegian fishermen are using a species of submarine telephone to aid them in their work. A microphone is lowered from a fishing boat and connected by a wire to a telephone in the boat. The fisherman listens at the instrument and when the fish hold a meeting the listening device records the disturbance.—Scientific American.

$100,000 Costs $100 Annually, in Addition Pays $100 A Week For 200 Weeks
$40,000 Costs $40.00 Annually
In addition Pays $50.00 a week for 200 weeks

The above are Accident Policies, the most liberal ever written, low cost guaranteed monthly income Policy. The policy provides that if the insured suffers permanent total disability, premium payments stop: Six months thereafter the company begins to pay the insured $432.75 per month for 20 years, if he lives disabled—then to continue such payments of $250.00 per month to the Beneficiary as long as she shall live, these monthly payments to be made for 20 years, or $60,000 certain if you live to the end of 20 years the Company will then begin to pay the insured $250.00 per month, which payments will be continued to him and also to the beneficiary as long as either one shall live—in any event for 20 years—or $60,000 certain. At the death of the insured, the Company will immediately pay the beneficiary $250.00 per month and continue such payments to be made for 20 years, or $60,000 certain. Has a high cash, loan, paid-up and extended term values clearly printed in the contract, is free from any restrictions as to residence, occupation, travel, or place of death. If the insured is living at the end of 20 years, and the need of the protection has been removed, he may accept any of the following options, cash, $43,264.00 or cash, $26,061.00, and policy fully paid up, to pay $250.00 per month to the beneficiary for life—$60,000 certain, or cash $25,061.00 and policy fully paid up, to pay $43,264.00 at death, or policy fully paid up to pay $108,775.00 at death, or life income to insured of $2,657.25 annually, age insured 21 years. Annual premium yearly for 20 years, $2,161.50, age beneficiary 49 years. May be changed to less age. The above policy will protect you and your beneficiaries through your lives. Policies are adjusted to more advanced ages. No man who can take the examination can afford to neglect the above proposition and be true to himself and family.

THE DAY IS COMING

Prudent people will be prepared, because they are making ready now. Like the squirrel which gathers up food in the summer and stores it for winter use, these prudent people are making savings out of the present high wages and high return on capital investment. The days of abundance are the days to prepare for a lean period. To save and save wisely is to save here, where one hundred cents on the dollar will be returned when you need it.

Following close upon the Smith
Four Million Campaign comes that of Mount Holyoke for Three Million, whose intensive campaign opens next Monday. Mrs. Louis W. Arnold of Waban is chairman of the Boston committee. Closely associated with her is Mrs. Herbert S. Kimball, also of Waban and another active club woman, who is president of the Boston
Mount Holyoke Alumnae association.
Miss Margaret McGill of the Newton High school is chairman for the city of Newton and other local alumnae will work in the different villages. There are about 1200 Mount Holyoke alumnae in the vicinity of Boston and $280,000 has been named as Boston's quota of the fund. A group of alumnae several of whom live in Newton are preparing a play, one of the Forty-seven Workshop plays, called "Three Pills in a Bottle," which will be given in Waban in April in aid of the fund. This will be re-

The women's colleges of the country as well as the men's are having their drives for funds and are carrying them on co-operatively rather than independently, that is, are pulling together, are combining upon methods of approach and in ways of publicity, emphasizing not the interest of one particular institution as opposed to another, but rather the great question of the women's education.
"Girls must be educated, girls must be educated," reiterated Mary Lyon almost one hundred years ago, as she went up and down the Connecticut Valley and back and forth through Massachusetts scouring every nook and cranny for funds with which to found her school. And Mount Holyoke Seminary (now college) was the result. Today even more insistently than in the 1830's is sounded the clarion call, "Girls must be educated," for the hope of the nation, may more, the hope of the world, lies in an educated womanhood as well as in an educated manhood. Let the people be as generous as they may.

ular meeting of the executive board at
New church parlors, Newtonville.

Newton Thrift Exposition

Each day the plans for the big Thrift Exposition, April 15, 16, 17, grow brighter and more alluring. The State Armory in West Newton is to be a bazaar of beauty, as well as a clearing-house for practical and helpful ideas. You will enjoy the artistic plan of the whole Exposition, together with its interesting component features. If you are going to build a home, if you are planning to redecorate a room, if you wish to investigate better ways of household operating, you will find these things at the Newton Thrift Exposition. The latest models in labor saving appliances will be demonstrated by Newton club women who have used the appliances in their own homes, and are willing to place their experience at your service.

If you want suggestions in the care of children, or "good management in the whole business of living," many different departments will consider Thrift in as many different aspects.
Health as the supreme thrift will be extensively featured. Baby hygiene, child welfare, prevention of accidents in streets and factories, are some of the exhibits planned. Conservation of natural resources, safe and sane financial investments, and various other matters will be presented. Whatever your special interest of the hour may be, you will find some phase of it waiting for you at the Exposition.

In addition to the exhibits, which will be open from 2 till 10 P. M. each day, some program will be offered.
There will be half hour talks on vital and timely subjects and a very beautiful Thrift Pageant, with gay music between events.

A large and representative committee under the able leadership of Mr.
Ernest Hermann are working up the Exposition, in which every citizen of Newton should be interested. Suggestions and questions may be telephoned to Mr. Hermann's office, N. W. 103, or to Mrs. J. C. S. Taber, thrift chairman of the Newton Federation, Tel. N. S.

"Know Your City"

For the closing of the course arranged jointly between the Newton Federation and the Welfare Bureau, a third organization, the Newtonville Woman's Club, is co-operating and most cordially invites all women of Newton to attend its meeting at Central Congregational church on Tuesday, March 16, at 2.45. A Symposium on "Know Your City" has been arranged by Mrs. Irving O. Palmer.
Mayor Childs will speak on "City Government"; Mrs. Celia Wellman, woman probation officer, on "The Court"; Miss Mabel Bragg, assistant superintendent of schools, "Public Health"; Mr. Ernest Hermann, superintendent of playgrounds, "Recreational Opportunities in Newton"; Rev.
M. H. Lichtner, "The Central Council for Social Activities." The last-named speaker, who is a newcomer to Newton, has had interesting experiences in work of this sort in Cleveland, Ohio.
The other speakers need no introduction to a Newton audience. Mrs.
Kenneth Hastings will give violin solos and tea will be served at the close.

Local Announcements

The third act of King Henry VI, Part I, will be the subject of study of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. C. Snow. Miss Alberta J.
Crombie will be in charge.

Mrs. B. W. Godsoe of Walnut street will be hostess for the meeting of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands on March 15.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. meets with Mrs. S. Edgar Whitaker of Pleasant street, Newton Centre, next Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Margaret Deland will lecture before the Newton Mothers' Club at the Congregational church, West Newton, on Monday, March 15, at 3 o'clock.

"Where Angels fear to tread" is the subject of the lecture to be given by Ralph Adams Cram at the meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club on Monday evening, March 15. Mrs.
Frederick E. Dowling will speak of the candidacy of Miss Georgia A. Baker, president of the Third district especially invited. Professor Alexander W. Rice will present the subject of
"The Place of Latin in Modern Education." Mrs. Irving O. Palmer will speak on "Thrift in Education."

On Thursday, March 18, at 8 P. M., in the Emerson school hall, Mrs.
Claude U. Gilson will give the club the second lecture in the course on Citizenship, her subject being, "How Cities are governed."

On Tuesday morning the Auburndale Review Club will have a lecture on Poland by Mr. Egis of Boston, who spent his early life in Warsaw. Mrs.
Thomas B. Scott, who will be the hostess for the second time this year, is opening the Missionary Home for the meeting.

Mrs. William C. Crawford speaks on current events before the Social Science Club next Wednesday morning.

Through the efforts of the Education Committee of the Woman's Club, Auburndale will have an exceptionally intellectual treat on Tuesday next, March 16th, at eight o'clock, in the auditorium of the Congregational Church when Dr. Joel Goldswaite will give a lecture. The public not only of Auburndale but of all the Newtons are cordially invited to hear the celebrated scientist. Dr. Goldswaite is not only a famous surgeon, but also a very pleasing speaker.

At the close of the evening a collection will be taken up for the benefit of the Scholarship fund which the Education Committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club is trying to establish.
A considerable fund has already been raised through the effort of this committee but much more is needed to put the undertaking on a firm basis. However, no one need stay away, because of not being in sympathy with this excellent work. No tickets of admission are necessary.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club considers itself very fortunate in having been able to secure Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, director of woman's organizations in Massachusetts of the Savings Division, of the government, to speak upon "Thrift" at its meeting in Mason school hall, at 10.30, Thursday, March 18. This will be an opportunity and all interested are cordially invited to attend.

On Thursday afternoon the Ladies' Home Circle holds its regular meeting in G. A. R. hall, Newtonville.

The regular meeting of the Newton Hospital Social Service League will be held in the New Church Parlors, Newtonville, on Monday, March 29th, at 3 o'clock.

NEWTON FEDERATION

"Beautiful," "wonderful," "splendid," each in turn has been used to charac-terize the presentation of Elijah at the meeting of the Newton Federation at the Technical high school on Wednesday afternoon, and if ever these terms were used appropriately, they can be in appreciation of this occasion. The tableaux, with great artistic skill in pose and in coloring of the costumes, the perfection of the music, both instrumental and vocal, the simple dignity of the reading of the text combined to make the production satisfying and uplifting. Had any of these failed, the whole would have failed, but as it was, nothing was left to be desired. All who had any sort of connection with it deserve the highest congratulation upon a perfect whole. The scenes depicted events in the life of Elijah with a running accompaniment of music from the oratorio, interspersed with the solos from it, while a descriptive reading accompanied each tableau, from the time he departs into the wilderness to that of his being carried into heaven by a chariot of fire, leaving his mantle to fall upon Elijah. The whole closed with the familiar trio, "Lift thine eyes," played by the strings.

Miss Mary E. Dwyer of Auburndale was in charge of the dramatic side of it, furnishing the costumes and posing the figures. Mr. Ralph Maclean directed the music and was assisted by a vocal quartet, including Mrs. S. W. Wilder, soprano; Mrs. Mabel N. Foote, alto; Mr. John E. Daniels, tenor; Mr. G. Robert Linger, bass; and also by a string quartet.
Mrs. W. G. Parmelee, first violin;
Miss Helen Chase, second violin; Miss Helen Haynie, viola; Mrs. Lillian Haynes Walker, cello. Mrs. W. O.
Hunt of Newtonville was the reader.
Those who had the parts in the tableaux were women selected from the different clubs of the Federation and it is impossible to give all their names, but the principal parts were taken as follows: Ahab, Mrs. H. E. Child; Jezebel, Mrs. Arthur Furbish; Obadiah, Miss Elizabeth Bartlett; Elijah, Miss
Florence N. Bridgman; Elshah, Miss Helen Cobb; the Widow, Mrs. A. H.
Norton; her little son, Barbara Edmonds; the angel, Mrs. Herbert Stearns; a messenger, Miss Miriam Drury; a manservant, Mrs. Fred W.
Jones. The two children in the scene with the Prophets of Baal and the people, were Carolyn and George Somers and none of the impersonators entered more into the solemnity of the occasion than they, holding their positions perfectly through a long, difficult pose.

At the business meeting which preceded the performance, Mrs. Abbot Rice presented the Legislative matters endorsed by the State Federation for consideration and action; all three were endorsed, as was also a resolution asking for a state law in line with the federal law for enforcement of national prohibition. The Legislative committee was given power to endorse in the name of the Federation a bill now pending providing for reforestation of waste lands in the state, if the committee finds after further study that the measure as drawn is a wise one.

A discussion of the measure to legalize amateur Sunday sports followed. Mrs. Celia Wellman, woman probation officer, and Mr. Joseph B. Jamieson, taking the affirmative and Mrs.
W. M. Mick and Mr. Harry W. Bas-
com, the negative.

Monday, March 22, 2.30 P. M. Education conference, Boston Public Library by invitation of the Fusklin Club. Clubs of the Third district especially invited. Professor Alexander W. Rice will present the subject of
"The Place of Latin in Modern Education." Mrs. Irving O. Palmer will speak on "Thrift in Education."

On the evening of March 24, the Newton Grade Teachers' Club will present the three-act play, "Anne of Old Salem." The scene being laid in the year 1692.

The teacher's taking part in the production are Miss Helen Kuntz, Miss Laura Baker, Miss Marion Lintz, Miss Marguerite Green, Miss Ida Scheib,
Miss Cecile Crandall, Miss Mary O'-
Neil, Miss Mary Higgins, Miss Grace
McCrory, Miss Elizabeth Hartshorne, Miss Jessie West, Miss Mabel Chase, and Miss Beatrice Walker. The acting manager is Miss Marion Bassett, stage manager, Miss Elizabeth Wakefield. Miss Florence Lewis has charge of the properties, and Miss Josephine Emerson of the costumes.

For the convenience of those on the south side of the city who wish to take the circuit train which reaches Newtonville at 8 o'clock, the play will not begin until quarter past eight.
It is hoped that a large and enthusiastic audience will greet this first dramatic attempt of the Newton Grade Teachers' Club.

Local Happenings

The Waban Woman's Club met in the Neighborhood Club House, on Monday afternoon. The business consisted of various reports and notices; and the following names were presented for the Nominating Committee, three of whom are to be elected at the annual meeting of the club in April: Mrs. C. A. St. Laurence, Mrs.
L. M. Cotton, Mrs. C. W. Elmer, Mrs.
R. J. Cram, Mrs. C. Y. Ferris, and Mrs. A. B. Harlow.

The program of the afternoon consisted of the reading of two plays under the direction of Mrs. W. W.
Lewis. Miss Rice read a paper on the life and works of Lord Dunsany and gave a resume of his play—"King Ar-gamenes and the Unknown Warrior" —which was later read by the following club members: Mrs. H. S. Kimball, Miss Grace Andrews, Mrs. H. M.
Holmes, Mrs. F. W. Johnson, Mrs. A.
C. Turner and Mrs. H. M. North.

A paper on "Lady Gregory and the Irish Plays" was read by Mrs. F. T.
Lewis. This was followed by a humorous play in Irish dialect by Lady Gregory—"Spreading the News." The parts in this play were read by Mrs.
Dana B. Jefferson, Mrs. C. Adrian
Sawyer, Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr.,
Mrs. Herbert R. Stearns, Mrs. Earle
E. Bessey, Mrs. William F. Lamont and Mrs. Joseph Congdon.

The were violin and cello solos by Misses Hilda and Emily Piser. Tea and sandwiches were served.
March 22nd will be Social Service Day.

The Social Science Club had an interesting and discursive address on Foreign Women in Industry by Mrs.
Davis R. Dewey of the State Board of Labor and Industry. Mrs. Dewey feels that there must be a closer understanding and sympathy between capital and the labor organizations in

HINTS FOR SPRING

The snow is going with big strides.
With winter's end in view.
And heavy clothing's cast aside.
For fresh ones bright and new.

When putting winter clothes away,
All germ life should be killed.
No soil or stains allowed to stay.
For without cleansing—they are filled.

The BAILEY PROCESS this will do.
They will come back both fresh and new.
To make you happy and content.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY BRAKE

Bigelow School

Miss Mirfield, formerly special assistant at Bigelow and later substitute at the Stearns School, has been appointed to take the place of Miss Grace V. O'Donnell who has resigned. Miss Lowe's is the banner class this week in the purchase of Thrift Stamps with a total of 17 buyers. 100 per cent of the class have been buyers of Thrift Stamps since September and their total value of stamps bought since that time is $298.25.

Several pupils in 8th Grade wrote essays on the subject, "The Benefits of Enlistment in the U. S. Army," in competition for the prize offered by the War Department.

Another snow battle on the playground this week.

Chaffin School

On Tuesday morning, March 9th, Miss Sally Lucas Jean, Director of the Child Health Organization, New York City, visited the school. Those girls of the cooking classes who availed themselves of the opportunity to hear Miss Jean speak at Technical High School Hall, felt well repaid.

The Seventh Grade is to hold a debate soon. The question is worded as follows: Resolved, that dogs are more useful than cats. Those on the affirmative side are Philippa Patey, Ralph Paterson, and Lotta Crowell, while the speakers on the negative side are Grace Taylor, Samuel Moore, and Ernest Adams. The judges will be selected later.

The declamation work is to be postponed until Friday, March 12. The judging is to be based upon phonics, expression, and choice of poem.

The Seventh Grade pupils are preparing a little play as a part of their study of the fruit grower's vocation. The idea was Philippa Patey's, therefore, she has full charge of the play. It is called "The Fruit Growers," and its purpose is to show the results to the consumer, of poor crops and poor transportation.

A delegation of Chinese men, consisting of twelve presidents of Teachers' Colleges in China, visited us on Monday, March 8th. They are in the United States for the purpose of studying the educational system, and were particularly interested in socialized recitation work. They heard lessons in Vocational Guidance in the Fourth, Sixth and Eighth Grades.

Mr. Murray, principal of the Vocational High School, gave the pupils of the Eighth Grade an interesting lesson in Vocational Guidance, on Tuesday, March 9th.

Burr School

The pupils of the 7th grade cooking class visited the Technical High School on Tuesday to hear a lecture given by Miss Sally Lucas Jean of New York who represented the Child Welfare Organization.

The 7th and 8th grade Current Events class is getting together a book of autographs. They have heard from several of our leading citizens, Vice President Marshall, Governor Coolidge, Thomas Edison, Charles Schwab, and Walter Hines.

The 8th grade are to hold a debate next Wednesday on the topic, "Resolved, that the League of Nations should have been accepted without reservations by the United States." The affirmative side will be led by Jack James, and the negative by Gladys Woodward.

Roger Walcott School

Ever since the Thrift Week Drive which was inaugurated on Washington's Birthday the keynote of the school has been to economize and save. Every inch of paper is being used and every minute of time utilized. Several War Savings Stamps have been bought and many new savings accounts started in the local banks. The eighth grade pupils have put into the bank or war savings stamps over ninety dollars as a result of this drive which was so much fun that the good work continues amazingly.

The best attendance for the past four weeks was easily claimed by Miss Emerson of the seventh grade. Sickness and storms offer no resistance now, however, and the race the coming month will be very keen.

The sixth grade which seemingly abounds with musical talent under the capable leadership of Miss McCarthy, presented a very informal musicale for the eighth grade boys and girls on Wednesday afternoon. Lorraine Phillips, Saville Davis, Mary Tilton, and Kent Allen did exceptionally fine work.

Miss Rice, our drawing supervisor, expressed herself as being particularly well pleased with the work in the lower grades done by Miss Wyman.

Stearns School

The Allstearns Club has voted to put on the play, "The Magistrate," the night of April 23 in Stearns School hall. Tryouts for parts were held Thursday and Monday nights.

The 8th grade class enjoyed the monthly industrial trip Friday afternoon. The immensity of the Hood Rubber plant in East Watertown was a treat to a number of the boys and girls who have brothers, sisters and fathers working there. The officials of the company were very considerate of the class and efficient guides were on hand promptly to guide the different groups through the factories. Every member of the class was impressed with the scale upon which every process of rubber shoe making is carried on. As one boy expressed it, "I never knew there were so many rubbers in the world." Tire making was interesting. Also, the reclaiming of old worn out tires, securing rubber from them hardly distinguishable from pure new material. A very inspiring trip was the unanimous verdict of the entire class.

The Girls' Club of the Stearns School held a very successful Character Party Tuesday evening, March 9th in the kindergarten of the Stearns School. Many and varied were the costumes, representing clowns, sailors, fairies, schoolboys and girls. Two of the club members were dressed in peasant costumes brought from France. During the evening dancing, peanut hunt and games were enjoyed. After which refreshments were served, consisting of sandwiches, cookies, ice cream and coffee.

The highest percent of attendance for the month ending March 5th was as follows: Miss Stoddard's class, Grade VII, 97.5 (and) for the highest percent in the Grammar Grades; and Miss Trask's class, leading the Primary Grades with 94.2. The desire for good attendance in the upper grades is stimulated by a reward in the form of a picture of the Capitol, which is hung in the class room; the lower grades receiving a beautiful colored picture of the "Pilgrims Going to Church."

Fessenden School

On Saturday last, the school, as well as the whole of eastern Massachusetts, was surprised by the worst storm of the winter. It followed a week of thawing and melting which had filled the slight depression in the golf course at the foot of the hill with slush and water. The boys were not surprised, therefore, upon investigating the day after the storm, to find a wonderful icepond formed in the most convenient place, both for skating and coasting, that the land about affords.

Tomorrow start the term examinations! This statement alone is enough to make any hard-working Fessenden student open his mouth with awe and close his eyes with fear; but when you add to this the fact that nearly every boy has spent at least two weeks in the infirmary under the influence of the "flu," or some other of Father Winter's choice diseases, thus missing an important amount of work, you can imagine the misgivings and forebodings with which the masters' frequent warnings are regarded.

Owing to the large number of the class in the infirmary, and the most unfavorable weather conditions, the Sixth Form Dance was postponed until the last Saturday in the Winter term. Arrangements have been made for dance cards, a feature which heretofore has been wanting, and the dance is expected to be the most successful yet enjoyed by any graduating class.

Horace Mann School

Selections from the work of Louisa Alcott were given by pupils of the 8th Grade on Friday. One of our number read the life of Louisa Alcott and others dramatized the play, entitled, "The Little Red Purse." A minute, characteristic of Louisa Alcott's time, was danced.

Grade 7 had the highest attendance record for the last four weeks, the percent being 92.3. Grade 8 was second, their percent being 91.8.

The school lunches are proving very profitable, for the majority of the 8th grade class have gained in weight since they started to take them. On March 8th, Florence McKoon and Dorothy Harkrader of the 7th grade gave a very interesting reflectoscope lesson on "Belgium."

Everyone in Grade 7 now owns Thrift Stamps. On March 3 100 per cent was reached.

The pupils of Grade 7 are writing original plays of various scenes from the American Revolution, which they have been studying in history. Committees have been chosen: Helen Spencer, Ruth Baker and Hope Hanley for the girls and Edward McCall, John Black and Thomas Gilligan for the boys.

Grade VI had its City Election Friday the 5th in connection with their study of Civics. The officers are as follows: Mayor, Loring Carley; City Clerk, Mary Quinn; Aldermen, Eleanor Tupper, Virginia Haskell, Alfred Church, Leonard Trowbridge, Mary Crough, Dorothy Dow, Katherine Dobyns, Police Committee, Frank Skelton, Street Committee, William Welch, Health Commissioner, Wallace White, Fire Commissioner, Marion Stickney, Playground Commissioner, Kenneth Merrill, School Commissioner, Phyllis Harrington.

Allen-Chalmers Schools, Inc.

The Allen Military School, recently incorporated under the educational institution's law as the Allen-Chalmers School, with the faculty and others as incorporators plans still further development next year. The people of Newton may not realize that this old school has broken all records during the past three years and has helped put Newton on the educational map. Its students come from as widely separated communities as Houlton, Maine, and Fort Worth, Texas.

Among the members of the school's new advisory board are former Senator John W. Weeks, Lieut. Governor Channing Cox, Thomas O. Marvin, Robert Lincoln O'Brien, Rev. William Allen Knight, D.D., John A. Potter, Attorney Bruce Wyman and others.

Several new scholarships of specific value are to be announced in the forthcoming catalog, many of which are to be restricted to citizens of Newton. Two full scholarships for day pupils will be awarded to the two boys between the ages of eleven and fourteen resident of Newton who shall be selected at a competitive examination, the judges of which will be a member of the Newton city government, an official or teacher of the public schools and a professor of a New England college. This examination will be held in May.

Four other scholarships to the value of $200 each yearly will be offered by the school trustees to applicants residing in Newton who can furnish proof of good character and more than ordinary academic promise.

Lasell

One of the most unique and delightful social functions of the year was the Junior-Senior dinner at the Woodland Park Saturday evening. The committee decorated the attractive dining room in a very artistic manner using the class colors orange and black; the favors, baskets and place cards all being worked out in these colors. Some very original and clever numbers were given by the members of the Junior Class, and at the close of the dinner the Copley-Plaza Orchestra furnished music for the dance. Among the guests of honor were Dr. and Mrs. Winslow, and a chosen few of the faculty.

Miss Minnie B. Mills of the American Collegiate Institute in Smyrna, Greece, gave one of the most appealing and interesting messages ever brought to the school from the Orient. The Greek, Hebrew and Armenian flags were draped on the platform and Miss Mills brought with her very interesting pictures of the new young women of the College; there being some three hundred and fifty students now enrolled.

On Friday afternoon the teams of Sargent and Lasell have a trial basketball game at Cambridge. It is too early to predict the outcome, but with all due courtesy to the opponents, the Lasell girls are hoping for a victory.

Nathan A. Tufts, the District Attorney, will be the speaker at the Vesper Service Sunday night. Attorney and Mrs. Tufts will be the guests of the school at dinner. The school feels especially honored and pleased as Mrs. Tufts is a former Lasell student.

NEWTON CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

Last Friday evening, the Girls' Triangular League Debating Team lost two titles or decisions in the debates with Brookline and Somerville. The latter team came to the Newton High Assembly Hall full of winning spirit, and then when Newton was awarded the losing end of the decision, Somerville was exceedingly triumphant. The question debated was, "Resolved that State Boards of Power and Supervision are preferable to the National Board." The same question was debated at the three meetings held that same night at Brookline, where Newton and Brookline contested, at Somerville, where Brookline and Somerville struggled and at Newton. Brookline won both of her debates. In the contest here, Helen Hardy, Clara Coutar and Grace Wright talked for Newton, and certainly did some fine arguing, but the judges decided Somerville has the edge.

The Girls' Basket Ball team defeated Watertown on Thursday, March 4, in the Newton Gym, by a score of 42-13. This victory was very much hoped for, because of the great loss which Newton suffered at the hands of Miss Winslow's school. This contest was full of excellent playing and when the final count was made, it could easily be seen that Newton had outplayed Watertown. Loretta Hughes a fast player for the home team, helped to bring the laurels into the hands of her fellow players by her great basket shots. Thursday, March 11, the Seniors and Sophomores battle for the school championship, and there seems to be ready assurance of an interesting contest. Lasell is the next regular contestant, and this school's aggregation plans to meet the Newton girls on Tuesday, March 23, 1920.

Wednesday, March 10, the announcement was made of the return of elections for Seniors Class Day officers. Robert Cowing was made Class Prophet, Winthrop Whitaker was made the Statistician for 1920, C. J. Spaulding the orator, and Mr. Underwood was selected as the person to whom the Newtonian of 1920 will be dedicated.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

On Tuesday afternoon, March 9, at half past two, in the assembly hall, Miss Sally Lucas Jean, Director of the Child Health Organization, New York City, discussed the question of measuring and weighing children, as well as proper food values. Besides this she presented the work of the general health campaign, as it is being carried on in progressive places, and showed the great importance of this work.

In the school hall on Wednesday afternoon, March 10, the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs presented tableaux from Elijah with vocal and instrumental music from the oratorio.

Muriel Stewart, a senior, has written an unfinished story, which was printed in the last issue of the "Dynamo." The pupils of the school are busily engaged in writing conclusions to this story, with the hope of winning the prize of a book, which has been offered by the "Dynamo," for the best conclusion handed in before March 31.

About five years ago Mr. Warren W. Oliver, a teacher in the Commercial Department, accepted a position in South High School, Minneapolis, Minn. as teacher of bookkeeping, arithmetic and penmanship. During the war he was in the service along the front lines, stationed at Camp Forrest, Ga., and upon his return to the South High School was made head of the Stenographic Department. Mr. Oliver has now again entered upon his duties in the Commercial Department of the Newton Technical High School in Mr. Cardwell's position.

The class of 1917 will hold a reunion in Dennison Hall, Newtonville, April 10.

The Teachers' Bookcase in the Library is being filled by the faculty with professional books, which will be of interest and an aid to them.

Rehearsals have already begun for the Senior play, "Tommy's Wife," which will be presented in the assembly hall April 30 and May 1.

On Monday, March 8th, the Chinese Educational Mission called at our school. They visited many of the different rooms and proceeded to take notes as they walked around the library. The typewriting rooms interested them very much judging from the way they looked at the different machines. They were entertained at luncheon in the Vocational School after they had inspected the building.

What the Flowers Tell.

Wild rose, loyalty; carnation, admiration; violet, modest strength; Easter lily, purity; lily of the valley, sweetness and modesty; rose, happy love; daisy, gentleness; water lily, influence; poppy, contentment; cosmos, hope; chrysanthemum, friendship; holy, triumph.

Some Never Learn That.

Young Mrs. Torkins says that if experience were as good a teacher as advertised, Charley would by this time have learned something about which horse to bet on.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. Henry J. Horn of Brookline, and Mrs. Lizzie E. Smith of Allston, were the hostesses at the matinee auction bridge party given at the Commonwealth Country Club, Tuesday, March 9th.

This is one of a series of card parties given for the benefit of the Fatherless Children of France.

On Tuesday evening, March 16th, Mrs. Edward W. Baker of Brookline, and Mrs. Charles F. Onthank of Chestnut Hill will be hostesses at the evening party for the same cause.

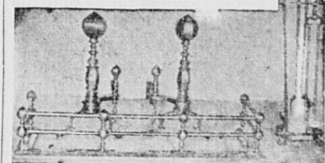

On Monday afternoon, March 8th, Barbara Bradfords, (Mrs. J. W. Ferguson Kennedy), gave the second lecture in the course, "Events of the Day." The subject was "Ireland and the Irish Question." The lecturer described Ireland as a "Land of false unities and false cleavages," showed by maps the racial differences, told of the work of Sir Horace Plunkett, of Sir Edward Carson and Roger Casement. The Irish Bond issue was described and some of the effects of the Irish Question upon American politics. This course is being given for the benefit of Devastated France.

Afternoon Tea was enjoyed by many of the ladies at the close of the lecture. The third lecture in the course will be given at the clubhouse on Monday afternoon, March 22nd at 3 o'clock.

The men's cafe at Hotel Westminster has been closed for two weeks while undergoing a transformation which, when completed, will be one of the coziest eating places in Boston. The installation of a rotisserie, of open grill, with revolving spits, in open view of the cafe, where a guest may select a steak, chop, lobster, chicken, or anything of the kind, watch the chef prepare and cook it, is one of the features of this attractive room. Glass-partitioned iceboxes where food will be temptingly displayed for selection; open stalls around the four sides of the cafe insuring semi-privacy, and increasing the seating capacity of the room, and other unique features will combine to make this corner cafe or grill of the Westminster a most desirable place for noonday luncheon or evening meal.

LARGE ENDOWMENT

The Newton Centre Theological Seminary at Newton Centre, Mass., will receive the lion's share of the amount allotted to the various theological seminaries of the Northern Baptist Convention for the next five years. No less than $650,000 is to be added to its endowment fund and $150,000 will be expended for its permanent equipment from the fund of $100,000,000 which the denomination is to raise in an intensive campaign from April 25 to May 2 as a part of the New World Movement.

The sums named exceed by many thousands the amounts allotted to the seminaries maintained by the Baptists at Berkeley, California; Kansas City and Rochester N. Y.

DEATH OF MRS. LOUISE HOWARD GILMORE

Mrs. Louise Howard Gilmore died Monday at her home in Waban, after a long illness. She was the wife of William Gilmore, formerly of the Gilmore Electric Company, whose plant was in South Boston, and who was subsequently disposed of to the General Electric. Mrs. Gilmore was born in Easton and was the daughter of Charles and Julia Ann Howard. She was married to Mr. Gilmore thirty-three years ago. Besides her husband, there are two surviving children, a daughter, Mrs. Guy B. McKinney of Waban; and a son, Howard Gilmore of Westboro.

Services were held at her late residence Thursday afternoon, the Rev. Charles H. Cutler officiating. Burial was at Mt. Hope.

order to combat the radical elements now trying to get the upper hand. Odd as it may seem the labor unions are the real conservative forces in the industrial world today.

On Thursday morning, March 4th the Newton Centre Woman's Club was indeed privileged in having the opportunity of listening to Miss Besse Talbot Salmon in her program of songs of "Old France." Miss Salmon has lived among the peasants of southern France that she might study at first-hand the customs, ideas, and religious quality of their folk songs.

She has succeeded in making most attractive a very scholarly program which she presents to her audience in an artistic manner. Her costumes are charming, ranging from the gorgeous gowns of the 16th and 17th centuries to the simple peasant costume, showing much thought and artistry. Her interpretations proved her to be a "diseuse" of high order and Newton may well be proud of having such an accomplished artist in its midst. This program Miss Talbot gave very recently in Washington and among her patronesses were Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Grayson and many ladies of the Cabinet.

A very pleasing musicale was given under the auspices of the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls, Monday evening in the auditorium. The musicians, Miss Mary Schenck, pianist, Miss Margaret Wilder, violinist, Miss Janet Fraser, cellist and Miss Ann Stanier, soprano, all of the New England Conservatory of Music were artists of merit. They showed true artistry in their choice of selections and in the rendition of both the trio and solo numbers.

Discovery of Asphalt.

Asphalt, with which so many roads are paved, was found by accident. For a century in Switzerland natural rock asphalt was used to extract the rich stores of bitumen it contained. It was noticed that pieces which fell from the wagons and were crushed by the wheels formed a marvelously fine road material.

Wonders of the Heavens.

People in the southern hemisphere see different stars, but there are some constellations which are visible at different times of the year in both hemispheres. If the earth axis kept always perpendicular to the plane of its orbit none of the northern constellations would ever be seen in the southern hemisphere, but as the axis inclines first one way and then the other, some of both sets can be seen at different times.

Morality the Object.

The end of all political struggle is to establish morality as the basis of all legislation. 'Tis not free institutions, 'tis not a democracy that is the end—no, but only the means. Morality is the object of government. We want a state of things in which crime will not pay; a state of things which allows every man the largest liberty compatible with the liberty of every other man.—Emerson.

Daily Thought.

Not what has happened to myself today, but what has happened to others through me—that should be my thought.—Frederick Deering Blake.

DRUG OF MARVELOUS POWER

Bayard Taylor's Description of Sensations Under the Influence of Hashish is a Classic.

Hashish may be reckoned one of the most classic of all intoxicants. Herodotus, the "Father of History" speaks of its use among the ancient Scythians, and it was doubtless the drug referred to by Homer as "the assuager of grief" in the house of Menelaus. Bayard Taylor's account of his sensations on first taking it at Damascus is memorable. It put him in a state of mental exaltation where in all sensations as they arose suggested more or less coherent images in a double form, one physical, the other spiritual, and the latter revealing itself in a series of indescribably brilliant metaphors. A few minutes after taking the drug he found himself at the foot of the Great Pyramid.

A wish instantly transported him to its summit, far above the palm groves and wheat fields of Egypt. Then, looking down, he observed that the pyramid was not built of stone, but of gigantic blocks of "plug" tobacco! For a moment he writhed in a perfect paroxysm of laughter at this ludicrous discovery. Then his senses were ravished with delicious perfumes, and there came to his ears divine melodies and harmonies such as Beethoven might have dreamed. Time and space seemed vastly extended, so that a minute seemed an hour and an hour a year, while his friends in the same room with him seemed miles away, as though he were viewing them through a reversed telescope.

ANIMALS POINT OUT RICHES

Innumerable Instances Where Prospectors Have Been Aided in Search for Earth's Treasures.

A very large gold nugget is said to have been found the other day in a wild bee's nest in Australia. The story seems likely enough, for Australia has yielded all the really monster nuggets to date—the "Welcome" weighed 2,195 troy ounces and was valued at $43,500—and one of the biggest was discovered by a prospector who stubbed his toe against a "projecting angle" of it.

On the Wind river Indian reservation, in Wyoming prospectors look for grains of gold brought to the surface of the ground by ants. And in Arizona anthills are a common source of excellent gemstones which are fetched to the surface by the industrious insects.

During the war we had grievous need of antimony to harden shrapnel bullets. The latter are of lead, but require the addition of 15 per cent of antimony to enable them to hold their shape when the containing shell explodes.

Accordingly, the government sent out experts to look for deposits of the metal, and the most productive antimony mine that we now have in this country was located by the help of a badger, earth thrown out of the creature's burrow showing a glint of the precious stuff.

TNT Wins Contest With Dynamite.

A contest was recently staged between 40 per cent dynamite and trinitrotoluene, and the latter won, says the Scientific American. Two concrete piers had to be blasted out and this gave an opportunity for a comparative test of the two explosives, with the result that 14.9 cubic feet of concrete were removed per pound of TNT, and only 14.1 per pound of dynamite.

TNT is no doubt destined to be used extensively in engineering work, as it is less sensitive than dynamite, but greater precautions must be taken to ventilate after a shot, owing to the large amount of carbon monoxide which is one of the principal products of combustion.

More Than Master of Languages.

Wilfred Stevens, one of the chief translators of the state department at Washington, speaks 33 languages, although he has never been outside of the United States and has never been to college. One of the languages is an invention of his own, which he says is an improvement over Esperanto. Among his list of languages are Chinese, Japanese, Persian, Turkish, Armenian, Arabian, Bulgarian, Croatian, Russian, German, Portuguese, French, Spanish, Italian, Yiddish, Swedish, Norwegian, Dutch, Hungarian, Finnish, Ancient Greek, Latin, Hebrew, Polish and Rumanian. He has also mastered three so-called universal languages—Esperanto, Ido and Ufano, the latter his own idea.—Detroit News.

Newtonville Women's Club Holds an Interesting Symposium at Central Church

Splendid plan! Splendid work! Splendid result! Such phrases apply to the conception and execution of the Symposium on "Know Your City", conducted by Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, at the Newtonville Women's Club last Tuesday. While this was a regular meeting of the club, it was an appropriate closing to the series of meetings under the auspices of the Welfare Bureau and of the Newton Federation, and was, therefore, open to all clubs. The large attendance overflowed the lecture-room, necessitating the use of the main auditorium of the church. Mrs. Kenneth Hastings gave several short violin pieces to open the program. Mrs. Hastings always delights her audience with her clear, facile technique, and her musical perception. Mrs. Palmer then introduced the subject of the afternoon. So much of entertainment as well as the information was crowded into the next hour and a half, it has been suggested that the entire program should be published and steps to that end may be taken in the near future.

In explaining the purpose of the meeting, Mrs. Palmer said that the old phrase "Woman's place is in the home" has come to mean "Woman's place is home"—that is, wherever woman is, there is cleanliness, order, good behavior, companionship, satisfactory conditions for work and play. She reminded the women that, whether they wished it or not, the time is at hand when they must take an equal share with men in the government of the city and it is quite necessary that they know how to do it wisely and well. She then introduced Mayor Childs, whom she called the friend of every person in Newton.

Mayor Childs said that Newton was first called Nonantum, an Indian name, meaning a Place of Rejoicing, which presupposes a city clean, healthful and safe. He then described the form of government of the city, its methods and departments, clearly and concisely, characterizing the mayor as "the man to blame if anything goes wrong anywhere." He said, in closing that he considered a city not built of schools and education, or labor and industry, or patriotism and good government, but of the character of its citizens, who must be mentally sound, physically strong and spiritually alive.

Mrs. Celia Wellman, the Woman Probation Officer, spoke of her work in helping the women and children who come before the court, to think of law and order as beneficial to themselves and of all moral agencies as their friends. She made a strong plea for Sunday sports as an aid in preventing idle hands finding mischief to fill idle hours.

Mrs. Palmer gave some brief items stressing the great need of better accommodations and better equipment for the free dental clinic and the importance of extending the "health crusades" for daily health habits, which have proved successful in some of the schools.

Mr. Ernest Hermann, city Superintendent of Recreation Grounds, presented his work with high praise for the city in its attitude toward the importance of supervised play, and its willingness to provide land and financial support for that purpose. He described what has been done, and touched upon plans for the future, convincing his listeners that the money is wisely expended and the superintendent wisely chosen.

The last speaker of the afternoon, Rev. M. H. Lichter, who has been connected with a similar work in Cleveland, Ohio, gave a very clear and inspiring presentation of the plan and purpose of the Central Council of Social Activities, which has just been organized.

He said that the great peril of having forty-six or eight different social organizations acting independently, is that there may be a sort of social St. Vitus' Dance, or, more seriously, such a lack of co-ordination of energy that nervous activity instead of intelligent service will result. By means of a clearly designed chart he illustrated the possibilities of the new plan—showing the Welfare Bureau, the Newton Hospital, City Commissions, Industrial Welfare, Settlements, Clubs, Churches, as radiating lines from the Central Council, with its budget, its publicity, its social planning, its registrations, and its community social programs, which will include health, delinquents, the family, the morale, citizenship and the child.

These subjects will be discussed by the delegates (two from each organization) each using the information which has been obtained through experience in his special group, to throw light on the problem under consideration. During his address, Mr. Lichter declared himself unalterably opposed to any legislation which would legalize commercial baseball or other sports on Sunday, but heartily in sympathy with a movement which had as its object the making of the Sabbath Day a free, healthful, happy day for all people, everywhere. Very interesting charts and photographs illustrating all the social agencies in the city, great or small, were artistically arranged about the lecture room, and added greatly to the understanding of what is being done in Newton to make it "A Place of Rejoicing."

Tea was served by the Executive Board of the club.

PROBLEMS OF POVERTY

Robert W. Kelso, Commissioner of Public Welfare Speaks to Unitarian Club

Mr. Robert W. Kelso, Commissioner of Public Welfare for Massachusetts, spoke before the Unitarian Club at Channing Church, Newton, on Wednesday evening.

He spoke of the seriousness of the problem before the state, stating that $14,000,000 was spent yearly by the cities, towns, and state for charitable purposes. This is approximately $9 a head for every man, woman, and child in the state. In addition, there are 1200 incorporated charities giving relief to about 140,000.

As to the causes, Mr. Kelso said that 16 1/2 per cent. of those in the insane asylums of the state are there as the result of alcohol. This number is lessening under prohibition; 12 1/2 per cent. are in the asylums as a result of venereal poisoning. The children born under such conditions are state charges until death. There are 2700 feeble minded, one-sixth of the state—about one-half of these are institutional cases, the other half might live in the community if properly cared for.

In regard to the problem of the feeble-minded three facts have been proved—feeble-mindedness is hereditary, it never develops in adult life, when both parents are feeble minded the children are always feeble minded. In a study of 300 feeble minded families, each one having one feeble minded member, it was discovered that over four-fifths of the members had at least five physical handicaps besides feeble-mindedness.

Mr. Kelso said that in his opinion the state must attack this problem at its source, and must protect feeble-minded mothers from being a menace to the community.

Where a state takes care of the feeble-minded children and allows the parents to go free as in Kentucky, it is passing vicious legislation which must be remedied.

We are fast seeing that a man's right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness must be determined by the public good. That 47 per cent of our youth between the ages of 21 and 31 were ineligible for the draft because of serious physical defects, is an indictment of the community. These things should not be.

The time is soon coming, according to the speaker, when the state will be forced to take care of the feeble-minded.

SNOW AND ICE

Street Department Has Had Some Difficult Problems This Winter

The winter of 1920 has proven to be the worst with which the Street Department organization has had to contend.

On Care of Snow, the total amount of money expended from January 1st to March 13th, inclusive, is $54,675.94. The Fire Department took over a number of the Street Department horses, which left about 45 city horses.

All combined man and horse power of the three divisions of the Street Department, together with motor trucks, and at times about 40 hired horses, were constantly on the work.

About 250 employees had to care for the snow and ice, the collection of ashes and rubbish, also the storm water, and the gutters and catch-basins. Altogether the department looked after about 225 miles of accepted and unaccepted streets, 49 sidewalk plows made 23 different trips. One trip with all the sidewalk plows covered about 450 miles and our 23 trips covered approximately 10,350 miles.

For road breaking purposes, the City has two heavy motor trucks with Champion scrapers, also eight four-horse teams with sleds and plows.

The vast amount of snow greatly hindered the work of the contractor who has the collection of garbage, Mr. Mague, as a good many times the streets were almost impassable.

We also had to transport coal from the different coal yards to a number of the public schools, including the Classical and Technical High Schools.

The three-alarm fire that we had at Newton last week brought out every piece of fire apparatus in the City. They all reached there without accident to machines or men.

The present rate of wages paid employees averages about $4.14 per day for the regular eight hours work. For all time worked before 7 A. M. and after 4 P. M. and also on Sundays and holidays, all employees in the City receive time and a half.

The different units of the department, including the supervising force, the office force, and laborers and mechanics have proven themselves to be nearly 100% efficient by their fidelity, training and loyalty.

From Friday to Monday last, the department had about 36 calls from the public.

AN INTERPRETATION

Of Mr. Closson's Paintings by Rev. Henry H. Crane

It was, indeed, a privilege for those who were able to defy the weather to hear, last Friday night, the Rev. Henry H. Crane interpret in his masterly way the two paintings by William Baxter Closson which hang at the front of the Methodist Church.

Of the first, "The Spirit of Sacrifice" represented by an angel with averted face, he spoke as follows: "What more fitting symbol to bespeak the sublimity of the Spirit of Sacrifice than this celestial figure radiant with effulgent glory of divinity. The potent and majestic wings of this heavenly being, wings vibrant with life and power, are held captive by strong, firm hands, lest by their movement, they might give gratuitous aid to that unseen Power that lifts the figure, the resplendent Spirit of Sacrifice, into the very presence of Deity. As it rises, perfectly poised, through the gold-blue sky of heaven-drawn as by some divine law of gravitation to the heart of the sovereign, sacrificial God, suffused by the radiance of the Divine Presence—even at this supreme moment, the Spirit of Sacrifice appears utterly oblivious of Self, all unconscious of its glory, and its goodness, for the head is thrown back over the right shoulder as if calling words of hope and inspiration to mortals left behind. From the lips of the averted, haloed head there seems to fall the words of the poet, Oxenham: 'God's in His heaven! Are you broken, heart-sick, weary? God's in His heaven!'"

Of the second picture, "The Cost of the New Day," which represents a battle field after a battle with destruction, desolation and death everywhere, the earth adorned with rude crosses, a few tattered flags of various nations of the Allies visible, helmets hung on bayonets or on bits of sticks—markers of the rude, rough, graves of the heroic dead, he spoke as follows: "With eyes held to the ground, one sees only havoc, ruin, utter waste—and there is no meaning for all to be found—until one lifts the eyes to the heavens. The meaning, the significance of the great sacrifice is then made known, for a NEW DAY IS DAWNING. Yonder

ALDERMEN MEET

Mr. George M. Angler of Waban Elected Member of School Committee

Ex-Alderman George M. Angler of Waban was unanimously elected last Monday evening at the joint convention of the aldermen and school committee to the vacancy in the school committee caused by the death of Mr. Edward H. Ruby of Ward 5.

Only two members of the school committee appeared for the convention, Chairman Edward E. Kent and Mr. Salmon W. Wilder. President Harriman of the aldermen acted as chairman and City Clerk Grant as the clerk. Mr. Angler was nominated by Mr. Kent and received all of the 20 votes cast.

The regular session of the aldermen followed, President Harriman resigning the chair to Vice-President Forknall for the remainder of the evening. Aldermen Madden, Rogers and Blake were the only members absent.

Attorney General J. Weston Allen appeared in favor of granting the petition of the Middlesex Stations Trust for permit to keep and sell 3,000 gallons of gasoline near the corner of Beacon and Walnut street.

Mr. Joseph Congdon was in favor of laying out of Carlton road at Waban under the betterment act saying that people from 40 houses used Carlton road as an outlet to Beacon street. Mr. H. N. Matthews also spoke in favor of Mr. H. C. Short opposed the work as he had a large frontage on the street which was of no use to him and he didn't want to pay betterments upon it.

Mr. W. M. Whitman said he had a corner lot with a large frontage on Carlton road and thought it a bad time to do this kind of work on account of high prices for labor and material.

No one appeared on locating an Edison pole on Prospect terrace and it was granted. No one appeared on petition of the Newton Highlands Garage to increase its gasoline storage to 1080 gallons at 151 Walnut street.

The mayor sent in a large number of communications, recommending $34,000 bonds for reconstruction of Parker street, $9000 for Winchester street and $5225 Nahant street of which $5000 was to be bonded, recommending increases of $400 each for clerks in City Hall, suggesting the advisability of changing the tax limit, favoring $4000 for continued tests for additional water supply, recommending $747 for cost of improving the church for use of American Legion and $900 for maintenance, recommending that widow of John P. Cotton be paid balance of salary as fireman, recommending $200 for inspection of elevators, recommending amendments to Plumbing ordinance and sending in request of Planning Board for $4000 for printing its report.

Petition of Phillips Byfield, T. Wallace Travis, James W. French, and R. J. Burns were granted auctioneer licenses, Fred F. Prior, Monadnock road, the Holland System, on Dexter road and Hall street, R. H. Barnes on Bowdoin street and E. B. Frink on Channing road asked for garage permits, the Edison Co. was granted attachments on Prospect terrace, Mrs. Lucia Antonellis asked for increase in Workmen's compensation, Patsy DeLuco was granted a truck license; a surface drain was requested in Central avenue and Prescott street and concrete sidewalks were wanted on Windermere road, a hearing being ordered on the last matter.

The Finance committee reported no action necessary on three matters, that of $500 for temporary clerks for the City Treasurer on increasing salary of Plumbing Inspector and on increasing salary of clerks in City Hall. The first matter was accepted without debate, but the next two items caused long discussion.

Alderman Young pointed out that the Plumbing Inspector of Brookline receives $250 salary. Newton pays but $2100 and the journeyman plumber under him receives $44 per week while

WHAT THE GOVERNMENT IS DOING FOR YOU

We have cause in every way to feel proud of our country, but we are as a nation too little informed as to the activities and actual benefits of our Government. To remedy this situation locally, we have secured the exclusive right to distribute a series of attractively illustrated folders and booklets in which are given new and interesting facts about Our Government and how we all share its beneficent influence.

We will gladly send one of this set each month to those who will request it, and as a permanent container for this valuable information, we will present a substantial brown and gold portfolio upon personal call at this Institution. No obligation.

DEATH OF MR. BRIDGE

Mr. Josiah G. Bridge, president of the Bridge-Baxter Co., died of heart disease Sunday at his home, 62 Maple street, Newton. He was born sixty-eight years ago, and for nearly forty years had been connected with the leather business in Boston. He was a member of the Twentieth Century Club and was prominent in the affairs of the Unitarian Church. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Edith Andrews Bridge, and two step-children, Mrs. Nelson C. Works, of Cleveland, O., and Albert Phinney of Newton.

Services were held at Channing Church Tuesday at 2 o'clock the Rev. Harry Lutz officiating.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Louise J. Goring late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon itself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. MISS WHITING

A Tribute to the Memory of Miss Anna M. Whiting

"I cannot say, and I will not say That she is dead. She is just away. With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand She has wandered into an unknown land."

And left us dreaming how very fair It needs must be, since she lingers there.

Think of her still as the same, I say. She is not dead—she is just away."

To know Miss Whiting was to love her. Her sweetness of nature, sincerity and directness of purpose, and her vital interest in individuals as well as causes, endeared her to a large circle of friends.

It is not possible to enumerate the many organizations in which she was interested and had taken an active part. The list is a long one and includes nearly every form of philanthropic and charitable work, everything indeed, for the benefit of humanity. She was especially interested in all efforts for the welfare and happiness of the children.

As one of the directors of the Pomroy Home for Girls she was almost indispensable, giving freely of her time and energy whenever it was needed.

When the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross was organized Miss Whiting opened a work room in her own home for the convenience of the neighborhood, and for two years personally superintended and assisted in the making of many hundreds of garments. And almost her very last work on earth was taking up this work again in response to an urgent appeal last December for the French and Belgian Refugees.

In Channing Church which she had attended for many years, she was a tower of strength.

About this time one year ago when a group of twenty women met together to consider the formation of a community club, it was largely due to the enthusiasm and untiring efforts of Miss Whiting that the undertaking was so successful. It is impossible to measure her faithful service, which was to her always a service of joy.

Her standard was nothing less than the best, her interest was unflinching and her loyalty unchangeable.

But above and beyond all was the spirit of good cheer and kindness which was shown to everyone and under all circumstances. She never spoke unkindly of any one, and met all with the same friendly smile and word of greeting. And she left us as she had lived with us, "greeting the unknown with a cheer."

So, while we mourn her loss, shall we not also have a spirit of thankfulness for the inspiration of her earnest, helpful life.

May we not think of her as of "the rose that climbs our garden wall, to blossom on the other side?"

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY

Out-of-Door Books

"Was the author inspired by his subject?" was one of the three tests which Prof. Dallas Lore Sharp, in speaking before the New England Associates of School Libraries on Out-of-Door books, said must be applied to determine the true value of books on natural history. His other two tests are "Is this book absolutely true to the facts?" and "Is this book good literature?"

Prof. Sharp spoke especially of Isaac Walton's "Complete Angler," which has always been a nature classic. Bradford Torrey's "Footing it in France," which is a book which is but slightly known, should be read by all who love the out-of-doors. All of John Muir's volumes are full of wonderful descriptions of natural scenery. John Burroughs, well-known to all, is another nature lover, whose books breathe with the freshness of the out-of-doors. All of Ralph Waldo Emerson's essays are a finished product and show the author's supreme love of everything pertaining to natural history. Thoreau's "Walden Pond" is another worth while book.

To acquaint the boys and girls with the wonders of the open road the "How-to-Know-it" series have proved most useful. In this series the ferns and the mosses, the flowers and the plants, the birds and the animals are all described with much child interest. Prof. Sharp emphasized the fact that in giving animal books to children it was most necessary to distinguish in the child's mind between folklore and natural history. The best type of folklore in American literature are Joel Chandler Harris' "Uncle Remus stories" and no boy should grow up without having them read to him.

Emphasis also was given that it was desirable to live out-of-doors in order to become a lover of nature, but if this was impossible, as with most of us it is, then read some of these wonderful books written by men who have been inspired by nature itself.

In speaking of Prof. Sharp, who himself has written fascinating and entertaining nature essays, it is said that "other naturalists have developed the philosophical or scientific side of nature study, but that he has developed the human side and done it with incomparable richness of humor."

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. Edward W. Baker of Brookline, and Mrs. Charles F. Onthank of Chestnut Hill were the hostesses at a party given on Tuesday night for the benefit of the Fatherless Children of France.

The third lecture in the course now being given for the benefit of the Fatherless Children of France at the Commonwealth Country Club will take place at the Club house next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. William R. Peck and Mrs. Payson T. Lowell will be the hostesses on Tuesday, March 23, at the matinee auction bridge party to be held at the clubhouse in aid of the Fatherless Children of France.

On Monday afternoon, March 22, at 3 o'clock, Mrs. J. W. Ferguson Kennedy, (Barbara Bradford), will give the third lecture in the course on "Events of the Day." Mrs. F. E. Shepard will be the hostess of the afternoon.

—MAJESTIC THEATRE—"The Magic Melody" the musical masterpiece of Sigmund Romberg, well known composer of "Maytime," "The Blue Paradise," "Monte Cristo, Jr.," "Sindbad" and every "Passing Show" since 1914, came to the Majestic Theatre for a limited run of four weeks beginning last Monday, March 15, direct from a run of six months at the Shubert Theatre, New York, where it broke all house records, even those established by Romberg's "Maytime." In costumes, scenery and scenic effects, "The Magic Melody" shows an utter disregard for cost. The lavish hand of the famous artist, Willy Pogany of the Metropolitan Opera House is entirely responsible for this portion of the pretentious production. The second week begins next Monday, March 22nd.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Dr. George J. Fisher, Deputy Chief Scout Executive, was the guest of the Norumbega Council, and the Governor Board of the Greater Boston Council, last Tuesday. Dr. Fisher first started his busy day with a conference in the morning with Mr. R. N. Berry, the New England Field Executive. This was followed by a luncheon given him by the Governing Board at the Union Club. In the afternoon he held an informal conference with the Scout Executives of the nearby towns. In the evening, he was the guest of James A. Stafford, president of the Norumbega Council. Mr. Stafford invited the staff officers and scoutmasters of the Norumbega Council to this dinner. At eight o'clock, Dr. Fisher addressed a meeting of various scout officials, in Jacob Sleeper Hall of Boston University. Dr. Fisher made an inspiring address to the large audience present. Besides the address of Dr. Fisher, Mr. Terry, and Mr. Walter Brooks spoke. Mr. James C. Irwin, Scout Commissioner, was in charge of the meeting.

Troop 1 is planning to hold a Court of Honor next Tuesday night, with several new applicants for membership in the troop, and a number of scouts who wish to advance in rank. Mr. Walter J. Ross, an expert on wireless, talked to the scouts of Troop 5 last Friday night. Mr. Ross was a Navy operator in radio during the war, and the scouts found his talk most interesting.

TROOP 7 SCOUT NEWS

Thirty-nine boys answered Troop 7's roll call at "Assembly" in the Congregational Church, West Newton, last Friday night. A cracker-jack drill was in order, led by Assistant Scoutmaster Robert Perry. The applicants to our troop now number a dozen and Mr. Wales had his hands full with this group of Young Americans. Troop 7 is keenly interested in the Radio Club which our Scout Executive, Mr. Talbot, has recently formed. All are proud and rejoice that Phil Hoyt, a first-class scout and patrol leader of our troop was elected President of the Radio Club. In the boxing matches last Friday, Gus Gadsden, Elliot Smith, and Phil Hoyt were crowned victors by the judges. Boxing is becoming mighty popular in our troop and we now have youngsters of all classes ready to challenge scouts from other troops in our Council.

DEATH OF MR. BEATTY

Mr. Joseph R. Beatty, a well known resident of Newtonville, died last Sunday evening at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston. Mr. Beatty who was the manager of the Fairbanks Company of Boston, slipped down on the sidewalk some three weeks ago and injured his arm. He was taken to the hospital, where other complications were found and an operation deemed necessary. He was born in Philadelphia, January 27, 1863. His connection with The Fairbanks Company started in 1896 in Philadelphia, and has continued since 1902 as manager of the company's Boston store. During these eighteen years of service he developed the sales from a small volume to a yearly business of more than a million and a half.

He was identified with the Masons as a member of Dalhousie Lodge, Gethsemane Commandery, K. T., and Aleppo Temple, and was a member of the Boston Athletic Association, the City Club, the Exchange Club, Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Brae-Burn Country Club, The Albemarle Golf Club and the Palm and Oil Golf Club. He leaves a widow and one son, Mr. Joseph J. Beatty.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon from his late home on Lowell avenue, Newtonville, and Rev. Richard T. Irving rector of St. John's Church, officiated. The burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

MAJESTIC THEATRE—"The Magic Melody" the musical masterpiece of Sigmund Romberg, well known composer of "Maytime," "The Blue Paradise," "Monte Cristo, Jr.," "Sindbad" and every "Passing Show" since 1914, came to the Majestic Theatre for a limited run of four weeks beginning last Monday, March 15, direct from a run of six months at the Shubert Theatre, New York, where it broke all house records, even those established by Romberg's "Maytime." In costumes, scenery and scenic effects, "The Magic Melody" shows an utter disregard for cost. The lavish hand of the famous artist, Willy Pogany of the Metropolitan Opera House is entirely responsible for this portion of the pretentious production. The second week begins next Monday, March 22nd.

BURGLAR SENTENCED

On the charge of assault with intent to murder, Patrolman Henry Loughlin of the Newton police force, Clifford H. King was sentenced Wednesday to serve from six to eight years in the state prison by Judge O'Connell in the Superior Court at East Cambridge. Early in the morning of Dec. 19 Patrolman Loughlin found five young men in the act of looting the tailor shop of Smith Bros. in Newtonville. It is claimed that King fired a shot which struck the policeman in the shoulder. All escaped at the time, but were later apprehended through information given by the chauffeur, Jack Pezrow, who was placed on probation today. James Madam was given six months in the House of Correction. Charles Gardner and Gabriel Porcellio will be sentenced later.

SCHOOL LUNCHEES

The following letter was sent recently to the parents of pupils in the Newtonville district:—

We feel that nearly all pupils will receive benefit from eating a light lunch between ten and half past each school morning. Some children now bring lunches, but many others do not who would be better off physically, and in a more alert condition mentally if they had them also.

After careful consideration we have decided to institute lunches for all Clafin pupils whose parents care to pay the actual expense which would be involved. A child will be supplied with a glass of milk and two crackers.

The milk costs fifteen cents ($1.50 per quart and each quart contains five glasses, so that the cost of five glasses per week will be fifteen cents ($1.50). For two cents more we anticipate we can supply each child with two crackers per day. The milk will be brought to the school directly from the farm each morning.

As each quart contains five glasses we can supply any number of the children provided that the total number of these children is a multiple of five.

Parents who wish to take advantage of this arrangement may do so by signing and detaching the lower part of this page and returning it to me at the Clafin School.

F. F. CARR, Principal.

The idea met with vast approval and hardly anyone who cared for milk refused to take advantage of the offer. This district is the only one in the city of Newton which has milk lunches.

Before the letters were sent out much time was spent on considering several points. The first question that came into the minds of the principal and his assistants was: what shall the lunches be? Knowing the tremendous food value of milk, it was agreed to have milk the base of the lunch. It was then remembered that to some, plain milk would be rather distasteful, so it was decided to serve two crackers with each cup of milk.

Next came the question as to the kind of milk we should purchase and who the milkman should be. After consulting the Board of Health it was decided to purchase the pasteurized milk and then there could not possibly be any question as to its purity.

Then came the task of finding a milkman and that question was answered by one of the large milk corporations in Boston. Paper cups seemed to be the easiest and most sanitary way of serving and these the corporation were only too glad to furnish as an advertisement. Crackers were secured at wholesale from S. S. Pierce & Company.

After all the arrangements had been made the letters were sent home and the working out of the plan began about the first of February.

As was promised in the letters, the milk is delivered directly from the farm each morning, and reaches the school building between 8.30 and 9.00 A. M.

It is then delivered at the different rooms by two boys under the supervision of a teacher. Upon arriving at the different rooms the bottles are placed beside the radiators because it is thought unwise to serve the milk icy cold.

At recess the children taking the milk take seats on one side of the room. In the upper grades the older girls do practically all of the serving. Two girls are assigned to the tasks of shaking, cleaning and opening the bottles. A third girl is preparing the crackers for serving, by placing them in a basket and passing up and down the aisles, stopping at each desk where the consumers take them. During this same period of time a fourth girl is passing the paper cups which are sent in large pasteboard cartons. When everything is in readiness the teacher pours the milk and it is drunk by the pupils.

Every possible precaution is taken to do everything in the best and most sanitary way.

The proofs of the success of this plan are many and varied but the most important is the decided gain in weight, some children having gained from five to eight pounds during the month of February.

In the district about six hundred fifty (650) quarts per week are consumed and it is hoped that the amount will increase as time goes on.

Altogether it is working out most successfully and everyone is more than satisfied.

LIBRARY NOTES

The "Boston News Bureau," published by C. W. Barron, a ready daily financial publication, is to be found in the reading room at the Public Library. Consult it.

Have you read the following, published twenty-five years ago. Charles Follen Adams' Leedie Yauco Straus.

DuMaurier's Tribby. Stevenson's Amateur Immigrant. Townsend's Chimmie Fadden. Parkhurst's Our fight with Tammany.

At the time of publication the Philadelphia Board of Education decided that "Tribby" may be kept in the library but in the "locked cases" only. A new edition of the Encyclopedia Americana is being published in thirty volumes. The library has already received twenty-six of these which are now on the shelves of the Reference Room.

There will be a Bird Talk illustrated by 50 colored slides from the Audubon Society at the Public Library next Saturday at 10.30 in the place of the usual study hour.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE—At the Boston Opera House, last Monday evening, F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest offered their extravaganza, "Chu Chin Chow," an animated fable of ancient Bagdad, with its mighty cast and ensemble of three and the fourteen bewildering scenes of Oriental splendor. "Chu Chin Chow," originally written and produced at His Majesty's Theatre, London, by Oscar Asche on August 31st, 1916, is still playing to capacity houses and the American production seen in Boston is an exact duplicate of the famous London equipment, which was replenished from every angle for the jubilee performance recently given to celebrate the longest run of any attraction in the history of world's theatricals. The Comstock Gest offering has just completed another phenomenal run at the Century Theatre, New York, and comes to Boston for a first out-of-town showing of the new edition. The second week begins next Monday, March 22nd.

EDITORIAL

The police raid at Nonantum is evidence that Newton won't stand for "jakey" in any form.

$4000 for printing 200 copies of the report of the Planning Board is quite a sizeable item. Let us hope that the report is worth the money.

The action of the Newtonville Women's Club in holding a symposium on "Know Your City" ought to be followed in every village of Newton. Too little is known of what our public officials are doing or are supposed to do. When things go wrong, there are many to complain, but few take the trouble to inform themselves about the real facts of the matter in question. Information never hurt anyone. Let there be plenty of opportunities to obtain it.

The city is to be heartily congratulated on the election of ex-alderman George M. Angier of Waban as a member of the school committee. The great difficulty in our School department has been the evident failure of the School committee and the city government to co-operate, of which the recent squabble about salaries of City Hall clerks is an illustration. Mr. Angier as a recent member of the Aldermen, and chairman of its Finance committee will be in a position to act as a mediator and friend of both bodies.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The House has tackled and settled two of the big questions of the year in its sessions this week, passing Daylight Saving along by a large majority and killing the old age pension bills by an equally large vote.

It was only necessary to tell the representatives that the bill under consideration for old age pensions would cost at least ten millions of dollars and might open up an expense as high as thirty millions of dollars annually, to insure its defeat. The arguments in favor of the bill came from those whose ideas on state finance are usually far from sound.

The maternity benefit bills were given hearings this week and in spite of the newspaper publicity on this subject there were only 75 people in attendance. Miss Spencer, who was the pioneer advocate of this legislation made a most favorable impression on everyone who heard her. She not only has an attractive personality, but has a pleasant voice to hear and expressed herself clearly and concisely. Representative Loring Young who put in another and slightly different bill from Miss Spencer also appeared and presented a sound and logical argument in favor of a bill for benefits to every woman, regardless of her financial condition, against any cash benefits and in favor of ignoring illegitimacy. There is prospect of some legislation along this line at the present session.

Compulsory voting has been thrown out both by committee and by the Legislature and the same fate awaits the bill for nomination by convention of the state ticket below the office of lieutenant governor.

The House has passed an important bill defining the right of way at the intersections of streets. Strange as it appears, there has never been any law on this matter, and with the great increase of automobile traffic, it is most important that drivers should know their rights. The bill provides that in approaching the intersection of streets, the vehicle on the right of the driver shall have the right of way.

The Ways and Means committee has sent in the state budget of some forty millions, and on its second reading were sustained on all but two items, a most remarkable record. The third reading comes today and as quite a number of items have been questioned, other amendments may be made.

The agitation over the public health and education bills was not based on many facts and was largely manufactured sentiment. It is understood that the committees in charge of these measures have a compromise bill in mind which will leave to local school committees the right to determine how far they shall go in this direction with a centralized control by the commissioner of education to ensure uniformity and efficiency.

Next Tuesday there will be a hearing before Legal Affairs committee on the important matter of billboard legislation in which many Newton persons are interested. Let there be a good attendance.

Auburndale

—Mr. Thomas A. Rylander has taken 103 Hancock street.
—Mr. Frank Lucas has leased number 15 Camden road to Mr. E. W. Putney.

—Miss Ransom has returned to Pasadena, Cal. and has been suffering with the "flu" since she arrived there.

—The executive board of the Middlesex County W. C. T. U. will hold its quarterly meeting next Thursday at the Church of the Messiah from 10 to 4 o'clock.

—The many friends of Mrs. G. Fred Pond are glad that she is recovering from her recent accident. She had a very narrow escape, being run down by a taxi-cab in Boston in January.

—At the regular Sunday School service at the Church of the Messiah last Sunday, Mr. Wood in behalf of the school presented the retiring superintendent, Mr. Will W. Heckman, with a handsome pocket prayer book, expressing regret that Mr. Heckman is going away.

The Beneficent Bat

The government of the United States has discovered that the bat, instead of being useless and worthless, as is generally thought, is really most valuable. He is the inveterate enemy of all insects that fly at night. In recent investigations bats shot in the evening after flying for 12 minutes were found with stomachs so gorged with mosquitoes, gnats and small flies that it was difficult to see how they could eat any more.

the inspector has but $41 per week. Alderman Allen said that in the very careful consideration given the salary matter in December, this man received an increase of $300. The journeyman plumber mentioned is not employed by the year but by the day. Commissioner Forbush said that it was his intention to employ the journeyman plumber throughout the year but the present man had been laid off some time on account of illness. Alderman Allen said that Boston pays its inspectors $1800 with a proposed increase to $2100. Alderman Whidden believed that the Inspector saves the city considerable money by purchasing supplies at wholesale but he would defer to the Finance committee in this matter. Aldermen Hollis and Goodwin spoke briefly and the committee report was accepted.

In the matter of City Hall clerks, Alderman Allen said that the matter had been given the most careful consideration last year at request of the mayor and the figures as finally passed had received the approval of the committee, the board and the mayor. The fact that the school committee had given much larger increases to its clerks did not change the situation as the board had no power over the school committee although the item from which these increases had been paid had been cut down 25 per cent, when the whole amount had been reduced. In giving the School committee a lump sum of $550,000 the board had no control over individual items.

Alderman Young said that the school committee had given large increases in salaries of its clerks as compared with those at City Hall, three of them having had an increase of $600 each while the largest at City Hall was but $400. He thought there should be some adjustment. The City Hall work is different from outside employment and they must meet the public, be acquainted with city ordinances and familiar with the state laws and regulations. Alderman Carter called attention to the fact that while there might have been some individual cases of large increases, the facts showed that in the school department, the present salaries ranged from $800 to $1800 while City Hall the range was from $900 to $2000. Alderman Hollis also spoke in opposition to the Finance report but it was subsequently accepted by a vote of 12 to 4.

On recommendation of committees, various sewer assessments and charges were levied, the salary of the city solicitor fixed at $3700, the presidential primary ordered for April 27, the pay of election officers fixed at $10 for wardens and clerks and $8 for inspectors, a hearing ordered on taking land on Eden avenue for playground purposes and the Mayor was authorized to assume taxes and betterments in receiving the deed for the property.

Street Commissioner told the board that he had expended nearly $50,000 to date for removal of snow and ice and needed $10,000 more, he had been compelled to hire some 40 or 50 horses and had had 125 men at work all last Sunday opening the way to the Newton Hospital and in Oak Hill district. The $10,000 was then voted.

$655 was authorized for pay of a Dental Nurse after April 1st and Telephone poles were authorized in Fisher avenue and Duncklee streets.

The following appointments of the mayor were unanimously confirmed: George H. Bourne, Register of Voters for 3 years. Oswald J. McCourt, Inspector for one year. Dr. C. Arthur Boutelle, Inspector of Animals for 1 year. Lewis H. Bacon, Member of the Board of Appeal, Building Laws, for 3 years.

Assistant Assessors for one year: Charles C. Briggs, Charles E. Joselyn, Frank E. Hunter, Charles E. Brannan, Timothy D. Murphy, Roy V. Early, Samuel K. Billings, Willis F. Hadlock, George B. King, A. P. Tedesco, Bernard D. Farrell, Warner R. Holt.

THE INTERPRETATION

in the background is the golden glow. The radiant splendor which flooded the sky seem to rise, as it were, from the heart of the earth which entombs the light and fire of the soldier dead. Thus the glorious dawn becomes the heartening symbol of THE NEW DAY for which these martyrs died. The NEW DAY, indeed, is as possible, the light of the NEW DAY is brought into being by the sacrifice, the consuming, the burning up in a passionate devotion to the ideal, of the lives of these heroes. The conception is that BEHIND ALL LIGHT THERE MUST BE BURNING—that is, BEHIND ALL HELPFUL INFLUENCE IS SACRIFICE. The sun's light, for example, is gentle and life-giving; we bask in its rays, and marvel at its beauty. Yet, behind its warm and welcome glow, at the central spot whence emanates this power and light, there are roaring flames, boilings of molten rock, tremendous combustion and catastrophe. All the lights of this world that are worth while are lights of altar fires—some one has given himself in sacrifice for the sake of the light which reaches down to us. Back of all the blessings of civilization there stands sacrifice. THE NEW DAY dawns because of the sacrifice, the burning up of lives, the glory of this greater love. How appropriate the lines of Rupert Brooke:

'Blow out, you bugles, over the rich Dead,
There's none of these so lonely and poor of old,
But, dying, has made us rarer gifts than gold.
These aid the world away; poured out the red Sweet wine of youth; gave up the years to be
Of work and joy, and that unhopd serene,
That men call age; and those who would have been
Their sons, they gave, their immortality.

Blow, bugles, blow! They brought us, for our dearth, Holiness, lacked so long, and Love and Pain.
Honour has come back, as king, to earth.
And paid his subjects with a royal wage;
And Nobleness walks in our ways again;
And we have come into our heritage.'

In addition to the interpretation by Rev. Henry H. Crane, the members of the Symphony Orchestra, Mr. Rudolph Heim, Mr. Di Natale, Mr. Robert Gerson, Mr. Vladimir Berlin, assisted by Miss La Palme and Miss Elsa M. Leonard, gave a number of very beautiful selections. A free-will offering was taken for the benefit of the orphans of French Soldier-Artists.

—And Love.

Like a great poet, Nature produces the greatest results with the simplest means. These are simply a sun, flowers, water and love. Of course, if the spectator be without the last, the whole will present but a pitiful appearance; and, in that case, the sun, the flowers, the water, the flowers, the trees are good for fuel, the flowers are classified by stamens, and the water is simply wet.—Helm.

which water had to be pumped, and for which the property owners will reimburse the City. The greater part of this work was done by the Sewer Division employees and required careful and well trained minds to carry the work out successfully, so as to avoid flooding other cellars in the same sections through the sewer mains and house connections.

The Street Commissioner takes special pride in complimenting all the citizens of Newton for the courteous manner and patience in the way they have made their requests and complaints at the Department Headquarters, City Hall.

The following is a comparison of the expenditures on Snow and Ice for three years, viz.:

1918	16,289.14
1917	14,431.31

This is an average of $12,654.65 per year.

BUSINESS WOMAN'S SPECIAL POLICY

The Business Woman is an important factor in professional and commercial activities. Her requirements are fully anticipated in this special policy. As a rule, there is little similarity between the insurance requirements of the business woman and those of the man, the latter generally assumes responsibilities which continue after his death. The woman's responsibility is to provide support during her life, the man therefore, must secure the protection of a considerable sum of insurance to be paid at death, the woman must insure her income against loss and provide a minimum sum to be paid at death, this difference makes desirable a special contract. While young and in the possession of health it is comparatively easy for the business woman to earn adequate support. But the future presents uncertainties, an age will be reached when retirement is necessary. Every woman should prepare for that period in life. There are only two methods—by saving or by insurance. But a contingency of equal importance exists, total and permanent disability which will prematurely force retirement and prevent saving may befall the woman during the early years of her life the special policy offers protection against this misfortune. On application I will gladly supply you with particulars of the contract. Bear in mind also the Accident Policies $100,000 for $100 annually, in addition pays $100 a week for 200 weeks. $40,000 costs $40.00 annually, in addition pays $50.00 a week for 200 weeks. The most liberal policies ever written. The Endowment Policy as well, paid on the installment plan, which protects your Beneficiary as long as they may live, and as certain as the sun rises.

The Unusual Situation In Men's Hats

A Brief Statement to the Men of New England Regarding the Increase in Prices Which Must Come Next Fall

Men's Derby and Soft Hats are produced from the fine furs of various animals. There is no substitute, therefore the cost of hats must inevitably depend on the condition and prices prevailing in the fur market. In the recent raw fur sales—Millions of Pelts Were Sold at Prices 50% to 100% Greater Than last October.

Additional to this another element has contributed to high prices—Decreased Production and Higher Wages Paid to Hatmakers.

We think, therefore, that we are correct in saying that prices this Fall will be Two to Five Dollars More Per Hat Than Today—and that every man should buy one or more hats now when prices are still at a reasonable figure.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

The Des Moines or "Golden Prairie" Biennial is looming large on the club women's horizon as the season is drawing to a close and the time approaching for this big convention, the Mecca of club women from all over the country. This particular biennial has more than ordinary significance to Massachusetts, in that one of her own number is a candidate for the next president, Miss George A. Bacon. Clubs are being urged to send a full quota of delegates and other clubs not already members of the General Federation are being pressed to join that a full delegation pledged to Miss Bacon may be on hand at Des Moines to help carry her election. It is with confidence that Massachusetts is pushing her candidate, for it is felt that for this particular time of reconstruction in the policy of the General Federation Miss Bacon is peculiarly fitted for the task.

It was brought out at the Newton Federation board meeting on Monday that at present but six clubs in the city are now members of the General organization with a possible twelve delegates, including the one to which the Newton Federation is entitled. Since Monday the Auburndale Review Club has voted to join and it is hoped that before it is too late, some of the others will find it desirable to do so.

A large club is really not doing its whole duty in club life when it withholds from membership in the nation-wide Federation, for it is "reaping where it has not sown." Whether one is conscious of it or not, power and inspiration coming filtering back from the fountain head, to the individual women. With small clubs whose members belong to other clubs holding direct membership, it is somewhat different.

The current number of the General Federation Magazine just received outlines the plan for the coming convention. In accordance with votes taken at Asheville last spring Americanism will be made the keynote of the convention; the sessions will be confined to six working days opening on the evening of Wednesday, June 16, and closing on Wednesday evening, June 23. Morning sessions will be devoted to business and departmental reports; the afternoons to departmental work, conferences, several being held simultaneously, while the evening sessions will be of an inspirational character, stress being given to the three special activities upon which the Federation is concentrating—Thrift, Community Service and Americanization.

Newton Federation

Have you told all your friends about the Newton Thrift Exposition? If you realize the magnitude of the general scheme, and the artistic way in which it is to be carried out, as well as the instructive and patriotic ideas set forth, you would want to spread the advance notice in your neighborhood. Friday will be Thrift Chairman day. Miss Georgia A. Bacon, the National Thrift Chairman, candidate for the presidency of the General Federation, will be present. The State chairman for all the different departments of the Thrift movement have been invited, and it is hoped that Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, Director of women's organizations in the Savings Division, may be able to attend.

Each day will have some special feature. The pageant of "Thrift and Spendthrift" is to be given at the Biennial at Des Moines in June, but will have its first performance on any stage at the Newton Thrift Exposition. Watch the papers. Buy this paper next week. It will tell you something more about the Exposition.

On Friday, March 26, the Travel class will be in charge of the program for the meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, Mrs. A. L. Jordan, chairman. Miss Lucy Allen, a daughter of one of the charter members of the club, will tell of her travels in Sicily.

The Newtonville Woman's Club announced that tickets for $3 each for the annual meeting, April 20, may be obtained now by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with check enclosed, to Mrs. W. H. Allen, 99 Kirkstall road, or at the club meeting on April 6.

There will be a food sale under the auspices of the Music committee at the meeting on April 6. The following nominating committee has been appointed: Mrs. A. D. Sallinger, chairman; Mrs. E. C. Wilcox, Mrs. E. E. Davidson, Mrs. M. H. Stafford, Mrs. Joseph Willey.

Community Club Dramatics

Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, Mrs. C. Sidney Ensign, Mrs. Harry L. Dexter, Mrs. W. W. Colton, Mrs. Samuel N. Brannan and Mrs. Frederick J. Fawcett comprise the all-star cast for the play, "Her Husband's Wife," which the club will present at Players' Hall, West Newton, next Thursday afternoon and evening. The play itself is very bright and the cast has been at work on it for many weeks under the direction of a professional coach, so that a very finished performance is assured, one which none of the club members can afford to miss. The rule relative to guests is not operative for this meeting, so that everyone is entitled to as many as she may wish and non-members who have attended other meetings of the club may also attend this. Any members who have not yet secured their own admission tickets should do so from Miss Rose Loring without delay, while the public will find them at Hubbard's.

Local Happenings

At last week's meeting of the Newton Community Club Dr. Richard Burton gave the members a rare treat in his lecture upon "The Drama of Today." In introducing his subject he said that it is the obvious and conventional thing to say that the drama is in a very bad way, but in the course of his lecture his hearers discovered that Dr. Burton in interpreting the signs of the times finds much of encouragement. Regarding the movies he has found two things and only two which he likes: First, the establishment of a certain amount of direction and regulation of them has reminded us that the drama must not be misused and that the play is becoming to be recognized as a social force allied to community service; secondly, it is the only form of theatrical entertainment provided at a moderate price within the reach of all the people. But, he said, there is no better way of allowing your brain to take a vacation than going to the movies, they are a sort of "intellectual Mellin's Food." The offer of $100,000 for a single season's work for the movie has deflected many good actors from the legitimate stage and deep down in his heart every actor who does this despises himself for so doing.

For his own part Dr. Burton feels that anything which shall lure him from his home, where it is now possible to have the best literature, the best pictures and the best music at moderate prices,—that thing must be better than the home which he leaves. He named the theatre as one of the five great forces outside of the home,—the school, the church, the library, the newspaper and the theatre, and the last named influences more people than any of the others, because the play tells the story in terms of emotion, the hearer gets it in company with others and seeing it, it is believed. Reasons were given to indicate that there is a revolution for the better plays and play houses, namely: the fact that contemporaneous plays are now published, making it possible to see a play then go home and read it; the present attitude of the colleges and universities toward the drama, in encouraging the production of plays by the students; the increased time devoted to the study of dramatic literature, the credit given for dramatic work and the various endowed and municipal theaters which are constantly springing up over the country. As a reply to the miserable slogan, "Give the people what they want," he proposed, "Educate the people to want what they should want."

The work of the Drama League was highly commended. In closing Dr. Burton urged his hearers to select wisely and to influence others to do likewise.

At the business meeting which preceded the lecture Miss Jessie M. Fisher presented a fine tribute to the memory of Miss Anna M. Whiting, who was one of the founders of the club. Five dollars was voted to assist the Sailors Haven in giving a May party to the sailors at Charlestown Navy Yard. Mrs. Ralph C. Henry presented a bill for the purchase and reforestation of idle land in Massachusetts now pending in the legislature and asked the support of the club. It was referred to the Legislative committee with power to act in the name of the club.

The chorus gave a fine rendering of "A Lover and his Lass," by Edith Lang, the words being one of Shakespeare's songs.

Owing to the fire at Mount Holyoke College President Mary E. Woolley was prevented from speaking before the Auburndale Woman's Club at its last meeting. Dr. Emma E. Denlinger of the department of English literature of the college came in his place. Miss Denlinger gave her audience a vivid account of the fire and then turned to her subject, "Eighteenth Century Literature," which she made especially interesting and entertaining. Owing to difficulties of heating the meeting was held in the Burr School hall instead of at the Methodist parish house.

The "surprise" program of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, which was announced for last Friday's meeting proved to be a very great treat. Mr. John Thomas, the well-known humorist, gave a fine entertainment, which included patriotic and other serious selections as well as his usual irresistibly funny ones. Music and tea completed a very enjoyable afternoon.

Considerable business was discussed and disposed of at the meeting of the Newton Federation executive board on Monday morning. A special committee was appointed to take charge of carrying out the plans for a Bureau of Household Occupations similar to that in Worcester. Details concerning the plans for the Newton Thrift Exposition were presented. Friday, April 16, will be known as Thrift Chairman Day, when the chairmen from over the state will be invited to attend and when a pageant will be presented, one which is to be given at the biennial at Des Moines. As special gift of $50 was made the West Newton Music School in view of the deficit of $500 which the school is facing. Discussion of delegates to the biennial brought out the proposition of forming a campaign committee for Newton and the president was instructed to appoint such a committee of three including the chair.

Plans for the coming annual meeting were presented. The chairman of the Social committee, Mrs. Theodore H. Piser, announced that the committee had decided that all tickets for the luncheon must be purchased by April 30, that no orders for tickets would be taken after that date and positively no tickets would be sold on the day of the meeting. The board upheld the committee's plan which was made necessary from the fact that last year about forty women came to the meeting without tickets expecting to get them that morning, which necessitated sending out and purchasing more food and some of the women in not being properly served. Club presidents were instructed to carry out the new ruling.

On Monday afternoon the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. had a pleasant meeting at the home of Mrs. Stephen A. Wiswell when the members brought in individual topics relative to current events at home and abroad.

At the meeting of the Newton Highlands Monday Club on March 15 held at the home of Mrs. Henry E. Williams of Norman road, Mr. Rufus D. Smith gave a most interesting account of his work of relief and community service for the men recently returned from overseas, which is one of helping the men to re-adapt themselves to civil life. Tea was served during the social hour.

"Opportunities of the Dull Job" was the subject of the lecture by Mrs. Margaret Deland before the Newton Mothers' Club at its meeting in the Congregational church at West Newton, on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Deland's talk was both entertaining and illuminating bringing out as it did the inevitable reaction following the keyed-up enthusiasm of the wartime. A very large number was in attendance including presidents from other clubs of the neighborhood. Mrs. Joseph N. Lovell, the vice-president, was in the chair in the absence in the South of Mrs. E. Ray Spare, the president.

Mrs. W. C. Crawford in her current events lecture before the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning touched upon the present happenings in Berlin and the conditions generally in Germany, but devoted the great part of the hour to a presentation of events in Russia and the underlying conditions which are in large measure responsible for them.

The Auburndale Review Club had a most interesting morning on Tuesday at the Missionary Home when Mr. Egis, a native of Warsaw, supplemented the club's study of Poland with a vivid description of the life and characteristics of the Poles. Their music, he said, is emblematic of their disposition.

sition, full of enthusiasm and optimistic at one time and then way down another. This has been the history of their national life and the characteristic of their individual life. As the individual goes through five great stages of development, the embryonic, birth, maturity, decline and death, so has Poland gone through them all. There is little of the real Pole in the country today, the inhabitants are for the most part Slav. The speaker does not look to see a re-birth of the real Poland of the past. Mrs. Freeman and Mrs. Valentine played a piano duet from Mowskowsky, which the speaker commented on as having brought out the true feeling of the country.

At "The Fortnightly" of Newton Centre Dr. Alberta Guilford will speak before the club on Wednesday afternoon. Hostess, Mrs. I. F. Worth. Tea will be served by Mrs. E. C. Sands.

Subjugate.

When an army was conquered in Roman times, it was obliged to "pass under the yoke" as an evidence of defeat at the hands of the enemy. This "yoke" was sometimes made by setting up two spears and putting a third across the top. Our English word subjugate (derived from Latin "sub," or under, and "jugum," or yoke) thus contains in its composition a spectacular custom from the military life of the Romans.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

Burr School

Mrs. Ida Vose Woodbury gave a lecture in the Burr School Hall on Wednesday morning on "Abraham Lincoln." The children of the Burr School (grades 4-8) and of the Williams School (grades 5-6) enjoyed the hour very much.

Mr. Daniels, the drawing supervisor, spoke to the eighth grades on Tuesday morning on "How to Choose Wall Paper for Different Rooms." This lesson was of particular interest to the children of the eighth grade who are studying "House Furnishing." Mr. Daniels had several pertinent illustrations which made his points easy to remember.

A Debating Club has been formed in the 7th and 8th grades of the Burr School. Alice Hennessey was elected chairman and Winslow Howland was elected sub-chairman. The first debate was, "Resolved That Auburnville is a desirable place to live in." The 8th grade had the affirmative side and the 7th grade had the negative. The debate was easily won by the affirmative side.

If any person doubts that spring is coming he should visit the primary grades at the Burr School. The rooms certainly are attractive. The children have made flowers, birds, rabbits, chickens and everything that comes with Spring. In Miss Adams room they have an auto show to compete with the one in Boston.

Roger Wolcott School

Clarence Brown was chosen captain, and Archie Burnett, manager, of the Roger Wolcott baseball team at an election held Wednesday by the boys of the upper grades. It is planned to begin baseball practice just as soon as the snow and dampness are out of the ground. The rules of the game and how to play the different positions are being ardently studied at present. An association to promote the physical well being of every member of the school is being formed with delegates chosen from all the upper grades.

The Waban Women's Club has voted a modest sum to be expended for books as prizes for the best essays written in all grades from the fourth thru the eighth about the Pilgrims.

It is expected that work will be resumed on the new schoolhouse the first of the week.

Horace Mann School

On Monday the 15th, an orchestra rehearsal was held in the hall under the direction of Miss Stopp. There was a visitor at this rehearsal who played in last year's orchestra as a violinist.

Monday, March 15th, the upper grade pupils of this school enjoyed the first out door recess of the season. Lunches were served by the girls, but as it was very inconvenient for the teachers it has been decided to continue the indoor recess.

The pupils of this school welcome Miss Doane, teacher of grade five, after her three weeks of absence.

Lisbeth Leighton, secretary of the Eighth Grade, wrote to the Boston Weather Bureau, asking for a weather map to be sent to the eighth grade geography class every day until June 15th. The first map was received Monday, March 15th.

The Eighth Grade has started the study of Sir Walter Scott's "Lady of the Lake." They have found out many interesting facts about Scotland in the sixteenth century.

Last week the grammar grades of this school took tests for the report cards which were distributed Wednesday.

A very attractive spelling chart was made by two boys of the Eighth Grade. This bulletin is to be used by the different grades for the entrance of their daily per cent in spelling. If a grade has a low mark on this record it strives to better it very soon. Therefore one of the uses of the chart is to stimulate 100% in the different grades.

Grade VI had a reflectoscope lesson on the beautiful buildings of Canada last Friday.

John Ramsden, a friend to every one in Grade VI, has just returned to school. He broke his leg and had to stay out seven and a half weeks.

The pupils of Grade Seven having a perfect attendance since September are Thelma Coombs, Catherine Kiley and Willard Wentworth.

The cooking class of grade seven discussed "milk" in their last lesson. The teacher, Miss Seavey, asked the girls to make posters on the subject of "Milk." Each girl is working earnestly on hers.

On March tenth Grade Seven was 100 per cent in Spelling and reached a goal they have been striving for all the year.

The pupils of this school are trying to bring themselves up to normal weight. The seventh grade is making posters, regarding the right kind of food, sleep, milk, water and exercise. They have three slogans: "Health is Wealth," "Have You a Bankbook of Health?" and "Is Your Bankbook Growing Steadily?"

Hyde School

Miss Hanscom's room, Grade VIII had the highest per cent of attendance for the past month with 91.5 per cent. Miss Green's room, Grade V, was second with 90 per cent.

In spite of bad walking the last month was a record one for punctuality, as there were only 77 tardy marks in the whole school. This is a great improvement over January's record. Miss Green's room, Grade IV, and Miss Perkins' room, Grade II, vied with each other for first place in the Thrift Stamp record. Miss Green's class lead with $14.53. Miss Perkins' class had $14.25.

This afternoon Miss Thomas, Mr. Murray and Mr. Thurber visited Vocational Guidance Lessons in the two seventh grades. Mrs. Blakemore's class gave a lesson on the "Motor-man and Conductor." This was followed by an original play entitled, "Lost and Found," written by Harold Carver and Sam Patten. Miss Cowen's class gave a lesson on the "Stenographer and the Florist."

The Hyde building is studying "Americanization Words for Spelling Drills." The list of words is taken from the "Preamble to the Constitution," "Bill of Rights," "Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech," and "Wilson's War Message." The school is trying to equal the New York School average.

Much interest is being shown in Miss Ryder's fifth grade where 100 per cent of the class has formed the Ospechee Junior Audubon Society. Plans are being made for bird walks.

Stearns School Notes

The Mothers' Club had a double program at the meeting Monday evening. The first election of officers was held with the following result: President, Mrs. O'Halloran; Vice-President, Mrs. Seaward; Secretary, Mrs. Gilbert Bergen; Treasurer, Mrs. Womboldt; Chairman of Refreshment Committee, Mrs. William Bergen; Chairman of Visiting Committee, Mrs. Cye; Chairman of Social Committee, Mrs. Langell. The election was followed by a Home Talent program which included both vocal and piano solos, some readings and a short sketch entitled, "The District School of Hopkoad Corner," in which six members of the Club participated.

Miss Gibbon of the Newton Hospital talked to members of the Girls' Club, Tuesday evening on "District Nursing." She told how district nurses may be obtained and the work they do in the homes. After Miss Gibbon's talk dancing was enjoyed.

Electric lights have recently been installed in the Domestic Science room. The cast for "The Magistrate," a light drama to be presented by the Alsteans Club shortly after Lent has been decided upon. There was sincere enthusiasm and rivalry by the club members for parts, as all intend making this year's production the best ever attempted. The minstrel Alsteans' Club was a splendid triumph, but the Boys' Club, to a man boasts that after the performance of "The Magistrate," the criterion of stage ability will rest with "Alsteans."

The boys are very anxious for the baseball season to start. A team representing the school is being planned, and success, as in football and hockey, is looked for. A reliable pitcher must be discovered.

Chaffin School

The winners in the Declamation of Poetry in the Seventh Grade were Rebbecca Hickey, who gave "The American Flag," Marian Young "Nathan Hale," Lawrence Freedman, "The Roll Call." Those on the honor list were: Alice Allen, Barbara Tracy, Malcolm Hagar, Philippa Patey, Myrtle Atwood, Margaret Larabee, Genevieve Colarulo, Harriet Higgins.

There is to be an exhibition of articles made in manual training shops throughout the city. The boys of grades seven and eight plan to contribute.

At the last class meeting the Eighth Grade chose the following for the Class Gift Committee: John Bryant, chairman; Robert Brown, George Eddy, Anna Horton, Marjorie Weare.

Lasell Seminary

The students recently were privileged to hear a most interesting talk given in our school chapel on India by a native, Bhaskar Pandurang Hivale of Bombay, India. The speaker is a post-graduate student at Harvard University and he had been to make some timely and amusing criticisms of some of our Americans. At the same time he paid great tribute to the country of his temporary adoption, and certainly gave a new conception of the possibilities which await awakening India.

The little students in the Music Department of the Woodland Park School gave their term recital on Thursday afternoon. The performance showed marked progress on the part of the pupils, and furnished those who were favored with hearing them a very enjoyable hour.

Saturday night the Special Class entertained the Seniors in Bragdon Hall Gymnasium. The affair took the form of a Black and White party, and this feature being emphasized in every way made it a most unusual and enjoyable event.

The Abundant Women's Club enjoyed Dr. Joel Goldwaite, an authority on Physical Education, in the Congregational Church on Tuesday evening.

Thursday evening in our own chapel Mrs. Etta A. McDonald, Director of the Chandler School for Women, will speak on Japan, one of the many countries which she has visited, about which she has written such charming stories.

NEWTON WINS HOCKEY

Newton High won the championship of the Greater Boston Interscholastic League Wednesday night when it beat Cambridge Latin 4 to 3, in the final game of the series, playing at the Ice Pavilion, Cambridge.

It was the best schoolboy game of the winter, requiring two overtime periods.

Much credit belongs to Capt. Edgar Crosby, Newton. He made the pass that enabled Coody to tie the score, and in the second overtime period drove the disk into the cage for the point that gave Newton the game.

NEWTON TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

During the Senior Assembly of Mar. 5, a novelty was introduced in the form of an old-fashioned spelling match. Four squads of five members each were selected from the four divisions of the Senior Class. After the managing director had gone around the group on the stage for a few times, the number of failures became noticeable and departures from the exalted platform were begun, until after twenty-five minutes of exciting spelling, Charles Ryan sat unmolested, alone and blushing on the stage. Alastair Fraser and Raymond Heislen were second and third respectively. Margaret Walsh remained on the stage the longest of the girls.

On Wednesday, March 17, the Juniors gave a party and reception to the Senior class in the library. Following the usual custom, there were games, music, and other ways of having a good time besides dancing.

The Junior committee, appointed by President Laffie to take charge of the affair, consisted of Clifford Rummel, Frank Quinn, Ethel Stinson, Mary Mutch, and Miss Doonan as faculty adviser.

Leon Carrington, III-F-7, who is working afternoons at the Old Colony Trust Company, has donated to our library thirty copies of a little book called, "The Spirit of America," and five copies of the "Transportation Act." These are remarkably useful little books for they contain interesting documents pertaining to the History of the United States and will be of aid in the History Department.

Wednesday morning, Mar. 10, the entire sophomore class assembled in the hall for the purpose of selecting a nominating committee. The pupils chosen were Frances Dixon, Bertha Roberts, Malcolm Govan, Gordon Berry, Mabel Kivlahan.

This group met and selected three candidates for each office. They were the following:—President, Elmer Haynes, Harold Waters, Louis Farmer; Vice-President, Marie Fayes, Eleanor Hammersley, Ethel Miller; Secretary, Dorothy Smith, Anna MacPhee, Julia Middleton; Treasurer, Arthur Manning, Frank Farrell, Timothy Murphy. On Wednesday morning, Mar. 17, the election was held in the Library.

The 1918 and 1919 classes are planning a joint reunion to be held in the Library of N. T. H. S. on the evening of April 14.

On Monday, March 8, the Newton Technical and Vocational Schools were honored by a visit from the Chinese Educational Mission to the United States. The delegation was led by Dr. S. T. Yuen. They were interested in the various departments, but showed a keen appreciation of the Technical High Library. A coincidence—the girls who were studying in the library were engaged in looking at a picture of the delegation, when, upon looking up, they saw the famous gentlemen themselves enter the doorway.

NEWTON BOYS IN HARVARD SHOW COMING HERE

Among the principals in the fifty-second annual production of the Pi Eta Club of Harvard which will be presented at Players' Hall, West Newton, on Monday evening, are Albert Palmer of Newton, a senior, and C. C. Macomber of Newtonville, a member of the sophomore class.

"Al Fareedah" is a modern musical comedy with an Oriental setting, and the first Pi Eta show to come to Newton since 1911, when the "Cantelopers" was given at Players' Hall. "Al Fareedah" has already played at Cambridge twice and at Wellesley, to crowded houses. Probably no one of the specialty acts has been more enthusiastically received than Albert Macomber, a second year student in the school of architecture, in the second act when, as "Bogus, a bally butler," he shows the Arab maidens how it should be done. He has also an amusing topical song called "Khuh-Khuh." Newton's other representative in the cast, Clark Macomber, has made a name for himself as "Spike Maloney, of Chelsea," by virtue of his songs, "Maid For Me," "Say, You Couldn't Hold Me Back," and "All That's Golden Does Not Glitter," and by his character interpretation.

As a result of the enthusiasm shown by the old members of Pi Eta at the "Grads' Night" performance on Tuesday, the management has arranged to give an extra performance in the Club theatre in Cambridge on March 29. The consensus of opinion so far has been that "Al Fareedah" is not only a triumph in amateur theatricals, but that many of its specialty acts and all of its music would make a hit on any professional stage.

Some interesting photographs of the cast and principals are to be seen in the window of Hahn's Depot Store, Newton.

Fifty Newton ladies are patronesses for the performance at Players' Hall Monday.

"TWIN MUTUALS" AROUSES INTEREST. MANY INQUIRIES AS TO ORIGIN OF NAME

The Twin Mutuals are two Companies organized to insure automobiles. One, the Automobile Mutual Fire Insurance Company, issues fire, theft and collision policies; the other, the Automobile Mutual Liability Insurance Company, issues liability, property damage and loss of use contracts.

These Companies are in one office for the convenience of their policyholders. Both organizations specialize on automobile lines, and as they are operating on the profit-sharing plan, they sell insurance at actual net cost.

How successful direct-writing Mutuals that specialize have become can be seen from the dividend returns. To members of the fire company one quarter of the premium is being returned as policies expire, and to members of the liability company, 15 per cent of the expiring premium.

The word "Gemini" is Latin for "twins" and has long been used in representations of the Zodiac. The symbol is the Roman numeral "II" which signifies for the automobile owners of Boston two Companies—one office—specialized service—automobile insurance of all kinds at a good saving.

The sixth form took examinations in arithmetic this week, preparatory to entering other schools in the Fall. Fessenden School closes this Wednesday for two weeks' vacation.

Ginger a Valuable Crop.

Ginger grown in Jamaica has always commanded more than double the price of any other. Under favorable conditions an acre will produce as much as four thousand pounds.

Haiti a Stricken Country.

Haiti's many revolutions have sadly interfered with the normal life of the people. On the trails of the country districts, one passes a never-ending stream of women—mile after mile and nothing but the female of the species—most of them with baskets on their heads.

Language That Will Live.

Language is the vehicle of thought; and the tongue which can most quickly and clearly put that thought across between buyer and seller, between thinker and inquirer, is the language that will prevail. Languages are alive because they have kept up with the march of thought and events; and those that have not are dead.

Old Belgian Newspaper.

The oldest newspaper in Belgium is the Gazette van Gent, which received the privilege of printing the Gentsche Post Tydinghen on November 17, 1606, and which has existed almost continuously since the first number was printed on January 1, 1607. The oldest copy preserved is No. 67 of September 8, 1607.

Saving a Silly: See This.

"Rotten policy to save! Fatal to save! Find out when it's too late, don't want what you've been saving for—outgrown your impulses. Buried with your bank book and every one that you're dead. No—no. Spend while you're young. Get a hold on all the friendship and all the love within reach—and then, when you're old, at least memories will be yours as comforters."—"Our Wonderful Selves," by Roland Pertwee.

LIQUOR RAID

The police department conducted a successful liquor raid last Saturday night when they invaded the provision and grocery store of Benjamin Halprin on Watertown street, Nonantum, and seized 783 bottles of Jamaica Ginger. The place has been under suspicion for some time but as it was hard to get positive evidence of liquor selling, nothing was done until last week. The stuff was found concealed in many curious places, buried in barrels and bags of flour, behind rows of tomato cans and on top of the large refrigerator. Halprin will be arraigned in court tomorrow morning.

Value of Herbs in Cookery.

The old-fashioned kitchen garden was not considered complete without its small collection of "pot herbs"—sage, thyme, and other medicinal and savory herbs. French cooking is noted for its fine flavor, and this is largely because French cooks excel in the skillful use of herbs.

Doggone It.

By experiments with dogs kept awake for several days two French scientists demonstrated that both nerve cells and muscles lack oxygen when tired and secrete a poisonous acid.

GIRL SCOUTS

Award of Honors to Many Candidates, at Banquet in West Newton

On Saturday, March 20th, the Girl Scouts of Newton had a party in the Parish house of the Unitarian Church, West Newton. In spite of the snow storm each of the troops had a large number present, 220 Scouts in all. The party began at 3.30. Each girl was tagged with her name and Troop number as soon as she arrived. She also had the name of some well known character in history or fiction pinned on her back, and her first duty was to find out who she was. This filled up the time until all had arrived. Then the girls were divided into five groups according to their ages. All the 10 year olds were in one group; 11 years, 12 years, 13 years each had a group, while all those 14, 15, and 16 or over met together. This had been arranged for beforehand, and five of the Captains had been asked to each take a special group and to have games ready for that group to play. The Sunday School room had been cleared for these games, but when all the Scouts had assembled, it looked for a few moments as though there would hardly be room enough to really play anything.

After these games which took nearly an hour, the girls had one relay race. After this the orchestra of Troop 5 performed. This orchestra was organized about 4 weeks ago and is under the direction of Lieutenant Sprague. It is made up of 3 mandolins, 3 violins, a cello, piano, 2 bugles, and a drum. The girls in it are most enthusiastic and besides working hard are enjoying the rehearsals immensely. Why not have more troop orchestras?

Miss Cunningham, former Captain of Troop 2 led the Scout singing. How the room rang and how well the girls sang. The Drum and Bugle Corps played for the first time together. This corps shows signs of great promise and we hope before long to have a corps equal to the famous one in Brookline.

The most important part of the program was the giving out of the Merit Badges. For the past four weeks the girls have been taking their tests for these Merit Badges. Tests in 19 different subjects were given. They were as follows:—

Artist—Troop 4—Scout Esma Brown, Florence Lamont, Dorothy Gourley, Troop 5—Scout Louise Mertz.

Athletics—Troop 3—Captain Ordway.

Bird Study—Troop 5—Scout Louise Mertz.

Boatswain—Troop 3—Captain Ordway, Scouts Joan Burnham, Evelyn Perry.

Child Nurse—Troop 2—Scouts Edith Pearson, Margaret Williamson.

Clerk—Troop 3—Captain Ordway.

Civics—Troop 2—Scout Doris Paine.

Cook—Troop 1—Scout Veda Leonard.

Troop 2—Scouts Elizabeth Pearson, Doris Paine, Helen Nagel.

Invalid Cook—Troop 1—Scouts Veda Leonard, Francesca Barker.

Troop 2—Scouts Barbara Partridge, Edith Pearson.

Troop 3—Scouts Margaret

REPUBLICAN LEAGUES

Branches Being Organized in Various Parts of the City

The Republican League of Massachusetts is holding a series of meetings in this city and is effecting a live organization in each of the seven wards.

The first meeting was held Monday evening in Odd Fellows hall, Newtonville, with a large attendance of local Republicans. Following an excellent dinner and some fine community singing, together with solos by the musical director, Mr. Albert Edmund Brown, Capt. Daniel A. McKay explained the work of the new organization and what it hoped to accomplish. A ward organization was then effected with C. Raymond Cabot as chairman, William H. Zoller, secretary, and these chairmen of committees: Meetings, Robert E. Hills; Membership, C. A. Cotton; Naturalization and Registration, H. H. Ballard.

A similar meeting was held Wednesday night at the Hunnewell Club for wards 1 and 7, about a hundred were present. The following officers were chosen: Ward 1, Wm. R. Ferry, chairman; Chas. Phipps, secretary; Meetings, D. Webster Anders; Membership, Robert D. Holt; Music, Rev. Robert L. Rae; Naturalization and Registration, Harry W. Bascom. Ward 7, Francis W. Dana, chairman; Leverett S. Gleason, secretary; Meetings, Burt M. Rich; Membership, Donald Holbrook; Music, George Barker; Naturalization and Registration, C. B. Gleason.

A meeting will be held tonight at Gray Hall, Newton Centre, for wards 5 and 6 and next Tuesday night at Players Hall, West Newton, for wards 3 and 4.

THRIFT PRIZES

Miss Katherine Knapp Wins First Prize Offered by Newton Trust Co.

During Thrift Week six prizes were offered by the Newton Trust Company to pupils in the High School for the best essay on "Thrift and Saving."

A great deal of interest was aroused and practically every pupil submitted a composition for the contest. The six prize-winners were as follows: Katherine Knapp, Classical High; Joseph Hurley, Technical High; Vivian Gould, Classical High; Karl Drew Hartzell, Classical High and Ethel Millon, Technical High.

The Grand Prize for the best essay among the six prize winners was awarded to Miss Katherine Knapp, Classical High School, who lives at 321 Central street, Auburndale.

The judges of the contest were Professor J. B. Taylor, Rev. J. Edgar aPrk and Mr. Joseph Hagar.

Miss Knapp's Essay is entitled "Thrift Versus Extravagance." It is very interesting and really a valuable contribution and shows that she not only has read a great deal about this important subject, but she also knows how to express herself in English.

In view of the great importance of the subject to everyone at the present time, and the great need on every one's part for thrift and conservation, we will print the Prize Essay next week.

DEUTERONOMY

Book That Saved a Nation Described at Trinity Church

"The Book that Saved a Nation" was the title of a very inspiring address given by Miss Heloise E. Hersey at Trinity Church, Newton Centre, on Sunday evening.

Miss Hersey told of the different approaches by which the material advance which a nation had made could be ascertained, but added that this did not compare with the spiritual advance of a nation.

She reviewed the History and conditions of the Old Testament from Moses to the reign of Josiah, and showed how God had revealed Himself to man during this time. She spoke in some detail of the fearful corruption and degeneracy which preceded Josiah's reign, and of the finding in that reign of the Book of Deuteronomy and the wholesale reformation which followed.

Reading parts of Deuteronomy as illustration, the speaker showed the high spiritual conception of God in this book, and its place in the Jewish world. Every Jew recited a chapter of Deuteronomy as a part of his daily devotions; the prophets constantly quoted it, and Christ Himself quoted it in answering the devil in the wilderness.

Eleven years after the finding of the book of Deuteronomy the youth

HER HUSBAND'S WIFE

Newton Community Club Gives Clever Performance at Players' Hall

The Newton Community Club made its dramatic bow to the public yesterday afternoon and evening in the presentation of "Her Husband's Wife" by A. E. Thomas, a comedy in three acts, at Players' Hall, in West Newton. The play itself is very bright and clever and offers ample opportunity for real dramatic work. The cast was indeed an all-star cast. Mrs. Harriman, as the "genial uncle" did to perfection the part of a clumsy, middle-aged bachelor, who in trying to smooth out one difficulty falls deeper into another, and never once forgot her masculinity. Mrs. Ensign, the hypochondriac young wife, did a difficult part with eminent success. Mrs. Colton, as Emily LaDew, showed great versatility in her change from the "dowdy, old maid" to the spirited, fascinating young woman. Mrs. Dexter carried the part of the care-free, pleasure-loving young husband through many vicissitudes of domestic infelicity with marked power and brought down the house with the frantic efforts at reconciliation, as well as in the closing scene after having been "driven to drink." Mrs. Braham was easy and natural in her presentation of the youthful lover doing exceedingly well the difficult "straight part."

As general manager, Mrs. Frederic J. Fawcett put in an infinite amount of thought and pains, sparing herself not at all for the success of this first venture of the club, and too much praise cannot be given her in appreciation of all that she did to make the performances the great success that they were.

The orchestra under the direction of Mrs. Arthur S. Flinn did admirable work and added the finishing touch to the occasion.

The cast was as follows: Richard Belden, Ethel Gilman Braham; Nora, the maid, Henrietta Moody Fawcett; John Belden, Edith Graves Harriman; Stuart Randolph, Gertrude Currier Dexter; Irene Randolph, Florence Page Ensign; Emily LaDew, Marion Ward Colton. Others who assisted were: properties, Mrs. George Lincoln Parker; prompter, Miss Miriam Drury; tickets, Miss Sally A. Cutler; acting manager, Mr. Frank E. Fowle; stage manager, Mr. A. E. Clark.

Orchestra: Violins, Mrs. James J. Boslan, Miss Katherine Stone, Mr. Carleton Bell, Mr. Lindal Rogers, Mr. Arlen Frelove; cornet, Mr. Harry Owens, clarinet, Mr. Robert Lutz; trombone, Mr. Francis Owen; cello, Mrs. Arthur S. Flinn; piano, Miss Edith M. Hutchinson. Ushers, Mrs. Philip Jamieson, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Buckmaster, Mrs. Dexter B. Hill, Mrs. George C. Grant, Mrs. Aldrich Taylor, Mrs. Walter R. Andrews, Miss Dorothy Seccomb, Miss Dorothy Simpson.

The co-operation of the street railway in providing extra cars for the return trip after each performance was much appreciated.

53% The Power of Co-operation

There are many thrifty people who have saved, or could save money, but who do not know how to invest it safely and profitably. There are others who are ambitious to own a home, but who have not sufficient means. The Co-operative Bank is a mutual organization for these two classes of people. The combined savings of shareholders are used for the buying and building of homes.

IDLE PEOPLE AND IDLE DOLLARS

Idle people are often shiftless people. An idle dollar is much the same. It slides out of the owner's pocket at the slightest provocation. A busy man or woman attracts attention and respect. An active dollar is much the same. It fulfils its mission of working for its owner and of helping the whole community. Place your dollars regularly in our Savings Department and keep them profitably employed. Thrift means continuance saving, and brings competence and comfort.

STATE BOYS' DAY AT Y. M. C. A.

Last Saturday, in spite of the snow storm and physical discomforts, the boys of the local Y. M. C. A. conducted the most successful State Boys' Day that the Association has ever held.

Four teams of about twenty boys each representing the High "Y" Club, Triangle Club, Debating Club, and the Physical Department, competed for first honors in this one day campaign.

On Friday evening, following a supper served by the Ladies Auxiliary, the boys were given their instructions and then led in songs and cheers by their club leader. The spirit of rivalry ran so high among the boys of the various clubs that success for the following day was assured in spite of weather conditions.

At noon on Saturday the boys met for a light lunch and again at 6 P. M. for the supper and final reports. The standing of the teams read as follows: Physical Department $309.92, Triangle Club $239.55, Debating Club $163.50, High "Y" Club Team $129.25—making a total of $833.22.

For the second year in succession Raymond Woolston of West Newton has held the individual high score. While every boy on every team deserves mention for the good days work, it is impossible to mention more than three or four of the highest scores on each team:

For the physical department team Raymond Woolston was high man with Monroe Soch, Carter Flinn Carleton Church, and Kenneth Kepner close seconds. In the Triangle Club Albert Greaves and Philip Perry were the highest scorers. For the Debating Club Edgar Deliber lead with Lloyd Hazen, Arthur Foster, and Wallace MacPherson next on the list. Carleton Person was high scorer for the High "Y" Club with Robert Savory and Raymond Church tied for second place.

The object of State Boys' Day is three-fold. Money is necessary to conduct work among boys both at home and in foreign lands and State Boys' Day is one of the methods used to secure funds for this work. While State Boys' Day aids the work financially it also brings before a large number of Newton people the work which is being done here through the medium of the boy who calls at the home for funds' our friends are brought into closer relationship with the Association. Last and not least of the good which State Boys' Day does is the confidence and self reliance which the individual boy receives from such a day's work.

To our friends who have so generously helped the boys to do their share in making this day a success we extend our thanks. If in their enthusiasm and interest any of the boys called on homes which had already been solicited by other boys, we trust our friends will understand that duplications are almost unavoidable where such a large list of names is concerned.

Not a small share of the credit for the success achieved is due to the ladies of the Ladies Auxiliary, who served supper both Friday and Saturday evenings and luncheon on Saturday. They know that the best way to entice boys is to feed them. We extend our thanks to the following ladies who so kindly served on the committee:

Miss Emma A. Page, Chairman, Mrs. F. W. Burrows, Mrs. E. A. Whitney, Mrs. F. W. Hobart, Mrs. E. M. Horne, Mrs. Enos Moore, Mrs. J. W. Blaisdell, Mrs. I. U. Townsend, Mrs. I. F. Hackett, Miss H. F. Greenwood, Mrs. H. W. Bascom, Mrs. A. C. Bang, Mrs. M. W. H. Spurrier, Mrs. W. H. Cady and Miss Emily Blaisdell.

DEATH OF MRS. BISCOE

Mrs. Helen M. Biscoe, who died at Newton Highlands on Sunday, March 21, was born at Grafton, Mass., September 5, 1839. She was married April 19, 1867, to the late Arthur G. Biscoe of Westboro, Mass., in which town they resided after their marriage. She moved to Newton in 1892. Mrs. Biscoe is survived by a sister, Mrs. A. E. Stratton, of Fitchburg, Mass., a brother, Walter I. Bigelow, of Brookline, and by two sons, Howard N. Biscoe and Maurice B. Biscoe, both of Newton.

The funeral services were held Tuesday morning at the residence of her son, Mr. Howard M. Biscoe, 278 Lake avenue, Newton Highlands, and were conducted by the Rev. George T. Smart, D. D., pastor of the Congregational Church at Newton Highlands. The burial was at Grafton, Mass.

NORTH GATE CLUB

A very enjoyable dancing party was held on Friday evening at the North Gate Club. A very clever and interesting interpretation of "The Evolution of the Dance" was given by Miss Edith Thomas and Miss Ruth Pierce, who gave a diet dance showing the changes of the art in its evolution up to the present. Many of the younger set from the nearby Newtons attended. The affair was efficiently directed by a committee consisting of Mr. Peter Boltz, chairman, Mr. Russell Carter and Mr. John Cox. Kimball's orchestra gave a lively and up-to-date program of dance music. The proceeds will be devoted to the Club House fund for the purpose of general enlargement of the club's activities.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Ex-Service Men, Notice

The United States Government is anxious to get in touch with all ex-service men who have any ailments as a result of military service. Many men were gassed, for instance, and no serious results seemed to attach to it. However, after many months, some illness may come to them and they would have a recurrence of the effects of the gassing. The Government has asked that all men so affected get in touch with them at once, have an examination, and have their case recorded. This will insure treatment and assistance if need should require. A letter from Washington to C. D. Kopner, President of the Newton Y. M. C. A., asks that the local Association assist in getting this information to ex-service men, and also asks the Association to act as the medium through which these men may report to Washington.

We will be very glad to advise with men and help them in their claim, and would advise all men, no matter how trivial their ailment, to get in touch with someone who has information on this matter that they may have proper advice and get the assistance that is due them.

Oftentimes men are entitled to assistance who do not know they are not only entitled to this assistance but the government is more than anxious to give them this aid.

The speaker at the Fellowship Club on Monday evening was Mr. A. B. Rice of Newton Centre.

The bowling team plays a church team from Somerville on Thursday evening. Our team has not lost a match this year. We understand our visitors are averaging better than 90 so a close match is expected. A return game will be played.

With a building to accommodate 1,000 and an actual membership of over 3,000 men and boys, with a waiting list of 200 to 500, the Association of Buenos Ayres, Argentina, has had to make a rule that new members may be admitted only in number equal to the expirations. That as many as possible might have the use of the building classes were started at odd hours—and were promptly crowded. There are men and boys waiting now who will not get into the gymnasium till the summer. All because Argentina with a population of 7,000,000 has but one Y. M. C. A. where modern physical education may be found.

Every Saturday night the Association holds an athletic exhibition before a crowded house. Demonstrations of swimming, water-polo, basketball, volleyball, floor ball, calisthenics, acrobatics, boxing, wrestling and fencing are given. "The little home-made jazz band may be wobbly as to technique and time—but the men like it and many who would naturally avoid the evenings in the gymnasium, fight for entrance to the Y. gymnasium. No advertising is necessary."

TO LOVERS OF FLOWERS AND PLANTS

On June first, 1919, the United States Agricultural Board gave a decision by which no plants could be brought into the United States from Holland after that date. We wonder if the public realize what this means. Mrs. Charles Rose has taken the public for 12c before this ruling went into effect, will now sell for between 50c and $1.00. This is also true of Box Trees, Bay Trees, Rhododendrons and fancy imported Evergreens.

The excuse offered for this decision was to protect against the corn-borer and other deadly insects, and save the country a bale of hemp. Furthermore, it swept out a business of some $10,000,000 a year among the Nurserymen and Florists in this country without the slightest consideration not withstanding many committees presented their side of the case at Washington which received no consideration whatever.

When Congress passed this law, it was the intention to give proper protection against deadly insects and not to establish an arbitrary power that would give no one consideration but one man's own opinion. I refer to the chairman of that board. Will you not urge your congressman and Senator to use their influence to have this decision rescinded?

No one, least of all the dealers, object to the most rigid examination of goods before allowing them into this country. We can state from our own knowledge that when a shipment arrived in the past, we were not allowed to open a case until the State inspectors were on the spot and a more thorough examination of goods could not be well imagined. Every leaf and every root was examined under a microscope. Their thoroughness to say the least must be commended. If anything is discovered of a deadly nature, it is immediately set aside and burned.

It seems to us that every reasonable danger was guarded against before this ruling. Their basis of reasoning might be carried to the extent of depriving us of almost any vegetable growing, hence the danger of allowing practically one man to make such a decision. Such decisions should only be carried out when Congress thinks it necessary to pass a law on it. We ourselves, bought very heavily last year of this article and will offer it for sale this spring. We planted them in our nurseries last fall when they arrived and thus far have been unable to find any deadly insect of any description in the entire shipment of 50,000 Box Trees, 10,000 Rhododendrons, 5,000 Bay Trees and 10,000 assorted fancy Evergreens. As before stated these will be for sale at our salesroom, first sale to take place about April 6th, 1920.

FOR DIOCESAN CENTER

The women of St. Bernard's Parish will hold a Food Sale in the American Legion Building (next to City Hall) on Washington street, West Newton, on Saturday, March 27th. The proceeds will be given to the League of Catholic Women for the establishment of a Diocesan Center. Mrs. Catherine Ryan heads the committee in charge and will be assisted by Mrs. Joseph McDonald, Mrs. John Cahill, Mrs. Thomas J. Lyons, Mrs. John Quilty, Miss Louise Hart, Miss Helen G. McCarthy, Miss Sarah Harley, Miss Mary Donovan and Miss Winifred Price. The ladies have been promised a large amount of home cooked food—pies, bread, cake, jellies, preserves, etc. Everyone is invited to visit the sale which will begin at two o'clock.

Easter Monday evening, April fifth, a Dancing Party will be held at the Newton Catholic Club, West Newton, for the Diocesan Center. The ladies in charge are working hard to make the party a success and a very enjoyable evening is promised. A well known orchestra has been engaged and special attention has been given to the matter of refreshments. Beautiful favors have been selected and many novel ideas will be introduced.

These two affairs are under the direction of Mrs. Catherine F. Stanley, Chairman of the Newton District for the Bazaar to be held April 27, 28, and 29 in Symphony Hall.

TO FIGHT 100 P. C. INCREASE

Mayor Edwin O. Childs of ewton and six tenants of the Colonna apartments on Walnut street, Newtonville, have asked the Commission on Necessities of Life to investigate a threatened increase in rents in those apartments, which in some cases will amount to 100 per cent.

According to the tenants, the property is managed by the Inter-City Trust, a real estate firm in the Little Building, Boston.

This company, it is alleged, has notified tenants that present leases will not be renewed, while at the same time they are advertising the suites for rent at greatly increased prices.

One complainant says his apartment, for which he is now paying $55 a month and which was formerly $49 is being advertised for $110.

NEW B. & A. OFFICIAL

Mr. A. E. Allen of Maple avenue, Newton, has been appointed general freight agent of the Boston & Albany Railroad, with headquarters in South Station, Boston. For $25 You Can Protect Your Home and Family From Fire

More than 200,000 Houses Are Burned in the United States Every Year and 15,000 Persons Lose Their Lives By Fire. Will Your Home Be One of the 200,000 This Year?

Samson AUTOMATIC FIRE ALARM SYSTEM

Using the

is now available for the protection of homes.

The Samson Automatic Fire Alarm System reports the unseen fire when it starts—in ample time to enable your wife and children to escape—and permits putting the fire out with the minimum amount of effort, saving your property from serious damage by fire or extinguishing agents.

Where life is involved prompt notification of fire is beyond value.

The system is designed to give warning of any fire in the cellar where, statistics show, 85 per cent. of all dwelling house fires start.

It can be installed without difficulty by the average householder or local electrician.

The system is connected to the door-bell batteries and every time the door-bell rings you know the fire alarm system is in working order.

Besides this constant test, there is a push button to press before retiring and when you hear the fire bell ring you can go to sleep, knowing that your wife and children will be safe.

The Derby Fire Sentinel is superior to any other known automatic fire detecting device. It is a bronze thermostat—a little smaller than a silver dollar. It is approved by the Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., (established and maintained by the National Board of Fire Underwriters).

Here then is a recognized standard fire protective device which, from the tests of the most expert authority, combines all the desirable qualifications for a fire detecting thermostat. An automatic Sentinel, it stands ever watchful to report a fire.

Complete equipment is furnished, consisting of: ten Derby Fire Sentinels, Fire Gong, Push Button, Wire, Tape, Testing Key, necessary Fasteners, and full instructions for installing.

The system once installed is permanent.

Your check or money order for twenty-five dollars ($25.00) brings the complete equipment to you, postage prepaid, anywhere in the United States.

THINK THIS OVER!

ANNE OF OLD SALEM

"Anne of Old Salem" is the title of the drama given on Wednesday night at the Technical High School by the Newton Grade Teachers' Club.

The play embodied the spirit of New England, especially of "Old Salem" in 1492, when Quakers and all who differed from their contemporaries were regarded with deep suspicion. The dominant spirit was that of Cotton Mather, a part which was admirably presented by Miss Jessie E. West.

Anne, herself, a dainty Salem lassie whose innate charm drew the youth of the old town to her door and made other maidens enviously accuse her of being a witch, was played by Miss Helen F. Kuntz with a keen appreciation of her part.

Anne's mother was played with much dignity and poise by Miss Mary M. Higgins, while the part of Mistress Hardman, a mother ambitious for her son and unscrupulous as to her methods, was well played by Miss Grace M. McCray.

The men's parts were played as follows: Rodger Hardman, lover of Anne, Miss Laura H. Baker; Nathan Ellinwell, her brother, Miss Marguerite W. Greene; Captain Hardman, Miss Ida E. Scheib.

The little Quakeress was demurely represented by Miss Elizabeth F. Hartshorne.

The seriousness of the play was lightened by the delightful scene in the second act where Ezekiel makes love first to Pety, Miss O'Neil, and then to Truth, Miss Cecile C. Crandall.

A very large audience showed its appreciation of the play by frequent applause, and by flowers which were presented to the leading actors. Miss Constance McGlinchey added much to the enjoyment of the occasion by her piano selections before and between the acts.

LEAGUE ENTERTAINMENT

The Junior League of the Newton Methodist Church held a sale and entertainment in the vestry Tuesday, March 23rd. A Mother Goose play, "A Troublesome Flock" was given at 4 and 8 o'clock P. M., under the direction of Mrs. George W. Barber, assisted by Mrs. Charles Smith with Mrs. Effie Nagle at the piano.

The characters were Old Mother Goose, Helen Nagle; The Old Woman, Catherine Urquhart; Old Mother Hubbard, Kathleen Clarke; The Bachelor, Wilfred Wetherbee; The Bachelor's Wife, Alice Bahitt; Contrary Mary, Grace Strum; The Milkmaid, Elizabeth Swett; Curly Locks, Hilda Tompkins; Cross Patch, Frances White; Betty Blue, Dorothy Curran; Jack, Elliston Bell, Jr.; Jill, Eleanor Rackliffe; Bo Peep, Eloise Barber; Miss Muffett, Phyllis Allen; Rock-a-Bye Baby, Olive Clarke; Tommy Tucker, Arthur Clarke; George Porgie, Edward Strum; Boy Blue, Leslie Morton; Humpty Dumpty, William Swett; Jack Horner, Jack Rackliffe; Simple Simon, Kinsley Church; Tom the Piper's Son, William Earle; Wee Willie Winkie, Charles Smith.

Supper was served from 5:30 to 6:30. Cake, candy, groceries, aprons, fancy and useful articles were for sale and about $300 was realized from the different tables. The proceeds will be given to Home and Foreign missions and other benevolences.

NEWTON CATHOLIC CLUB

The Newton Catholic Club resumes its talks to members and their friends on Sunday, March 28, at 3 P. M.

Mr. William H. O'Brien, a member of the Public Utilities Committee, and a well known student, and orator will talk upon America's Debt to Ireland. Mr. O'Brien uses the judgments of many great Americans as to the justice of Ireland's cause, and the debt that many nations, particularly America owe to Ireland.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

In an era of rising prices, automobile-owners are turning to Mutual insurance companies to reduce expense.

"It is gratifying to note," says secretary Ladd of the Twin Mutuals, "the trend toward insurance in profit sharing companies. The Twin Mutuals are two companies in one office that are furnishing all kinds of automobile protection at cost. The steady growth of these companies since organization proves the appeal that the co-operative plan makes to New England motorists."

"We are looking forward to a tremendous business this spring as soon as the roads are fit for driving." Advt.

COPLEY THEATRE—So great has been the success of "The Private Secretary" at the Copley Theatre that Henry Jewett has decided to keep this farce of Charles Hawtrey's on for a second week. All this past week not only have the regular patrons of this playhouse been flocking to see this very funny piece but it has attracted many who perhaps had never before been in this theatre but who recalled the one or more pleasant evenings spent in the presence of "The Private Secretary" in years gone by. Many of the parts are played by the same persons who played them when the farce was previously given here, notably E. E. Clive as Rev. Robert Spaulding with his frequent "Do you know", and his arms full of belongings, goloshes, bags and all. The other members of the company, Miss Roach, Miss Newcombe, Miss Wingard and Miss Ellis, and Messrs. Wingfield, Waram, Leslie, Craske, Watts, Matthews, Joy and Bradbury all contribute their full share toward making "The Private Secretary" one of the best entertainments seen at the Copley in a long time.

STATE FINANCES

The regular meeting of the Newton Board of Trade for March will be held at the Newton Club, Newtonville, next Tuesday evening, March 30th.

Representative Benjamin Loring Young of Weston, will speak on "Some of the Financial Problems of the State Government."

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The calendar of the House has been steadily lengthening the past week on account of the time which some of the more important matters have taken. The daylight saving, abolition of the death penalty and Sunday afternoon sports have each taken a full afternoon, so that little progress has been made on the many debatable matters awaiting adoption. Daylight saving and the abolition of the death penalty were settled most emphatically by the House, the first being favored and the second killed. Sunday sports were allowed by a two to one vote. Representative Early voting in favor and Representative Rice and the writer voting against.

City Solicitor Bartlett has been in the lime light this week by reason of his handling of the propositions for legislation to regulate and tax billboards. This hearing has occupied two full days and is on again today.

J. C. Brimblecom.

MR. YOUNG DEAD

Mr. Solomon Young, for many years in the bond business, and a member of the firm of A. B. Conant & Co., died yesterday morning at his home, 28 Ballard street, Newton Centre. Mr. Young was a native of East Bridgewater and was forty-nine years of age. His father was Captain Solomon Young. The son was a member of the Brae Burn and Newton Centre golf clubs and the Algonquin Club of Boston.

He is survived by a widow, who was Bessie Seaverns of Boston; a son, Roderick Young; a daughter, Elinor Young; and a brother and sister, Dr. John A. Young and Mrs. W. Gady, both of Newport, R.I.

Funeral services will be held from his late residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

W. C. T. U.

The next meeting of the Newton W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. Sydney Meloney, 865 Beacon street on Thursday afternoon at 2:30. The State President, Mrs. Ella Gleason, will speak on a timely topic. Special music has been prepared. All are cordially invited.

—On Good Friday night there will be a union service held at the Congregational Church, and Dr. Arbuckle of the Baptist Church will be the preacher.

—Friends of Miss E. Agnes Wallace of the Burr School gave her a surprise party at the home of one of the teachers on Monday night. The table was tastefully decorated with kewpies and yellow rose ices. As a token of remembrance, she was given a beautiful Madeira Luncheon Set. About twelve were present.

—Sunday morning at Trinity Church Gounod's "Gallia" will be sung. At the evening service Mr. Robert M. Washburn, Secretary of the Roosevelt Club of Massachusetts will speak on "Cheer in the Church."

Technical High School Notes

The Sophomore class held its annual election of officers on Wednesday, March 17th, using the Australian ballot system as is customary in all elections held in our school. The polling officials were Sandford Wolcott, warden; Ian Fraser, deputy warden; and Misses Roberts, Dolmont, and Amazeen, clerks. The class showed that it has many expert politicians by the manner in which some members voted for Schmidt for president on stickers. Considering the number who voted, very few ballots were thrown out because of improper marking. The officers elected are the following: President, Harold Waters; Vice-President, Ethel Millen; Secretary, Julia Middleton; Treasurer, Frank Farrell.

Tuesday afternoon, March 23, "The West of Boston English Conference" was held in the Classical High School building. Twenty-nine English teachers from Newton, Brookline, Cambridge, Waltham, Watertown, Wellesley, Needham, Belmont, and Weston were entertained by Mr. Underwood's department and were served with coffee and cake. A very animated discussion was entered into on the subject "Outside Aid in Teaching English" such as plays, debating clubs, school papers, etc.

The Senior class has begun to rehearse a splendid hymn of "Praise of Peace" under Mr. Harrington's direction. The school orchestra will accompany the class in singing this at the graduation exercises in June.

President Joseph Hurley of the Senior class last week appointed the class party committee consisting of: Matthew Peppard, chairman; Helen Blakeney, Gertrude Priest, Dorothy Callowhill, and Walter Carey. This committee has submitted a list of candidates for the various offices connected with graduation, and an election will soon take place.

Many Seniors are already making plans to leave school on the first of April to take business positions in Boston. Mr. Maxim reports that probably all the Senior girls whose marks are above 70 per cent. will be at work before the first of May.

The classes of 1918 and 1919 have set the evening of Wednesday, April 14th for their first joint reunion. Announcements of this are made in the school and will be mailed next week to the 250 members of these two classes.

In a Chinese bride's costume, accompanied by a Manchurian and showing relics and curiosities of the country, Mrs. Drew's talk will be both interesting and instructive which we cannot afford to miss. The proceeds will be devoted to the Home Missionary work of the Ladies' Benevolent Society.

—The Auburndale Mothers' Association invited the Fathers to a good fun evening at the Missionary Home on Thursday, Dr. and Mrs. Scott were the hosts. The address of the evening was given by Dr. George S. Butters. The Christian Endeavor Quartette of the Congregational Church gave several selections, and Miss Bourne, who has recently returned from Overseas sang. Miss Muriel Conn gave some charming Folk Dances. Mrs. Harold Grout, and Mr. Harold Allen sang accompanied by Miss Knapp. The music was in charge of Mrs. Nettie Perkins. The evening concluded with refreshments and a social hour. About 150 were present. All pronounced the "get-together" evening a great success.

Mrs. Frank A. Day, Commissioner for the Newton Girl Scouts, gave out the badges.

Supper was served at six o'clock and such a supper: creamed chicken, rolls, cocoa, and of course ice cream and cake.

The dining-room was filled, but there was a seat for every scout. At the head table were Mrs. Frank Day, Commissioner; Mrs. Albert Carter, chairman of the Executive Committee; Mrs. C. D. Meserve, Secretary; Mrs. John Eaton, Treasurer; Miss Jeanne Kenrick, Chairman of the Court of Honor, and Mr. Charles Hatfield, chairman of the Finance Committee. Mr. Hatfield spoke to the girls telling them of his interest in them and in the Girl Scout work and of his pleasure in being able to help in raising our budget of twenty-four hundred dollars. Mrs. Eaton spoke to the girls about the Camp Fund which has been started, and to which the troops are gradually adding. Quite a little sum is now in the fund. It is hoped that before long, as soon as weather permits, a suitable place may be found for this much needed and long talked of Camp. The Party broke up at 7 o'clock and a most enthusiastic, happy crowd went home after the grand good time.

This "Get-together" party was primarily planned so that the Scouts in the different troops might become better acquainted. We hope to have more of these "Get-together" times.

Much of the success of the party was due to the Captains and Lieutenants who planned the games, put them through and entered into them with the girls. And also to the members of the Troop Committee who worked so well in serving the supper. These ladies were, Mrs. Gourelly and Mrs. Piser of Troop 4; Mrs. Walsh of Troop 5, and Miss Louise and Miss Carrie Lovett of Troop 6. Troop 5 being the West Newton Troop was asked to help in the preparations for the party, and the girls appointed on the different committees by Captain Freeman worked hard and well. One Committee cleared the Sunday School room ready for games and set all the tables, and another group of girls stayed after the party, and cleared away and washed dishes and put back the chairs in the Sunday School. When they left at 8:30 there was no trace of the party to be seen.

The Local Director wishes to thank all present at the party for their share in making this a Red Letter Day in the Annals of the Newton Girl Scouts.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

The first Smoker and entertainment of the Post was held Wednesday night in the new quarters of the post in the old Congregational Church, West Newton, and it was unanimously agreed that a pleasant evening could not have been spent anywhere.

Harry Burleighs of the War Risk Insurance Bureau gave a very interesting talk on the workings of this branch of the government service, and urged the members to hold their insurance at all cost. The chairman of the Entertainment Committee first introduced the inimitable Harry McDewitt who kept the audience in an uproar from start to finish. He then led the members in a few popular songs which livened matters up to a great extent. Next came Johnny Lane who needs no introduction here. He gave several imitations of Irish and Jewish comedians and it is needless to say that he made a "hit." The next entertainer was almost responsible for the collapse of the building. Mr. Cook, an out of town Legion member took the stage and in about ten seconds had everyone rolling on the floor with his stories of the Army as seen from the "rookies" tent. For a whole hour he held sway, and when he finished many sore and aching ribs testified that he did something. Then followed refreshments, and after that the meeting was concluded with a short address by the Post Commander.

The next meeting of the Post will be on Monday, April 5th, at which time the Bonus question will come again for debate, so that any man having anything to say pro or con on the subject will be given a chance to bring his ideas before the meeting. The bonus resolution passed at the last meeting has created considerable discussion and it is the intention of the Post Commander to have the matter thrashed out at the next meeting, and explain the meaning of the resolution.

THRIFT EXPOSITION

"How many Newtons are there?" This question is familiar to all residents of our scattered Garden City. Probably you have considered that different replies were possible, but when you have seen the Newton Thrift Exposition, you will answer "Just one Newton, one and united."

In times of peace we have not forgotten the great lesson of co-operation we learned during the war. All the Women's Clubs, and many other Newton organizations are working together to make the Exposition varied, inclusive, instructive, entertaining, and vital. We are working not only with each other, but with our Government, and with the best interests of the country in the great campaign to make America a truly thrifty nation.

Each day the old fashioned word "Thrifty" comes to have some new and fascinating significance. Let us give it a new meaning still. Thrift Expositions have recently been held in some of the nearby towns. Let us make the Newton Exposition the biggest and best success yet. Every resident of Newton can help. What will you do?

THE BOOK THAT SAVED A NATION

of the Jewish nation was taken captive to Babylon, but there in that foreign land, the captive slaves kept within their hearts the spiritual idealism of Deuteronomy. It was this book that saved the spiritual life of the Jews and so prepared the way for Christ.

The spiritual life embodied in the book of Deuteronomy was saved for the world through the life and heart of the individual. Today we, as individuals are to hand on the torch. The re-discovery of God is the meaning of suffering. The recent war has filled us with a hatred of the doctrine that right is might, and a realization of the beauty of love and sacrifice.

NEWTON BRANCH SPECIAL AID

The New England Division for Devastated France and the Italian Relief are sending their last shipment of clothing on Saturday, and the Special Aid has been able to send them a large number of garments for children. The workroom at the Y. M. C. A. will remain open Thursdays during April in order to finish garments already cut which will be sent to Serbia. "Many hands make light work."

BUSINESS WOMAN'S SPECIAL POLICY

Every business woman hopes to attain financial independence. She wishes to face with confidence, the later years of her life. She looks forward to the possession of comforts, to travel a bit perhaps, to enjoy the reward which years of work should guarantee. The uncertainty that she will realize these aspirations without insurance is considerable. A business woman, let us assume, is 27 years old. She wishes her policy to provide $100 per month, and to pay $500 at her death. Assume that at age of 37 years, or ten years after purchasing this policy the business woman becomes totally and permanently disabled. The payment of premiums would cease, the monthly income would start. Assume further that she lives until the age of 64 is attained, or 27 years. She will receive 318 monthly income checks of $100 each, or $31,800.00, paid to beneficiary at death, $500. Total benefits $32,300.00, premiums $2,210.70. I look forward with confidence to the good judgment of every thinking woman to grasp the importance of this contract. To all concerned bear in mind also the accident policies. $100,000 costs $100 annually, in addition pays $100 a week for 200 weeks, $40,000 costs $40.00 annually in addition pays $50.00 a week for 200 weeks. The above are the most liberal accident policies ever written, the Endowment Policy paid on the installment plan, the most reliable asset you can possibly leave your beneficiary. Explanations by request.

—Services were held Sunday at her late residence, the Rev. Dr. Patterson of Waltham officiating. The burial was in Newton Cemetery.

—Mr. S. Robert Gaw died Tuesday at his home on Cherry street, after an illness of four months. He is survived by a widow, two sons, Arthur and Francis and two daughters, Isabelle and Edna Gaw. The funeral took place this morning from St. Bernard's church, with requiem high mass at 9 o'clock. The interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

—The many friends of Mr. E. Ray Speare will be glad to learn that he is recovering from the serious operation which he underwent at St. Luke's Hospital, New York, on Saturday.

—Mr. Speare has not been well for some time, and this is the second operation which he has had. Mrs. Speare and Mr. Albert Speare are with him.

—The Epworth League of the Methodist Church have announced that their annual entertainment, which they are to give on April 10th will be a 3-act rural farce entitled, "Aaron Slick from 'Punkin' Creek'." It has been decided to hold an afternoon performance to accommodate those who cannot attend the regular performance at 8 P. M.

—Miss Phyllis H. Addison, who resides at 56 Paul street, was selected to take the part of Priscilla in the Pilgrim Festival which took place at Boston University, College of Liberal Arts, Friday, March 19, at eight o'clock. This pageant in which over 600 people participated is the first of a series of pageants planned throughout New England to celebrate the Tercentenary of the Landing of the Pilgrims. The Festival took the place of the annual Klatch Collegium.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Union of the First Baptist church was held last Tuesday. At the sewing meeting in the afternoon, Miss Marion Haskell spoke of the White Cross Work and aroused much enthusiasm. The supper to which the men of the church were also invited was presided over by Mrs. DeWitt G. Wilcox, president. After dinner speeches met with an appreciative reception. Mrs. Elim A. Palmquist told of the part the women have in the great new-world movement, and Dr. DeWitt G. Wilcox in a closing speech in his characteristic, cheerful and happy manner prepared the way for the subject and speaker of the evening. A program full of good things followed: organ recital by Mr. Loud, violin solo by Miss Elizabeth Bradbury, Mr. Anson T. Leary, Newton community secretary of the Y. M. C. A., told of the work for the young people in Newton Centre, and introduced Mr. H. W. Gibson, state secretary for boys' work of the Y. M. C. A., who gave a practical talk on "The Boy and the Home."

—It is with much regret that the Second Church received the resignation of Mr. George P. Larcom, as clerk of the church. Mr. Joseph D. Wood has been appointed to take his place.

—The people of West Newton have responded splendidly to the appeal of Sgt. Farnum for help for the Serbian children. Mrs. Thomas A. Crimmins assisted by Mrs. Frank W. Remick, Mrs. John F. McGuire, Mrs. Benjamin S. Palmer, Mrs. Ernest S. Gile, Mrs. Henry B. Day and Mrs. Arthur Howland, have already raised over $3,800 which is considerably over West Newton's quota, and there are still reports to come in.

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Deane of Prince street, who motored across continent last September, and have been spending the winter months in Southern California, have now gone to the northern part of the state and will tour that section for three or four weeks before returning home.

They plan to motor back to West Newton via the Santa Fe trail to Kansas City, thence via Hannibal, Mo., Springfield, Ill., Indianapolis, to Gettysburg, stopping en route at this famous battlefield.

THE DAY IS COMING

Prudent people will be prepared, because they are making ready now. Like the squirrel which gathers up food in the summer and stores it for winter use, these prudent people are making savings out of the present high wages and high return on capital investment. The days of abundance are the days to prepare for a lean period. To save and save wisely is to save here, where one hundred cents on the dollar will be returned when you need it.

TELEPHONE NEWTON NORTH 1926

In these abnormal days when the scarcity of all kinds of merchandise, especially in the furniture line, exists, the opening of a new furniture store is almost improbable. No merchant can go out now in the open market and secure enough goods from the manufacturer for immediate delivery to enable him to start a new store, and if perchance the merchant could succeed in securing some goods the price would be so prohibited that he could not stand a single show against present day competition. Notwithstanding the above we announce the opening of our new store at 285 Washington St., Newton Corner, and why? To serve a double purpose. In the first place we are fortunate to have in our possession a very, large stock of all kinds of house furnishings, bought at prices that will never again be recorded in the furniture history, at least, for a long time to come.

Our manufacturers with whom large orders have been placed some time ago are shipping us the goods in most cases, at the old prices. Finding ourselves heavily loaded with furniture stocks we decided to spread out, by opening the new store, and we are ready to offer you some wonderful values, taking into consideration the present day cost of the goods.

In the second place a great number of our customers are having difficulty to reach us in our present location, owing to the very limited carservice. By being more centrally located such as in Newton Corner this trouble will be overcome, as all cars pass our door.

With this object in view we take pleasure in announcing to you the opening of our new store at 285 Washington St., Newton Corner, on Saturday, April 3rd. Let us assure you that you will find us more than ever ready and willing to serve you by giving you VALUE, QUALITY, AND GUARANTEED SATISFACTION. You and your friends are cordially invited to this grand opening, when we shall present you with a beautiful souvenir.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

With the arrival of spring and the coming north of the sun once more its higher angles bring out dust and clutter which have been lurking unseen during the stormy weeks of the past winter. Thus, it is natural that the mind of the homemaker turns to the necessity of housecleaning. As the club season is drawing toward the close is there anything to suggest the need of a similar housecleaning in club affairs? Are there any unused rules upon the statute books or any which are more observed in the breach than in their keeping? Are there any votes which have not been lived up to? Are there any methods which need to be brought up to date? All these questions may well receive the thoughtful consideration of club executive boards before the annual meeting, just as the thrifty mother in the home goes over her stock in trade, discarding such as are no longer needed, repairing those which can be still used with profit and guarding carefully anything which has a real value and may in time become a precious heirloom.

In the course of an officer's term of service innumerable papers are accumulated, some of no value, others of great value. How much of this accumulation should be kept and how much destroyed? These questions often arise, particularly on the part of the secretary, when she is preparing to pass on her books to her successor. With the increasing years of club life the keeping of these things becomes a burden and often an expense, so that it is well not to allow useless things to cumber up the ground, but in destroying papers one should be very careful to preserve anything which tells of the early history of the organization or has any connection with radical changes which have been made in procedure or with the philanthropic work. The records themselves should be so carefully kept that a person reading them ten or twenty or thirty years hence may understand just what was meant at the time. Exhaustive resumés of lectures only cumber up the books, the same is true of lengthy discussions, but it is often helpful in later days to find upon the records enough of the discussion to indicate why a certain decision was reached. The president should be sure to pass on to her successor everything which pertains to the State Federation and such other things as apply to measures not yet completed. A little care in these directions will be greatly appreciated later on.

State Federation

Tuesday, March 30, Presidents' Conference at North Abington. Opening at ten o'clock it will continue through the day. Question box. Mrs. Milo Burke, chairman of the Industrial and Social Conditions department will explain the questionnaire and tell of the plan for community surveys. Biennial plans will be presented as well as the progress of the Massachusetts campaign. There will be a box luncheon with tea and coffee provided by the hostess club, while ice cream will be on sale. In the afternoon Chancellor McGown of the International College will speak on "Americanization," and Mrs. Claude U. Gilson will tell of her experiences overseas with the General Federation units. Two members of the executive board, the chairman of the Federation committees, as well as the club presidents are entitled to attend. Train leaves South station at 8.54 A. M. for South Weymouth trolley from there to South Abington. Twelve-trip ticket to South Weymouth about one-half the single trip fare.

Thrift Exposition

Watch for all the announcements of the Newton Thrift Exposition, April 15, 16 and 17. The biggest thing that has been done in Newton for many years!

Local Announcements

Mrs. Harry N. Milliken will be hostess for the meeting of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club tomorrow afternoon when Acts IV and V of King Henry VI, Part I, will be concluded. Miss Newhall will be in charge of the quiz.

Mrs. Edward G. Swift will entertain the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday afternoon, March 29.

On Tuesday, March 30, Mrs. Arthur G. Farley will be hostess, as well as furnish the paper, for the meeting of the Auburndale Review Club, her subject being "Hawaii, Beautiful Isle of the Sea."

Tuesday, March 30, Mrs. Harry J. Poole will give the closing talk upon current events before the Newtonville Woman's Club. Those who have attended the class this year have found Mrs. Poole a most successful and satisfactory leader. Her broad outlook, her optimistic spirit and her keen insight into affairs, as well as her fluent delivery, have held the interest and kept up the attendance throughout the winter.

At the meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning Miss Stella Jones will speak of "The Effect of Vocational Guidance on the Foreign-born Child." Mrs. Louis S. Drake is chairman of the morning.

Prof. George H. Blakeslee gives the closing lecture on current events before the Newton Community Club at three o'clock in the Hunnewell Club hall on Thursday afternoon.

The annual meeting of the Newton Ladies' Home Circle will be held on Thursday, April 1st, in G. A. R. hall, Newtonville. Election of officers, discussion of plans for the coming Campaign Sale, and for a share in the Thrift Exposition and other matters call for a large and enthusiastic meeting.

Mrs. Claude U. Gilson will continue her lectures on Citizenship before the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls Thursday evening, April 1, in the Emerson school hall. The subject will be a continuation of the government of the state.

Bird Class

The first bird walk for members of the Community and Social Science Clubs will take place Saturday, April 3rd. Members will meet at Miss Tucker's home, 208 Church street, at 8.15 A. M. and take the 8.32 Framingham car for Quinoboguin road and walk through to Echo Bridge, Upper Falls. Don't forget opera glasses and rubbers!

A second section of the class for those who find Saturday an inconvenient day will be led by Mrs. Everett E. Kent on Thursday, April 8. A full announcement of time and place will be given next week.

Local Happenings

Another club to join the General Federation is the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls, which decided to do so after hearing at its last meeting from Mrs. Frederick E. Dowling, chairman of the Campaign committee for Miss Bacon. Ralph Adams Cram was the speaker of the evening and his subject, "Where Angels fear to Tread." Miss Madeleine Cobb sang with Mrs. Collins at the piano and her father playing the violin obligato.

Through the enterprise of Mrs. Edwin L. Gardiner, chairman of the Music committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club, a conference of the music chairmen of the clubs of the city was called for Monday afternoon at the Central church parlors. By means of a questionnaire information was gained of what is being done by the various clubs and there was also discussion of work that might be done in connection with the music in the public schools and for securing better music at the movies. Much favorable comment was expressed as the value of such conferences and the wish that there might be similar ones for other committees. Tea was served at the close.

The meeting of the Waban Woman's Club on Monday afternoon was Social Service Day. Gifts from the club treasury were voted as follows: $29 toward the Newton Thrift Exposition; $2 for the Sailors' Haven May Festival; $10 to buy prizes for essays on The Pilgrims to be written by Waban school children.

During a short intermission Miss Esther Chandler of Newton Centre played several piano solos which were greatly enjoyed.

Owing to a slight accident Mrs. Jessie D. Hodder, superintendent of the Reformatory for Women at Sherborn, could not keep her engagement, but sent a very able young woman to represent her. Dr. Benick, who spoke of the work being done at that institution. The second speaker was Miss May Bliss Dickinson, R. N., Founder of the Girls' Health League, and her topic was Mothercraft. The closing address was given by Miss Grace E. Mills, Social Service worker at the Newton Hospital.

At the close of this interesting meeting, afternoon tea was served, and there was an opportunity for members to meet the speakers.

The annual meeting and luncheon will be held on April 5 at the Union Church vestry.

The meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club, on Tuesday afternoon was a most enjoyable one. Mrs. Guy M. Winslow read a short and most entertaining paper on Bits of Wit and Wisdom collected from books and essays. Mrs. Arthur Dudley Ropes, a former President of the Wollaston Women's Club, gave an illustrated lecture on her delightful trip through Scotland. She started from Edinburgh, the capitol, and then through the picturesque scenery of the Scottish Lakes to Glasgow, and finally to the haunts and homes of two great poets, Robert Burns, and Sir Walter Scott.

Mrs. Claude U. Gilson spoke before the class in Citizenship of the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls last evening on City Government and the workings of the General Court.

Under the topic, "The Land and the People," Mrs. Fred H. Tucker discussed at the meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning the whole question of man's relation to the earth and the fundamental causes of the conservation problem. Under the allegory of a shipwrecked party upon a desert island she pointed out how the human race upon the island, Earth, has gone to work to subside upon the natural resources, abusing some, overworking others and wasting much. She showed how certain things considered as worthless by one generation, have proved through the ingenuity of the next to be of the greatest value.

She pointed out how the nations from ancient times to the present day who have been prodigal with their forests have become extinct and the territory barren. Ancient Babylonia, once the centre of flourishing cities, is now a barren waste. China for many years the victim of floods and famine due almost entirely to the clearing of the forests is now reforesting the mountain slopes. Egypt is the only land which has remained cultivated and fruitful since ancient times. This is due to the fact that the head waters of the Nile have never been stripped of their forests. The wisdom of England in building the Assuan dam is assuring Egypt fertility for all time to come. France and Germany have both been thrifty with their natural resources and through the development of inland waterways have aided commerce as well. America, on the other hand, has always been wasteful of its forests. The loggers stripped off the trees to open up land for farming purposes, a necessary thing, while the coming of the portable saw mill has finished the job.

During the last thirty years the public has begun to wake up to the exigencies of the situation and gradually forest reserves have been set apart, which are now a source of revenue to the government. The problem of getting men back to the land is still a crying one, if our food supply is to be maintained and the high cost of living to be reduced. The paper was listened to with keen interest as was shown by the discussion which followed.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

Mason School

Mid-morning lunches will be served in all rooms hereafter.

Miss Cecile Dimond who taught in Grade 7, was recently married, and will live in Jordan, N. Y.

The boys of the upper grades have elected Charles MacDonald as manager of base-ball, and John Curley as manager of track athletics.

Sand table pictures of life in Africa have been made by the pupils of the third grades.

Horace Mann Notes

An interesting reflectoscope lesson was given by two members of Grade 8 showing the Panama Canal and places of importance in the Canal District.

The pupils of the 8th Grade who have had perfect attendance since school opened this year are E. Prescott Hills and Henry Brown, the latter had perfect attendance last year.

For the first time since the beginning of school, the 8th Grade attained 100% in spelling.

On Monday, an entertainment was given for the benefit of the 8th grade. Many interesting facts were told about Ralph Waldo Emerson and his works.

The boys of Grade 7 have only twelve more lessons in manual training.

On Tuesday, the girls' cooking class of Grade 7 had two guests for breakfast, Miss Stopp and Miss Ellis. Groups of girls were appointed to cook the various dishes, and the three who were to serve decorated the table. Sunbonnet girls cut out of cardboard were used as place-cards.

Fessenden School

In the weekly Current Events classes, which are taking place every Sunday morning, many interesting arguments have arisen on the great questions of the day. Recently, the Daylight Saving Plan was brought up and representatives from all parts of the country offered their opinions on the matter. The question was hotly contested and finally resulted in a draw.

Lasell

Saturday evening the Sophomore Class entertained the Seniors with a St. Patrick party, which was quite appropriate as the class colors of the Sophomore Class are green and white. Rev. Henry H. Crane had charge of the Vespers on Sunday, and gave the girls a most inspiring message on the "Marks of a Christian."

Monday afternoon Dr. and Mrs. Winslow entertained some thirty delegates from the foreign missionary field. The speaker, Dr. Heath of Pekin, China, drew many vivid pictures of her work among the poor and needy in her missionary field. Miss Clementina Butler, a former Lasell student, also said a few inspiring words. A social hour followed the meeting.

Tuesday afternoon the Lasell girls met in friendly contest the girls of the Newton High School basketball team. The annual concert of the Orphean Club, Mr. Henry M. Dunham, Director, took place last Wednesday night. The concert gave evidence of fine training by the director, and the audience especially enjoyed the solos by Miss Dennis.

Vacation begins Friday noon and a company of young women will spend Easter week in Washington, D. C., under the chaperonage of Miss L. R. Potter.

On Thursday evening the Gymnasium Department gave a pleasing and successful exhibition in the Gardner Gymnasium Hall. The work was under the direction of Miss Nellie Woodward, a graduate of the school, and Miss Boynton.

Burr School

The pupils of the Burr School are not finding indoor recesses so bad after all. The pupils of Miss Kelley's room enjoy informal dancing to the victrola.

The Burr School assembled Thursday morning to hear a talk on "Smyrna," by Miss Mills. Miss Mills has been in Smyrna and told much of interest to the pupils.

CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

The Girls' Basketball team took the losing end of the Lasell game played on Tuesday, and came out with 19 points to the latter's 25. The game itself was exceptionally well played, it being a fine example of hard clean playing all around. The Lasell girls and more developed in this sport, which may account for the score, although there were three of the regular Newton players unable to be in the contest. This marks Newton's second defeat in this season, and the second time Lasell has defeated them including the season a year ago. On account of these defeats it was hoped that Lasell might fall this year, but Newton's 19 points was not large enough to secure victory.

Saturday, March 22, marked the close of the track season for Newton, when the state meet was held at the East Armory. Although Newton did not place as high as she might have, the 6 points which were credited, gave the team the eleventh place. Robinson won a third position in the high jump, while Ducey in the Intermediate division was first in the 600-yard run.

Taken as a whole, Newton's track season has been very successful. The relay team with Bell, Garrity, Clausen, and Blodgett made its way to victory over Brookline and Moses Brown, and was credited as being second best in the Relay Carnival of this last month. It suffered defeat at the hands of Boston College High and the Alumni, but not severely. In the Commerce five-cornered meet, Newton made a fine showing in the track events, and secured the state things their own way, until Brookline's field scores carried away the victory. Among the stars of the season are found, Ryan in the hurdles, Robinson in the high jump and hurdles, Peppard in the dash, Cowing in the thousand, Clausen and Garrity in the 600, while Captain Bell was all round man in the 300-yard and relay events. Bell, Garrity, Clausen, and Blodgett will be a strong foundation for the 1926-27 team.

The Senior Play Cast has been chosen from the list of those participating in the try-outs, and there certainly seems to be much material at hand. Although the parts have not yet been assigned, "The Tempered Whirlwind" which is to be the Senior Play, certainly furnished ample room for many characters. Miss Rosalind Winslow's production will be presented May 8th, and the proceeds will go entirely to school interests.

The Boys Debating Team has been assigned the topic which will be debated April 23rd, by Brookline, Somerville and Newton. This question was decided upon at a joint meeting of Faculty heads from the three schools, and reads as follows: "Resolved that the Philippines shall be given their independence immediately." The material is now being accumulated and will be soon in the form of speeches.

Brookline has arranged an athletic meet with the girls of Newton for Friday afternoon, March 26. The girls will compete in order of classes, and it is felt that this school will have strong enough representatives to defeat the home team there. Owing to this date, a dance to be held in the Gym at Newton has been postponed until April 1st, because the promoters feel that a shortage of girls will be the only possible outcome if both dates were kept.

The prizes offered for the best essays upon "The Industrial Plants of Newton" were presented Monday morning by Mr. Frank L. Richardson, president of the Newton Trust Company. The two prizes of ten dollars each were presented to Miss Priscilla James of the Junior Class and Miss Vivian Gould of the Freshman Class.

In presenting these prizes Mr. Richardson explained and emphasized the necessity for thrift, and laid especial emphasis upon the necessity of forming these habits in youth.

On Monday, March 8th, Mr. Leary, Community Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. addressed the school upon the A. B. C. of Success. He thought these were Ambition, Courage and Brains.

Monday, March 22nd, Miss Mabel Brooks, Assistant Superintendent of schools, will give an illustrated lecture upon "The Industrial Plants of Newton."

The school was visited recently by the Chinese Educational Commission who were served with lunch and visited the shops of the schools.

At the School Song Hour Verdi's "Anvil Chorus" and Bates's "America the Beautiful" are being worked upon by the chorus.

The girls will compete in order of classes, and it is felt that this school will have strong enough representatives to defeat the home team there. Owing to this date, a dance to be held in the Gym at Newton has been postponed until April 1st, because the promoters feel that a shortage of girls will be the only possible outcome if both dates were kept.

The prizes offered for the best essays upon "The Industrial Plants of Newton" were presented Monday morning by Mr. Frank L. Richardson, president of the Newton Trust Company. The two prizes of ten dollars each were presented to Miss Priscilla James of the Junior Class and Miss Vivian Gould of the Freshman Class.

In presenting these prizes Mr. Richardson explained and emphasized the necessity for thrift, and laid especial emphasis upon the necessity of forming these habits in youth.

On Monday, March 8th, Mr. Leary, Community Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. addressed the school upon the A. B. C. of Success. He thought these were Ambition, Courage and Brains.

Monday, March 22nd, Miss Mabel Brooks, Assistant Superintendent of schools, will give an illustrated lecture upon "The Industrial Plants of Newton."

The school was visited recently by the Chinese Educational Commission who were served with lunch and visited the shops of the schools.

About four hundred books are soon to be presented to the library by the teachers and pupils, each person presenting one book.

At the School Song Hour Verdi's "Anvil Chorus" and Bates's "America the Beautiful" are being worked upon by the chorus.

The pupils of the Burr School are not finding indoor recesses so bad after all. The pupils of Miss Kelley's room enjoy informal dancing to the victrola.

The Burr School assembled Thursday morning to hear a talk on "Smyrna," by Miss Mills. Miss Mills has been in Smyrna and told much of interest to the pupils.

The Girls' Basketball team took the losing end of the Lasell game played on Tuesday, and came out with 19 points to the latter's 25. The game itself was exceptionally well played, it being a fine example of hard clean playing all around. The Lasell girls and more developed in this sport, which may account for the score, although there were three of the regular Newton players unable to be in the contest. This marks Newton's second defeat in this season, and the second time Lasell has defeated them including the season a year ago. On account of these defeats it was hoped that Lasell might fall this year, but Newton's 19 points was not large enough to secure victory.

Saturday, March 22, marked the close of the track season for Newton, when the state meet was held at the East Armory. Although Newton did not place as high as she might have, the 6 points which were credited, gave the team the eleventh place. Robinson won a third position in the high jump, while Ducey in the Intermediate division was first in the 600-yard run.

Taken as a whole, Newton's track season has been very successful. The relay team with Bell, Garrity, Clausen, and Blodgett made its way to victory over Brookline and Moses Brown, and was credited as being second best in the Relay Carnival of this last month. It suffered defeat at the hands of Boston College High and the Alumni, but not severely. In the Commerce five-cornered meet, Newton made a fine showing in the track events, and secured the state things their own way, until Brookline's field scores carried away the victory. Among the stars of the season are found, Ryan in the hurdles, Robinson in the high jump and hurdles, Peppard in the dash, Cowing in the thousand, Clausen and Garrity in the 600, while Captain Bell was all round man in the 300-yard and relay events. Bell, Garrity, Clausen, and Blodgett will be a strong foundation for the 1926-27 team.

The Senior Play Cast has been chosen from the list of those participating in the try-outs, and there certainly seems to be much material at hand. Although the parts have not yet been assigned, "The Tempered Whirlwind" which is to be the Senior Play, certainly furnished ample room for many characters. Miss Rosalind Winslow's production will be presented May 8th, and the proceeds will go entirely to school interests.

The Boys Debating Team has been assigned the topic which will be debated April 23rd, by Brookline, Somerville and Newton. This question was decided upon at a joint meeting of Faculty heads from the three schools, and reads as follows: "Resolved that the Philippines shall be given their independence immediately." The material is now being accumulated and will be soon in the form of speeches.

Brookline has arranged an athletic meet with the girls of Newton for Friday afternoon, March 26. The girls will compete in order of classes, and it is felt that this school will have strong enough representatives to defeat the home team there. Owing to this date, a dance to be held in the Gym at Newton has been postponed until April 1st, because the promoters feel that a shortage of girls will be the only possible outcome if both dates were kept.
